On Account Of

Q. Can you help me get a copy of my mortgage impound account statement from Imperial Bank at Imperial Highway and Western Avenue in Los Angeles? They sent me a copy in February but I sent it in with my income tax. I would also like for the bank to apply any surplus in the account to the principle of the loan so my payments will be cut. Mrs. R.C.T., Long Beach.

A. James Duffy, mortgage officer at the bank said his office does not keep a copy of this analysis but he will send you the information you want in letter form. He suggested you call him at 757-8151. He can explain the alternatives available to you for disbursing surplus funds in the mortgage impound account.

Paper Work

Q. I became a naturalized U.S. citizen while a minor, but never had my own citizenship papers. In early 1969, I applied for and was granted citizenship papers, but never received them in the mail. What can I do? My letters to the government have not met with response. C.M.C., Long Beach.

A. A check of Immigration and Naturalization Service files — and a doublecheck — revealed that your citizenship papers were mailed to you in July, 1969, according to a spokesman for the service in Los Angeles. Since your papers appear untraceable, you must re-apply for duplicates to the service's offices at 300 N. Los Angeles St., Los Angeles. No additional fee will be charged, and you should receive your papers within a month since the service is expecting your letter and has located and put aside your file. ACTION LINE is sending you details on how to apply for the duplicate set of papers.

Late Rent

Q. A tenant of mine is on welfare and the county pays a percentage of her rent if I submit lodging invoices. At present, I have three invoices outstanding and the county has not answered my inquiries to payment. These invoices were for the months of February and March. Shouldn't the county have paid by now? F. B., Long Beach.

A. The county Department of Public Social Service handles about 4,000 invoices a day, and is running up to three months behind in some cases where questions arise, according to spokesman for the department's invoice office. Apparently in your case, there was some doubt about to whom the payment should be made. However, it is cleared up now, and you will receive your checks within 10 days, she said.

Problem of Aging

Q. My dad recently retired after 50 years with a firm that manufactures a well-known household item. I have found a copy of this company's advertisement printed in 1910, and I would like to know how I can "age" the ad, and make it appear to be 60 years old. R.B., Long Beach.

A. The Saylor Artist & Engineering Supply Co., 420 E. Fourth St., carries two products, MOD-POGE and Decal-it, which can be applied to the ad to make it look old. MOD-POGE comes in a kit which sells for $3.95 and a bottle of Decal-it costs $1.25. Another aging method is to use one of the Decoupage kits which will yellow the ad and give it a textured appearance. The Belmont Shore Art Center, 4726 E. Second St., sells a wide variety of these kits. A spokesman for the Billings Paint Store, 4235 E. Second St., suggested the simple method of applying a coat of orange shellac to the ad.

On the Trail

Q. I have heard that there are plans to extend Santa Fe Avenue past Tweedy Boulevard in South Gate. I own an apartment building in this area, and I have not been notified if my building will have to be removed. Can ACTION LINE find out when the city plans to begin this work? A.P., South Gate.

A. A spokesman for the South Gate Planning Department told ACTION LINE that the city currently is studying a proposal to extend Santa Fe Avenue but has not made any definite plans. The Los Angeles County Road Department also is studying the area, and the city of South Gate is waiting for the results of the county study which should be completed in November. In the fall, public hearings will be held so that the citizens and city officials can decide on the best route for the road extension. The dates and times of the hearings will be published in local newspapers. Once the plans have been finalized, property owners in the area will be notified well in advance of the construction date. At this time, it is impossible to determine if your apartment building will be affected.

The Pin-up Picture

Q. Where can I obtain a lapel pin, tie tack, or tie clip with the insignia of the scholarship honorary fraternity Phi Beta Kappa? V.G., Long Beach.

A. Pins, tacks, and other jewelry can only be obtained from the United Chapters of Phi Beta Kappa, 1811 Q St., N.W., Washington, D.C. 20009. If you write the organization, they will send an order blank with the information you need as to costs and styles.

15 CENTS TO COVER STATE CUTS

Another Property-Tax Hike Weighed

The property tax rate that supports government services for Los Angeles County may climb 15 cents higher for the upcoming fiscal year, County Chief Administrator Linton S. Hollinger said Friday.

Hollinger said the boost could bring property taxes as high as $1.09 per $100 of assessed valuation. The tax rate was originally estimated at 94 cents.

The boost is needed, Hol-linger told county supervisors, to make up for $25 million in anticipated revenue which was lost due to "serious problems" in the state-county sharing formula for the Medi-Cal program.

Hollinger said the property tax could possibly climb even higher — up to $1.46 for each $100 — because of further proposed cuts in county revenue.

State budget cutbacks could further raise the county's share of the cost of government services, Hollinger said.

County supervisors indicated they'd slash portions of the county budget Monday in an effort to bring the tax rate increase back down.

Supervisor Frank Bonelli said he'd seek to cut nearly $60 million from the budget, which would bring the tax increase down by about 35 cents.

He proposed, among other things, a 10 per cent across-the-board cut in the county's share of the $885 million welfare budget.

He also said he would try to cut 2 per cent of the county work force through attrition and selective hiring.

Hollinger said the $25 million Medi-Cal loss — cause of the proposed 15-cent tax rate boost — would have normally come in under health care contingency revenue.

New state regulations require the county to add such funds to the 1970-71 budget. Efforts by county lobbyists to have the regulations modified were "rejected by the state," Hollinger said.

The county would be forced to pick up extra costs because of "measures taken at the state level to resolve its fiscal problems," Hollinger said.

Other proposed cutbacks could raise the county's share of government programs by $15.1 million, forcing an increase of 8.8 cents for each $100 assessed valuation in the property tax rate.

Hollinger told the supervisors that no action

Airline Seeks L.B. Facilities

PSA Cannot Get Flights Approved Without Terminal

By DON BRACKENBURY
Staff Writer

The city was asked Friday by Pacific Southwest Airlines to lease the company "adequate terminal facilities" for it to establish air carrier service at Long Beach Airport.

The request will be on the City Council agenda Tuesday.

J. Floyd Andrews, president of PSA, asked for the lease to permit "enplaning and deplaning passengers and jet aircraft" at the airport in accordance with City Manager John R. Mansell's report of Oct. 7, 1969.

MANSELL'S report on that date was that PSA, as well as a second air carrier, had agreed to accept city restrictions on their flight operations if granted terminal leases.

The restrictions involved the hours of permitted flights, a maximum number of flights, limitation on types of aircraft and the use of certain runways and approach and departure procedures.

In November, 1969, however, councilmen voted to deny the two air carriers facilities at Long Beach Airport.

The State Public Utilities Commission had given PSA and the other carrier conditional approval to serve Long Beach Airport, subject to the airlines being able to obtain city approval.

THE PROPOSED service would have linked Long Beach with San Diego on the south and Sacramento, San Francisco and Oakland on the north.

In his letter Friday, Andrews noted that the certificate of public convenience and necessity awarded PSA by the State Public Utilities Commission "cannot be finally approved" by that body unless the council will provide PSA with leased facilities.

Andrews asked that the airline's request be placed on the next council agenda and "given your approval," so PSA can comply with the PUC order.

Pilot Lands Laird Sees More Flaming Jumbo Jet

NEW YORK (UPI) — An engine caught fire on a Boeing 747 carrying 198 passengers from Madrid to New York Friday. The plane landed safely here but 25 persons suffered minor injuries when they made hasty exits down the emergency chutes.

Trans World Airlines said the jet carried a crew of 18 and most of the crew and passengers exited down the emergency chutes after the plane taxied to a stop.

The pilot had reported mechanical trouble as the plane was coming in and emergency equipment was standing by at Kennedy Airport.

The jet completed a normal landing, taxied to a stop and the emergency chutes were opened.

Cambodia Strikes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird said Friday U.S. warplanes would continue bombing enemy supply lines inside Cambodia after June 30 and held open the possibility of providing air support for Cambodian ground forces.

"I don't believe that it's good practice . . . to give flat answers on operational orders as far as the future is concerned," Laird said when asked if the United States would provide combat air support in Cambodia once American troops are pulled out at the end of the month.

THE SECRETARY met with newsmen at Andrews Air Force Base on his return from a three-week European trip where he met with American troops stationed there and attended meetings of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Laird said the primary purpose of air operations in Cambodia will continue to be interdiction of enemy supply lines which threaten President Nixon's Vietnamization program and the withdrawal of American forces from South Vietnam.

However, the secretary said, "I would think there would be an ancillary benefit" for the Cambodians on the ground as a result of the U.S. interdiction efforts.

"I would be less than frank or candid if I didn't say there would be side effects on the troops on the ground," he conceded.

MEANWHILE, the U.S. troop withdrawal from

Mexico Frees U.S. Tuna Boats

Mexico is releasing two U.S. tuna boats and their 24 crewmen after detaining them three weeks in a dispute over fishing rights, the American Tunaboat Association announced Friday night in San Diego.

An agreement worked out by U.S. embassy officials and the government in Mexico City arranged for the tuna seiners' release.

European Security Stressed

BUDAPEST, Saturday (UPI) — Russia and her European allies have agreed to discuss a mutual pullback of troops in Europe with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization nations, it was disclosed today.

But a memorandum issued after a meeting of the Warsaw Pact nations here said these discussions should take place within the framework of an "organ" to be set up by an all-European security conference.

NATO had proposed that talks on a troop pullback take place before such a security conference was convened.

The nations of the Warsaw Pact, the Communist equivalent to NATO, met here June 21-22. The memorandum they drew up was sent Friday to all "concerned countries," presumably all NATO nations, and was made public today by the Hungarian news agency, MTI.

At first reading, it appeared to leave the door open for East-West talks and failed, despite earlier pessimistic predictions, to slam the door on NATO proposals for European security issued after a NATO foreign ministers meeting in Rome May 27.

The memorandum put the familiar Communist stress on a European security conference. But it indicates the Warsaw Pact nations are willing to meet NATO half-way to get such a conference under way.

Among other things, it proposes:

—That a security conference be convened to discuss European security,

PW KIN DOUBT MAIL DELIVERED

By GEORGE LAINE
Staff Writer

A package tied with hope and stamped with love left Long Beach Friday bound for Capt. Michael Lee Brazelton in a North Vietnamese prison camp.

He may never see it.

Warren L. Brazelton, assistant manager of Douglas Aircraft's transportation division and father of the POW, confided that he's not really certain that "any of our letters or packages get through to Mike."

Other parents and wives of POWs voiced the same skepticism mixed with hope in the wake of Hanoi's revelation of the names of 335 Americans officially listed as captives of the Red regime. (There were 334 names on the original list, but another was added Friday, that of William Robert Stark, serial number 619808, of Coronado).

Relatives' skepticism was reflected in a Defense Department rejection of the POW list and a new demand from the Pentagon that North Vietnam give a full and official accounting of all prisoners held in that nation. The U.S. spokesmen said there was at least a 42-man variance between the Hanoi statement and the Pentagon's own "documented" list of men held in North Vietnam.

"The unofficial release of an inaccurate and incomplete list of names from unofficial sources can only add to the great anguish of the hundreds of wives, children and parents of more than 1,500 servicemen who are listed as missing or captured," Daniel Z. Henkin, assistant

Irish Riot Over Bernadette Arrest

LONDONDERRY — Bernadette Devlin, her last appeal rejected by a judge, entered a Northern Ireland prison Friday night and her followers took to the streets in violent protest. The 23-year-old member of Britain's Parliament smiled and waved to supporters who gathered at the gates of Armagh's women's prison as a police car carried her inside to begin a six-month sentence for a riot conviction. Angry mobs took to the streets in protest. In Londonderry, they threw stones and gasoline bombs at 200 British troops called in to preserve order. When the violence subsided, 22 soldiers had been injured and 14 demonstrators were under arrest.

Israel, Syria in Major Clash

TEL AVIV — An Israeli tank column with air and artillery support swept across the Golan Heights cease-fire line Saturday and launched a major attack on Syrian bases. Syria launched a counterattack and said its troops seized Israeli positions in hand-to-hand combat. The Israel foray crossed the 50-mile cease-fire line in the southern sector, and Tel Aviv communiques said Israeli forces "seized control of Syrian positions" in heavy fighting. Syria said its forces engaged Israeli troops in the southern section and sent a separate column across the line in the northern section into Israeli-occupied territory.

Heath Moves Against Inflation

LONDON — Prime Minister Edward Heath announced Friday his government will slash the size of Britain's 500,000-man civil service and bring in businessmen to provide fresh knowhow. The government said it has hired Richard Meyjes, 52, marketing coordinator of Shell International Petroleum Corporation, to act as "pathfinder" in the project. He will form a small group of business managers assigned to analyze government activities and recommend improvements in management. Officials said the civil service cuts will be a first move toward reduced government spending in an effort to fight inflation.

Italy Jetliner Survives Attack

ROME — An Italian jetliner with 104 persons aboard was hit over Syria Friday by antiaircraft fire during a Syrian-Israeli air battle but managed to land safely at Beirut, Lebanon, with splinters flying from a yard-wide crater in its left wing, airline officials said. The Alitalia jet was hit near Damascus at an altitude of 31,000 feet by what officials described as either an ack-ack shell or a missile as Israeli and Syrian jets swirled in a dogfight nearby. None of the passengers were injured.

Hijacked Jet Lands Safely

BOGOTA — A Colombian jetliner was hijacked to Cuba Friday on a flight between Cucuta and Bogota. There were 92 persons aboard. The plane landed safely in Havana at 2:38 p.m. and Avianca said talks were underway with the Cuban government through the Swiss embassy to get it returned promptly with its passengers.

44 French Priests Resign

PARIS — Forty-four French priests have resigned en masse, declaring that, "while faithful to the gospel," they could "no longer in conscience accept a great many of the present structures of the church." The public action was the most dramatic of a series of developments indicating a breakdown in relations between the French bishops and a radical minority of Roman Catholic priests.

'Time's Run Out' for Dixie Schools

WASHINGTON — The Nixon Administration has told more than 150 school districts in the South "time has run out" and they will face a court suit if they don't come up with desegregation plans by the end of next week, it was learned Friday. One of the hardest of the 11 southern states apparently will be Mississippi, which also faces a denial of tax exempt status for its 43 private academies set up to avoid desegregation. Jerris Leonard, assistant U.S. Attorney General said fewer than 200 of the 2,700 school districts in the South are not now in compliance. If those districts fail to approve desegregation plans by next week, he said, suits will be filed.

Debt Ceiling Bill Passed

WASHINGTON — The Senate Finance Committee approved Friday a House-passed bill to raise the temporary national debt ceiling to $395 billion. In a reversal of earlier action, the committee dropped an amendment by Sen. John Williams, R-Del., which would have limited federal spending to $205.6 billion in the 1971 fiscal year beginning Wednesday. Chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., said the committee adopted by a 9-8 vote a motion to report the House-passed bill to the Senate without amendment.

'Antidraft Missile' Developed

WASHINGTON — Selective Service Director Curtis Tarr has developed a defense against the multiple, independently-targeted antidraft epistle. It consists of 250,000 postcards. In a letter to state draft directors made public Friday, Tarr acknowledged for the first time the current campaign of antidraft organizations to overwhelm Selective Service officials with correspondence was having some success. Although Selective Service officials said they had no figures at this time on the volume of "harassing mail" being received by draft boards, they conceded it was causing some trouble.

Abortion for Minors Ruled On

NEW YORK — Officials of city hospitals announced Friday abortions will be performed on minors if the patient is married, "emancipated," or at least 17 years old. A spokesman for the City Hospital Corporation said by "emancipated," authorities meant a girl "who is self supporting or living away from home under such circumstances that she makes most of her own decisions." He said doctors also will be instructed to perform abortions on minors with or without parental consent if the pregnancy "endangers the physical or mental health of the patient." Girls who do not belong to any of these categories will need parental consent.

More Unemployment Predicted

WASHINGTON — Labor Secretary Designate James Hodgson has predicted unemployment may reach 5.6 per cent of the work force, adding a half million persons to the 4.1 million reported jobless last month. Hodgson's forecast was the highest peak figure for unemployment any administration official has yet cited. Andrew Brimmer, a member of the Federal Reserve Board, said last week the rate might go as high as 5.5 per cent.

Fair-Campaign Pact Signed

WASHINGTON — Vice President Spiro Agnew signed a clean politics pledge on behalf of the Republican Party Friday while House Speaker John McCormack signed the pledge on behalf of the Democrats. It promises both parties will work to keep lies and deception out of the 1970 congressional campaigning.

PEOPLE IN THE NEWS

HHH Wins Democratic Endorsement

Combined News Services

Former Vice President Hubert Humphrey won the endorsement of Minnesota's Democratic Party to run for the U.S. Senate. Humphrey was opposed by Earl Craig Jr., 31, a Negro university instructor who has said leaders of both political parties are "unwilling to turn the country around."

With 731 votes needed for endorsement, Humphrey received 948, Craig 245. Craig outpolled Humphrey in six of the 17 state delegate districts in Minneapolis. Craig had earlier stated he will run in the primary election Sept. 15 regardless of the convention outcome.

Humphrey, 59, is seeking a return to the Senate where he served for 16 years before being elected as President Johnson's running mate in 1964. He will be opposed by Republican Clark MacGregor, 47, a 10-year congressman who has linked himself closely with policies of President Nixon.

Humphrey told the convention endorsements committee that his record in favor of ending the U.S. commitment in Vietnam is second to none. "We've gone far beyond the call of duty," he said. "Now it's a matter of priorities."

OREKHOV OUSTED

Boris Orehov, New York correspondent for the Soviet newspaper Pravda, has been ordered out of the U.S. for "activities incompatible with his status as a journalist." State Department spokesmen said he had twice violated travel restrictions for Soviet nationals and had engaged in nonjournalistic activities hostile to the interests of the U.S. They refused to confirm or deny speculation Orehov was being expelled in retaliation for Russia's refusal to renew the residence permit in Moscow of Time magazine correspondent Stanley Cloud.

RA 2 IN TROUBLE

RA 2, the papyrus boat in which Thor Heyerdahl, the Norwegian explorer, and his crew are trying to cross the Atlantic, was 960 miles from Barbados Friday. It has been at sea for 40 days. During the past two days heavy seas have broken over the boat and the wet papyrus has caused her to float low in the water. RA 2 should reach Barbados on July 12.

POWELL DEMAND

Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, Jr. Friday demanded a new primary election in the 18th district in New York, charging voting machines had been left unguarded and the primary was tainted by "criminal fraud." Powell, a veteran of 26 years in Congress, lost by 205 votes to Assemblyman Charles Rangel in Tuesday's primary election. Powell refused to say who he thought was responsible for the "fraud."

RESIGNATION

Secretary of Transportation John Volpe announced Friday the resignation of Reginald Whitman as administrator of the Federal Railroad Administration. Whitman will become president of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad effective July 10. Volpe told a news conference he would miss Whitman, but said that he did not blame him for returning to the railroad industry which "has been his life for some 40 years."

BAN LIFTED

Georgia Gov. Lester Maddox removed his ban against sales of two Atlanta newspapers at the state capital Friday. Delivery trucks promptly restored vending machines of the Atlanta Journal and the Atlanta Constitution, which Maddox personally had helped remove after a flap over the editorial policies of the newspapers. He said he dropped the ban because the newspapers "went all out to prove they could be fair" in covering the disagreement and "this expression by the newspaper's management calls for an equal expression of fairness on my part." The Constitution declined comment. Maddox charged the newspapers were slanted and biased in their news columns and misrepresented the facts on their editorial pages.

DUBCEK OUSTED

Alexander Dubcek, the liberal who led Czechoslovakia to a shortlived political "spring," was expelled Friday from the Communist Party. It was the latest disgrace for Dubcek, whose reform policies were crushed by tanks in the Soviet-led invasion of Czechoslovakia in August 1968. The action was taken by the party's central committee at the end of a two-day plenary session in Prague.

HEFNER CASINO

Hugh Hefner, publisher of Playboy magazine, said Friday he plans to build a resort with a casino somewhere in Nevada by 1973. He said he has options on land in the Lake Tahoe area, but also is considering Las Vegas.

Rep. Wayne Aspinall, 74, D-Colo., will marry next month the childhood sweetheart with whom he had his first date, his office said Friday. Aspinall and Mrs. Essie Jeffers Best of Grand Junction, Colo., will be married July 12 in Grand Junction, an Aspinall spokesman said. Mrs. Best's first husband died a few years ago, just before their 50th anniversary, and Aspinall's first wife died in July 1969 a few months before their 50th anniversary. Aspinall had his first date with Mrs. Best when he was 14 and she 13 in 1911.

INDIANS, RANGERS IN FLAG DISPUTE

LASSEN NATIONAL PARK (UPI) — Eight Indians hiked to the pinnacle of 10,452-foot Mt. Lassen and stuck a blue flag in the ground, proclaiming the vast Lassen Volcanic National Park as their own.

They hiked down.

U.S. Forest Service rangers hiked up, pulled the flag up.

They hiked down.

And so that battle went on for the recreation area.

Park Supt. Richard Boyer was asked why the flag was removed Thursday afternoon and he said:

"We have no regulation for this sort of thing. The Boy Scouts do it periodically, and we have taken them down when we get around to it. The flags simply ruin the naturalness of the area."

The flag was blue and depicted three salmon swimming in a circle. The Indians said it represented unity.

The Indians claim that the park as well as other parts of Northern California were illegally taken from them in the Gold Rush days. They want the land back.

NONSUPPORT CASES Absent Fathers Face Crackdown

SANTA BARBARA (UPI) — The state Social Welfare Board voted Friday to set up a police-social worker task force to zero in on the problem of absent fathers who fail to pay child support.

Board chairman Robert E. Mitchell pledged: "We have no intention of 'studying this problem to death,' as such task forces are sometimes accused of doing."

"This is going to be action and follow-up all the way, and we will stop only when it is clearly evident that this form of abdication of responsibility is being substantially reversed."

Mitchell said the task force would be made up of representatives of "all elements of law enforcement as well as the state-county welfare system."

He said that although the high percentage of nonsupport cases was "a matter of great concern in California, we are equally concerned about the family degeneration throughout society that finds children being victimized by irresponsibility on the part of absent fathers who simply walk away from their financial as well as moral obligations."

The board, he said, wanted "to give strong guidance and support to those who accept assignments on the task force and to make every effort to insure that its recommendations are turned into actual accomplishments."

Mitchell said names of the members of the task force would be announced "in the near future."

Grape Workers Join Chavez Union

INDIO (UPI) — A group of table grape workers voted 168-4 Friday in favor of being represented by the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee in a complete turnout from an election earlier in the week.

The pickers voted in the labor camp of Coachella-Imperial Distributors Inc., which packs grapes for 33 growers and has agreed to sign with the union for 30 of them.

ON TUESDAY, the workers voted 153-46 against representation by the UFWOC.

Henry Reeder, head of CID, said Wednesday that the decision was made to hold the second election because the workers were not properly informed about the issue.

He said some had been threatened that they would not get other picking jobs in the state if they joined the union.

Reeder said more than 300 workers had signed union cards and that many apparently thought that was the election, in explaining the lower number of votes in the second election.

CID represents about 1,500 acres of table grapes, out of a total of 7,100 in the area. The CID contract puts about two-thirds of the acreage under union represented workers. Previously, 15 growers with 3,200 acres had signed.

The Friday election was supervised by Joseph Viera, of the U.S. Mediation and Conciliation Service, and a number of clergymen.

ALAMEDA (UPI) — and as long as they do, "they're entitled to their own opinion."

He pointed out that the 19 represent a tiny percentage of the 3,500 men on the Hancock. The carrier recently returned from her fifth Vietnam combat mission and is now at Alameda Naval Air Station.

One of the signers was St. Allen P. Cox, the Hancock's public relations officer.

No flying officers signed the letter. Cox said the pilots, flying combat missions and coming home to dinner on clean table clothes, had become "dehumanized" and "anaesthetized."

Another signer, Lt. William D. West, said he felt similar disgust about war was prevalent throughout the world. He said he had heard of a protest even in the Russian military, which resulted in the execution of one officer.

"In the United States we still have the freedom of dissent," he said.

The skipper of the USS Hancock said Friday 19 junior officers who sent him a letter opposing the Vietnam war were within their rights and were not violating any Navy regulations.

Capt. T. L. Johnson said he did not plan any disciplinary action against the officers, expects no reaction from Washington and will not recommend any changes in their assignments on the big aircraft carrier.

The officers all signed a petition delivered to the skipper Thursday saying "a military solution is not feasible" in Southeast Asia.

"We do not counsel libel, sedition, or mutinous action. We intend no further action as a group. We only wish to express our objection to the Vietnam war, and record our fervent hope that it may soon end," the 19 said.

Johnson said the officers were all doing a good job,

PW LETTERS

secretary of defense, said in a statement.

"What we want from the enemy is a complete and official identification of all men who are prisoners, including civilian newsmen, and a full accounting of all military and civilians who are missing."

The Pentagon lists 1,102 servicemen as missing and 456 as captured. Of those captured, 376 are believed to be in North Vietnam—42 more than listed by American peace advocates in New York who returned recently from Hanoi. The 80 others in captivity are believed to be in South Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia.

"In behalf of Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird," Henkin said, "I want to state that the Department of Defense will press unrelentingly for full adherence by Hanoi to the provisions of the Geneva Convention."

The convention calls for official identification of all prisoners of war.

Mrs. Lindsay Miller, of Santa Ana, said that she was convinced her husband "isn't getting my letters."

Lt. Col. Edward Wainright Miller, 38, a Marine Corps pilot shot down Oct. 13, 1967, was held in a POW camp for 26 months before he wrote his first letter home. Until Mrs. Miller received that letter — two days before Christmas of 1969 — she had no idea of whether the father of her five sons was dead or alive. The boys range in age from 7 to 15½ years.

"IN HIS LATEST letter," Mrs. Miller said, "Ed asked me to send pictures of the boys so he could see how they've grown. The first letter I sent — last December — had pictures in it and all of the other letters and packages have included snapshots, too. He's just not getting them, that's all."

Mrs. Mary Ann Waters of South Laguna, whose husband, Capt. Samuel Waters, USAF, has been missing in action since December of 1966, is even more skeptical.

"I'm not very impressed with these peace groups," she said. "I've gotten excited and jubilant over too many of their announcements which proved to be erroneous. I'm certain that this latest list isn't what they claim it is — complete."

Mrs. Waters' husband, who is 33 if alive, has never been confirmed as dead. She's "very firmly convinced" that he's still alive and that Hanoi simply isn't releasing all of the names of American prisoners.

BRAZELTON said that although restrictions placed on correspondence by Hanoi prevented Michael from really communicating with his mother, father and two sisters, "we know he's not getting all of our mail."

The pilot's last letter home asked "Are my sisters married?"

"We told him — his mother and myself — about his sisters and their marital status at least 60 days earlier, then repeated additional information later. He has our letters, he wouldn't ask that question," the elder Brazelton said.

The package mailed to Hanoi by Brazelton Friday included what the father described as "a masterpiece of logistics." Inside were medical supplies, candy, cookies, socks, T-shirts, scratch paper and seven pencils. It met the 6-pound limit.

The revelation of the list Thursday, in a copyright New York Times News Service story, marked the first time the Communists have verified a list as representing all of the prisoners held in North Vietnam.

THE LIST, submitted to Hanoi for verification last April by the Committee of Liaison With Families of Servicemen Detained in North Vietnam, was based on letters from prisoners between Dec. 1, 1969, and last April 7.

The purported confirmation of the list by Hanoi was announced in New York by a spokesman for Kenneth Kirkpatrick of the American Friends Service Committee, Seattle; Prof. Mark S. Patschne of Harvard University, and Prof. Egbert W. Pfeiffer of the University of Montana.

The three men, who travelled privately to Hanoi earlier this month, said they were told all the captives were safe and would be repatriated when the war is over.

One of the servicemen identified on the list — change, which would provide benefits towards doctor bills for abortions done in hospitals, will come before the board of Greater New York's Blue Shield organization on June 30. A spokesman for Blue Shield said approval by the Blue Shield board was expected.

Neither organization, however, will cover abortions performed in specially equipped clinics or in hospital-affiliated clinics, as allowed under the new guidelines issued Thursday by the New York City Board of Health.

Capt. John Fer, 32, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Fer, of San Pedro — had previously been listed as missing in action. Revelation of his name produced joy in the Fer household and led to some renewed hope for others whose sons and husbands have been on the MIA list.

"I'm not getting my hopes too high," said Mrs. Waters, who is raising her son, 5, and daughter, 4, until — and if — her husband returns.

"Sam always said I was too glib. I'm not anymore. Now, everything I hear has to be proven. He used to tell me not to believe anything I heard and only half of what I saw."

renounce the use of force, set up broader economic and cultural contacts between East and West and "create an organ to deal with the questions of European security and cooperation."

—That this organ discuss "the relaxation of European tension (through) the discussion of the reduction of the foreign armed forces on the territory of the European states."

—That the United States and Canada, as well as all European states, be invited to join the talks.

The Warsaw Pact nations even hinted that the demand that the security conference precede the troop talks was negotiable.

Their memorandum said the troop pullback question could be discussed with the organ created by the conference — "or in another way acceptable to the concerned countries."

But the stress throughout the memorandum was on the "organ" stemming from the conference.

The memorandum noted that the positions of East and West "have come closer to each other in a series of important questions connected with the European security conference."

It said all countries involved should help prepare for such a conference "in a form considered expedient by them." Helsinki, the capital of Finland, should be the site of the conference, it said, and both East and West Germany should take part "on an equal footing."

In the same breath, the memorandum urged the nations "to hold a series of European conferences and to establish a corresponding organ of all concerned countries, which would deal with the questions of European security and cooperation."

But the rest of the memorandum indicated that the "organ" should be created at an early time by a full conference.

Communist eagerness for the conference was revealed in a passage that said that the Warsaw Pact proposal was "aimed at ensuring that it should be possible to reach agreement on the agenda, acceptable to all concerned states, of the European security conference and on the methods of preparation."

"All these could be started already in the very near period," it said.

CAMBODIA BOMBING

Cambodia continued Friday amid reports of new North Vietnamese and Viet Cong attacks at three points within a 30-mile radius of the capital city of Phnom Penh.

In South Vietnam, seven Americans were killed and 17 wounded in two widely separated ground clashes PHNOM PENH, Saturday (UPI) — A Cambodian military spokesman said today the Cambodian towns of Labensiek and Bo Keo in eastern Rattanakiri Province have been abandoned to the Communists and two defending garrisons airlifted to safety by American aircraft. Labensiek is 220 miles northeast of Phnom Penh and Bo Keo is 250 miles from the capital.

in which three enemy died, and two big U.S. Division headquarters camps were reported shelled overnight.

The stepped-up fighting in Cambodia, none of it involving U.S. troops, came at the much fought-over provincial capital of Kompong Speu, near a large Cambodian supply depot at Long Vek and around Oudong, a city noted for its burial sites of prominent Buddhists 100 to 200 years ago.

The towns are located 30 miles southwest, 20 miles north and 20 miles west of Phnom Penh, respectively, and marked a renewal of enemy pressure aimed at the capital itself, military officials there said.

The U.S. Command in Saigon said a battalion-sized element — upwards of 500 men — from the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division's 2nd Brigade has returned to Vietnam from Cambodia.

THE WITHDRAWAL came with five days remaining for withdrawal of all U.S. ground troops from Cambodia's eastern border, where they have been attacking enemy base camps and supply areas since May 1.

AP photographer Henri Huet, who accompanied an American armored unit from Cambodia's Fish Hook area back to Vietnam Friday, said they met no enemy attacks along the way — but expected them.

He said a minesweeping detail uncovered an enemy mine less than a mile from the unit's now-destroyed Cambodian fire base, where the troops had spent a sleepless night firing "mad minutes" — shooting all weapons in the camp — every two hours to discourage would-be enemy attackers.

Most of the departing troops said they were glad to be getting back to South Vietnam, mainly because "they said they were getting ambushed or running into mines every other day in Cambodia," Huet reported.

THE U.S. Command said Friday U.S. casualties in all Cambodian operations to date now total 330 killed and 1,490 wounded, with the Allies claiming more than 14,000 enemy killed in Cambodia since late March.

South Vietnamese headquarters listed its casualties in Cambodia as 791 killed and 3,529 wounded as of Friday morning.

Generally scattered fighting was reported throughout South Vietnam Friday with government troops claiming to have killed 28 enemy in two fights, losing three wounded and none killed.

The U.S. Command also reported 12 enemy shellings overnight, six of which were against U.S. bases or units and killed one American and wounded 11 others.

Two shellings were against headquarters of the U.S. 101st Airborne Division, five miles southeast of Hue, and the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division, 40 miles north of Saigon.

NO CASUALTIES were reported in the attack against the air cavalrymen, while light casualties were reported in the attack against the 101st Airborne Division headquarters, hit twice by 20 mortar rounds and about a dozen Soviet-built 122mm rockets.

In delayed reports, the Command said Friday two more U.S. aircraft were lost on missions to Laos, with one pilot killed. It brought to 46 the number of U.S. aircraft lost to all causes in the Laotian air war since the Command began reporting them March 10 on White House orders.

Transition Road Crash Kills Driver

A Paramount man was killed instantly when his car went out of control on a transition road between the Long Beach and San Diego Freeways and slid sideways for 150 feet before crashing into a light standard.

Highway patrolmen said Rudolph Edward Martinez, 28, of 14020 Orizaba St., was overtaking another car on the narrow northbound transition road at about 75 miles per hour when he struck a curb, slid to the right and crashed into the lamp post about six feet off the shoulder of the freeway.

Long Beach firemen took about half an hour to open the mangled car with a hacksaw and free Martinez' body.

Patrolman Ed Fawaz said the accident occurred about 7:35 p.m. He said a Seal Beach physician, Dr. Marianne Tahl, told the Highway Patrol she was traveling on the transition road when Martinez' car overtook her auto at high speed, and then slid out of control.

N.Y. BLUE CROSS TO COVER ABORTIONS

New York Times Service

NEW YORK — Blue Cross of Greater New York has decided to cover abortions performed in hospitals under the New York State's new law for a large group of its subscribers, including single women and dependent children.

Previously, only married women who had family contracts were able to receive hospital benefits for abortions. The change in policy, announced Saturday, was approved by the organization's board of directors on Wednesday.

A similar policy change, which would provide benefits towards doctor bills for abortions done in hospitals, will come before the board of Greater New York's Blue Shield organization on June 30. A spokesman for Blue Shield said approval by the Blue Shield board was expected.

Neither organization, however, will cover abortions performed in specially equipped clinics or in hospital-affiliated clinics, as allowed under the new guidelines issued Thursday by the New York City Board of Health.

Of the other major health plans in New York, the Health Insurance Plan of New York has said it will completely cover doctors' services for all abortions performed in hospitals by HIP obstetricians, regardless of whether the woman is married or single or a dependent child.

Dr. Leroy Bates, vice president for medical affairs at HIP, said that "at the moment, hospital-affiliated clinics are not included in our program. We will have to consider individual hospitals' proposals to use clinics as they come up."

Whether major medical insurance plans will provide benefits for abortions will depend largely upon the individual plan. In general, a spokesman for one major medical insurance company said, if the plan provides for maternity benefits, it most likely will also provide benefits for abortions.

Under the new policy of Greater New York's Blue Cross, which is known as the associated hospital service of New York, abortion benefits will be the same as maternity benefits — from $80 to $150, depending on the type of contract — and will cover abortions performed either on an inpatient or outpatient basis. The Blue Shield benefits would range from $50 to $100, depending on the contract.

Nixon Briefs Media Heads, Excludes Some

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
Associated Press Writer

Newspaper and broadcasting executives got a sales talk on the Nixon administration's Indochina and foreign policies at the Western White House in San Clemente Friday.

President Nixon launched it with a welcome to 38 participants, turned it over to military and diplomatic experts from the White House, State Department and the Pentagon, and then went to work in his office. He reappeared as host at a luncheon break beside his swimming pool, with its glass windscreens along the ocean side.

Deputy Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren indicated those attending this first-of-its-kind briefing for media representatives would be somewhat less than free to write or say what they learned. He pronounced it a private session for the 23 newspaper per editors and publishers and 15 presidents and vice presidents of broadcasting companies.

Asked whether those present would be able to write about the meeting, Warren told reporters: "I would not suspect that they would."

But after the session ended around 4 p.m., press secretary Ronald L. Zeigler said a transcript of the briefing and questions and answers that followed will be made available for use by those attending and for general release at 9 a.m. PDT Thursday.

Zeigler said the President spent 15 or 20 minutes talking to the news and television executives and then at the lunchtime break set up a receiving line in his home to meet each of them. But he did not stay on for the lunch.

The press secretary characterized the briefing session as "very thorough" and one that covered not only Southeast Asian policy but also for-sign policy around the world.

President Nixon signed into law Friday a measure increasing benefits for the families of American prisoners of war in Vietnam. He pledged all possible effort to secure "their earliest possible release." The measure doubles to $5 per day the rate of payment to servicemen held prisoner.

Warren said the list of persons invited to the briefing had come from the office of Herb Klein, Nixon's communications director. Asked the basis for issuing invitations and why representatives of such organizations as the New York Times, the Washington Post, the news magazines and the news services were not invited, Warren replied only, "I do not have answers to these questions."

The actual backgrounding was supplied by Henry A. Kissinger, Nixon's top adviser on foreign and national security policy; William H. Sullivan, former ambassador to Laos and now deputy assistant secretary of state for East Asia and Pacific Affairs; and Army Lt. Gen. John W. Vogt, operations director for the Joint Chiefs of Staff of the Armed Services.

The briefing was a prelude to the final report Nixon has promised Tuesday on the Cambodian phase of the war in Indochina. That is his deadline for pulling out the last U.S. forces from Cambodia.

Beyond that, the President will be on the air for a hour Wednesday night covering the whole range of U.S. foreign policy with interviewers from the ABC, CBS and NBC television networks.

But there will be a break today in affairs of state for the President and Mrs. Nixon to attend the wedding of Nixon's niece, Lawrence, his brother Donald's daughter. She will become the bride of accountant Thomas E. Anfinson at what her parents call a little family wedding at Newport Beach.

Mrs. Nixon will be off on her own Sunday to become a goodwill ambassador to earthquake-shattered Peru. She will fly in Air Force One to the stricken nation with some relief supplies aboard.

The White House appealed to six U.S. cities to rush not only supplies but also money to the Western White House in time for the trip. These cities have sister cities in Peru under a program set up in the Eisenhower Administration to foster ties with Latin America.

There was the usual flurry of official actions and announcements from the West Coast White House, including an authorization for disaster relief for San Marcos, Tex., where former President Lyndon B. Johnson worked his way through college. The city was hit by flood waters of the San Marcos River, with heavy damage to public buildings, streets and utilities. Nixon declared these areas eligible for federal help.

Nixon announced, too, he is nominating Clay T. Whitehead, one of his special assistants, to be the first director of the Office of Public Communications Policy. This office was created under the first government reorganization plan Nixon submitted to Congress this year.

Whitehead is 31 and a native of Neodesha, Kan.

Four new members were appointed to the Citizens Advisory Committee on Environmental Quality: Henry L. Diamond, New York Commissioner of Environmental Conservation; entertainer Arthur Godfrey, Paconian Springs, Va.; famed flyer Charles A. Lindbergh of Connecticut and Pete Wilson, California state assemblyman from San Diego.

man of the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors, Pacifica, Calif.

In the International area, Nixon ratified a U.S.-New Zealand extradition treaty which covers for the first time the offense of aircraft hijacking

U Thant Calls for New Start

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — In words alternately brave and despairing, the United Nations commemorated its 25th anniversary Friday in a world it failed to save from "the scourge of war."

"On this solemn occasion, when the eyes of the world are focused on us, I must most emphatically warn nations not to pursue their present outmoded and fratricidal course."

Secretary General U Thant told a glittering black tie commemorative banquet.

"Time is running short," he said. "People are getting impatient. We need a fresh start. We need a fresh look."

Thant received a standing ovation when he entered the ballroom while a group of 45 demonstrators paraded outside the hotel on Nob Hill to protest Soviet treatment of Jews and the war in Southeast Asia.

THERE were no serious incidents to mar the closing celebration.

Diplomats from the UN's 126 member nations met earlier in a special commemorative session at the San Francisco Opera House, where in 1945 the charter pledging to "save succeeding generations from the scourge of war" was hammered out.

Thant said the charter was still "the world's best chance."

Renewing his call for the admission of Red China, Thant warned that the UN could not deal with problems such as the war in Indochina until it was made truly "universal." This issue, he said, should be the "priority item of this year's agenda."

And he told the super powers that none of them again "will ever rule the world alone. No nation will ever be able to live again in splendid isolation."

Canyon Brush Fire Burns 20 Acres in Palos Verdes

By BILL HOMER
Staff Writer

More than 14 units of fire fighters battled a stubborn brush fire in a canyon area of Palos Verdes Estates Friday in which about 20 acres of valuable watershed were destroyed.

The fire came on the heels of similar blazes in the northeast San Fernando Valley and the Hollywood Hills.

The U.S. Forest Service said 120,000 acres of the Angeles National Forest will be closed to the public July 1 because of fire hazard.

Chief George Reichert was in command of fire-fighting operations at the Palos Verdes Estates blaze, which erupted at about 3:15 p.m.

STATE SUES LBOD, CHARGES OIL POLLUTION OF HARBOR

The state of California filed suit here Friday against the Long Beach Oil and Development Co., alleging the firm is liable for $7,000 in penalties for polluting Long Beach Harbor.

The petition, filed by Deputy Atty. Gen. David B. Stanton, asserts the firm operates an oil tank farm in the harbor and that on or about March 11 it "negligently permitted oil to flow" from tanks Z-1 and Z-2 into surrounding waters.

The company was established about 30 years ago by three major oil companies — Signal, Standard and Continental — to oversee offshore drilling operations in the Long Beach region. Its president is James K. Wooten of Los Angeles, a director of one of the larger firms.

The Department of Fish and Game spent $1,000 in clean up operations, the petition said, and the company is liable for that sum and another $6,000 in civil penalties.

Judge Tightens Attorney Gag in Tate Murder Case

By MARY NEISWENDER
Staff Writer

The gag applied to defense and prosecution attorneys in the Tate-La Bianca murder case tightened Friday as the trial ended its second week.

As the slow process of jury selection continued, Los Angeles Superior Court Judge Charles Older officially ordered all in-chambers and at-the-bench conferences kept secret and evidence introduced in open court also kept away from public scrutiny.

The order, unprecedented in the county, was immediately challenged by Dis. Atty. Evelle Younger who instructed his deputies handling the case not to participate in any sessions that are "in chambers."

The District Attorney's order, however, appeared to be a battle of semantics since the judge could order the "off the record" sessions held in open court — but without jury and press present, the deputies conceded.

JUDGE OLDER, in a related move, said the news media could not view evidence introduced in a hearing challenging the petit jury system. The "evidence" was a two-page handwritten series of questions by hippy leader Charles Manson which were to be asked of prospective jurors.

The questions were part of a routine challenge of the petit jury system by the hippy cult leader's attorney, Irving Kanarek, charging that no ill-educated, nomadic types — Manson's peers — were considered for the jury. Kanarek claimed it was "most significant" that a representative of his client's way of life be on the panel judging his guilt or innocence.

Although Judge Older refused to allow Manson to testify at the brief hearing, Superior Court Jury Commissioner William A. Goodwin testified. Decision on the motion has been delayed by Judge Older, who also has yet to rule on several other motions — including one to dismiss the entire case because of prejudicial publicity and another to censure Deputy Dis. Atty. Aaron Stovitz for "laying the prosecution case out in the news media." All the motions are expected to be ruled upon in chambers and the decisions unavailable to the press.

MEANWHILE, all four defense attorneys, although passing 11 members of the jury, challenged "for cause" one member of the prospective panel, Los Angeles County photographer Lawrence Reynolds who conceded he felt that "there was some doubt of the innocence" of any person arrested for a crime.

Reynolds, a California State College at Long Beach graduate, admitted after questioning that: "If I were on trial I would not want a juror sitting in my case in my frame of mind."

He is expected to be excused from the panel after court resumes Monday.

Manson, on trial with his three girl "followers" — Leslie Van Houten, 20, Susan Atkins, 21, and Patricia Krenwinkel, 22 — continued to sit quietly taking notes and watching spectators and press representatives who crowded the courtroom. Although he had instructed his attorney to remain "mute — and offer no defense" — he made no move to stop the burly barrister when he questioned the prospective panel Friday. The attorney, however, was obviously following a "script" prepared by his client, in the questioning session.

Two other defense attorneys, Paul Fitzgerald and Ira Reiner, were threatened with "firing" by their clients if they questioned the panel. The two, however, did methodically query the prospective jurors.

Cite Friar Lawyer on Six Counts

Beverly Hills attorney James P. Cantillon was indicted in Los Angeles Friday for possession of secret grand jury transcripts in the Friars Club card cheating case.

Cantillon, 42, represented Johnny Rosselli, who was convicted of participating in a conspiracy to mulct wealthy members of the club in rigged gin rummy games.

The transcripts leading to the indictments in the case were not released for public use, but during the trial a copy of one of them turned up on the defense counsel table.

THE indictment charged that Cantillon retained copies of the transcripts for his own use, knowing they had been unlawfully obtained.

Specifically, he was charged with two counts of possession of stolen government property, two of obstructing justice and two of contempt of court.

Earlier testimony in the transcript affair indicated they became available through the manager of the firm which contracted with the government to prepare the documents.

The indictment Friday alleged Cantillon received the transcripts from Maurice H. Friedman, a Las Vegas developer who was convicted in the Friars case.

Giant Rose Bowl Show to Hail PWs

The history of the state will explode in fiery displays as the largest Independence Day fireworks spectacular and pageant in the world is presented at Pasadena's Rose Bowl this year.

And American prisoners of war in Southeast Asia will be the unseen guests of honor at the drama.

The show is an official part of California's bicentennial celebration, and highlights from the "200 Golden Years" since the first permanent settlements were erected by Portola and Father Serra will be displayed in fireworks, tableaux and dramatic action.

EVENTS in the history of the state, dating back into the half-dark reaches of legend, when a beautiful Amazonian led her warriors in pursuit of seafarers and explorers, will be presented in music, narration, gigantic pyrotechnic set pieces and aerial displays of unusual variation and finesse, according to outdoor showman Tommy Walker, producer.

Walker, who won the Freedom Foundation, Valley Forge, Pa., award for his patriotic show in Anaheim in 1968, has dedicated this year's spectacular to American prisoners of war and to men missing in the Indochina conflict.

Mrs. Sybil Stockdale, head of the National League of Families of American Prisoners in Southeast Asia, will be present for a special tribute.

ute to U.S. war prisoners. Prisoner's families will be guests of the producer at the event.

Because of the size of the show, one half of the stadium will be used as a staging area for the immense set pieces.

One of these set pieces alone occupies 2,400 square feet and burns down in 45 seconds, Walker says.

AMONG THE pyrotechnic scenes is a giant High Sierra landscape in which Berhard Wells, called the world's foremost pyrotechnician, is responsible for the fireworks portion of the show.

Marvin Marker's Long Beach Junior Concert Band will be among the attractions.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — A Negro cab driver here has written to 20th Century Fox to protest the casting of white actors to play members of the 761st Tan Battalion in the movie, "Patton."

William Dyer, 32, said the 761st was the first Negro tank battalion in Europe.

"But in the movie the men are white," Dyer said in a letter to Darryl Zanuck, president of Fox.

"I admire the story and the way it portrayed Patton," Dyer said. "But it mentions this unit, says they marched over 100 miles to fight and win a major battle, then lets the world believe it was white men who accomplished this."

WOMEN PICKET CSLB MALE PARTY

They're for Inclusion, Not Liberation

By WALT MURRAY
Staff Writer

Eight chanting demonstrators Friday picketed the East Long Beach home of Ed Babbush, director of career planning and placement at California State College at Long Beach.

All of them were women.

Some of them were members of Babbush's own staff.

And they were received with boisterous, good-natured yells of approval by Babbush and about 30 other Cal State administrators, all male.

But the women, who marched on Babbush's house to protest exclusion from an all-male end-of-the-year party, declined offers to join their co-workers in disposing of a keg of beer.

"They outnumber us," explained Barbara Parks, assistant directors of the college news bureau.

The women carried picket signs reading "Party Power To Women" and "Integrate Parties — Invite Women."

They marched in a circle on Babbush's driveway, singing protest songs while male administrators including Acting College President Donald Simonson crowded outside to watch.

"They had the audacity to send out memos inviting all the male administrators without inviting us," said Vicki Neal of the Placement office.

"Talk about male chauvinism."

Did the women consider holding their own counter-party?

STACKING A QUEEN . . . First Funnel Section Hoisted into Place

Queen's Getting Her Shape Back

The Queen Mary, whose silhouette was flattened 20 months ago, is getting stacked again.

Workmen began replacing the ship's three huge funnels Friday. The stacks had towered some 61 feet above the top deck before they were removed as part of renovation of the Queen.

The old steel funnels — weighing 25 tons each — are to be replaced by new ones built in a Paramount fabricating plant.

Project spokesmen said it is likely the re-funneling may take weeks to complete.

THE NEW FUNNELS are being built section by section in building block fashion. Each stack consists of five oval sections. The bottom section is six feet high and weighs a ton. Four additional sections, weighing six tons each, will be placed on top of the first.

The bottom section of the center stack was put into place Friday and the four upper sections will be added next week. The front and rear stacks will be put into place during the next few weeks.

The funnels will be painted in the traditional Cunard Line colors — bright vermilion with a black ring on top — and are tilted slightly backward.

REMOVING the old funnels facilitated extraction of some 12,000 tons of machinery from the ship's hold. The new stacks are of the same dimensions as the old ones, which also were removed because they were badly corroded and might have posed a safety hazard.

The Queen Mary, which during the 1930s was the world's biggest and fastest ocean liner, arrived in Long Beach Dec. 9, 1967, to become a permanently-berthed maritime museum and convention center-hotel complex.

Current estimates indicate the Queen will debut in her new role this December, a year after the conversion project initially was due to have been completed.

Orange Co. Uses Old Law to War on Nudity in Bars

By BOB GEIVET
Staff Writer

While other counties have given up the fight against topless and bottomless bars, Orange County decided it didn't want any — and is getting rid of them.

By way of a little-used law adopted when the Barbary Coast at San Francisco was running high, wide and handsome, Dist. Atty. Cecil Hicks is prosecuting them.

He is using the Red Light Abatement Act, under which a court can decide that a place is dangerous to public morals as a piece of assignation, and can order it closed.

The score: one down and three to go.

Santa Ana Superior Court Judge Samuel Dreizen ruled that the Apartment A-Go-Go in Santa Ana was a nuisance, and ordered it closed.

Another trial opened in Judge William L. Murray's superior court, this one involving a bar known as The Apartment, also in Santa Ana but at the opposite end of town.

The third case, involving the Tuscan Room in Tustin, is awaiting a trial date.

The district attorney made it a full hand Friday by filing against the Tom Cat, west of Santa Ana.

Owner Harry Maselli of Norwalk, who has figured in most prosecutions involving such bars in Orange County, was ordered into court July 15 to show cause why his Tom Cat should not be muffled pending trial under the Red Light Abatement Act.

Maselli was arrested June 4, along with several others, for allegedly showing pornographic films at the Tom Cat. He and Gene Seery, the bar manager, are charged with three counts each of conspiracy to display obscene matter and three misdemeanor counts of the same nature.

ALSO CHARGED are Naomi Sims, 34, and Sharon James, 23, both of 1401 W. Walnut St., Santa Ana, accused of indecent exposure and conspiracy to commit perversion.

James W. Davis Jr., 26, of 1809 Humminbird Drive, Costa Mesa, was accused of three felony counts of conspiracy to show pornographic films, and two misdemeanor counts of showing obscene matter. He was projecting a stag film, officers said.

Bar patrons Wallace James Green, 27, of 1841 Crestwood Lane, Anaheim; John Joseph Robinson Jr., 26, of Hawaiian Gardens and Charles Stannberry, 41, of Anaheim, were accused of sex perversion.

HOLLYWOOD BANK HEIST; $9,850 GONE

Bank of America's main Hollywood branch was robbed of $9,850 cash Friday by a tall, graying bandit, police reported.

Luisita Ignacio, a teller at the bank on Hollywood Boulevard, told officers a man handed her a note demanding money and acted as though he had a gun hidden in a pocket.

The robber, described as about 6 feet 1 and of medium build, escaped in an old-model car.

L.A. Airport Budget Down

A budget of $58,209,631 has been approved for the Los Angeles Department of Airports' 1970-71 fiscal year. The figure, representing a substantial reduction from last year, did not include the usual proposed revenue bond issues because of unfavorable authorized interest rates.

The department's anticipated revenues of $30,980,075 are 4.5 per cent higher than the estimated current fiscal year income. The department is self-supporting.

Dispute Disrupts L.A. Port Board

By JACK O. BALDWIN
Maritime Editor

Charges of "ungentlemanly conduct," "bad-mouthing," and "forgetting how to deal with honorable people" were tossed about Friday at a meeting of the Los Angeles Board of Harbor Commissioners.

The allegations were made by Commissioner John Royal against Charley Stillwell, general manager of the company operating the cross-channel cruise ship, SS Catalina.

Stillwell, like Royal, enjoys commissioner status as a member of the city's Community Redevelopment agency.

Stillwell was questioned sharply by Royal after he objected to a Harbor Department proposal to grant a competitor use of a berth adjacent to the Catalina Terminal.

THE COMMISSION met to consider the application of GT Avalon, Inc. for the use of Berth 93C. The company, operator of the new $2.5-million, turbine-powered, 500-passenger Avalon, wants to use the docking area as a base of operations to conduct no-destination coastal party cruises.

Over the objections of Stillwell and representatives of three maritime unions, the commission voted to allow use of the berthing area on an interim basis.

Bernard J. Caughlin, general manager of the Harbor Department, said an attempt would be made to find another suitable berthing area for the Avalon.

Stillwell denied "bad-mouthing" Royal but admitted he had asked several people at various times, "why has Commissioner Royal got it in for me?"

"There obviously is bad blood between us, but for the life of me I don't know why," Stillwell said to the commissioners.

Royal said: "I object to people saying things about me and attempting to throw over my good name."

"My legal counsel may soon be calling on you," Royal advised Stillwell.

DEMOS UP ANTE IN STATE BUDGET FOR SCHOOLS

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The fiscal crisis over Gov. Ronald Reagan's $6.47 billion state budget escalated Friday when Assembly Democrats upped the price for their votes on the budget by over $200 million.

In a statement of party position, Democrats demanded an extra $304 million for local schools, $31 million to restore proposed pay cuts for state employees and nearly $9 million to restore other budget cuts.

They said the extra money could be raised without a general tax increase by "closing tax loopholes and bringing some sheltered areas into line."

Earlier, Senate Democrats had demanded an extra $135 million for schools. Assembly Democratic leaders voted for that budget version a week ago, although they criticized it as inadequate.

Obviously angered at the last minute demands, Assemblyman Frank Lanterman, chairman of a Senate-Assembly committee which has been meeting a week behind closed doors on the budget, said briefly, "We listened to them. We're not going to comment."

Lanterman, R-La Canada, criticized the statement of Minority Floor Leader John Miller, D-Berkeley, that the Democratic position was reached by a consensus of the 39-member Democratic caucus.

"By consensus, they mean they didn't have a caucus quorum," Lanterman said. "I don't know how realistic it is to condition the budget on passage of a gutted version of AB 1000 (the governor's billion-dollar property tax relief plan)," Lanterman added.

Democrats proposed financing their additions to the budget by tagging half-a-billion dollars of revenue measures and revenue shifts to the tax reform plan now before the Senate, something Republicans said "is never, ever going to happen."

THE APPARENT hardening of party positions came only four days before the constitutional deadline for adoption of a 1970-71 state budget.

Failure to adopt a budget before midnight June 30 in theory halts all the financial operations of the state. Last year, when the budget was not adopted until July 3, salaries and bill-paying ability of the state were jeopardized.

Miller predicted a similar or worse crisis this year, observing, "I think the state is in a worse position than last year."

IN THE latest Democratic proposal, $267 million would go to the state's general aid fund for school districts. That would give more money to about 80 per cent of the state's 1,144 school districts but would provide no extra money for basic aid districts such as the large San Francisco Unified District.

Democrats also proposed increasing special education, reading and educational improvement programs by $37 million.

"We are not asking for expansion of existing educational programs for 1970-71," said Assemblyman Robert Crown of Alameda, chief Democratic spokesman on fiscal matters.

CROWN said the extra $304 million merely restored budget cuts and met inflation. Gov. Reagan made a similar comment earlier in the week on his proposal to give schools an extra $70 million. Total state aid for public schools was $1.6 billion this year.

The Democratic proposal would also restore a 2.25 per cent across-the-board cut in salaries in the Senate version of the budget. That restores a proposed five per cent cost-of-living increase for most state employees but returns state college teachers only to this year's salary schedule.

Crown and Miller refused to comment on whether that was done deliberately by the Democratic caucus or if the proposal to restore the across-the-board cut merely overlooked the separate pay hike cut for state colleges made by the Senate and Assembly two weeks ago. Crown listed proposals he said would raise over $500 million including elimination of capital gains and oil depletion tax breaks, higher business inventory, bank and insurance taxes, a five-cent hike in cigarette taxes, doubling the liquor tax and a drastic revision of the proposed increased homeowner's property tax exemption.

Larwin Introduces Low-Payment Home Financing

A new home financing program designed to lower monthly payments has been introduced by The Larwin Company, effective immediately.

Project "GPO-36" is now in effect at 12 of Larwin's Southern California communities.

"GPO-36" was created to substantially reduce new home owners' monthly payments during the first 36 months of home ownership by allowing buyers to "put-off" a portion of the monthly payments, and then amortizing the balance over a long period of time, explained Michael L. Tenzer, Larwin senior vice president and marketing director.

"The money saved can then be used for home furnishings, vacations, or even deposited in a savings account to accrue interest."

GPO-36 stands for the "Great Put-Off — 36 M." and it was introduced by Larwin to encourage prospective home buyers to purchase now, rather than wait to see if interest rates will be decreased.

GPO-36 is a Larwin exclusive, available only to Larwin customers.

"All economic factors indicate that interest rates will continue at current levels, rather than decrease, in the foreseeable future," said Tenzer.

"People who wait for lower rates are not being realistic, because even if rates do lower slightly, the cost of new homes is increasing on the average of 10 per cent annually, and that more than offsets any interest rate drop."

"INTEREST" rates would have to drop two full percentage points to counteract this 10 per cent yearly increase in the cost of housing, and that's just not going to happen," stated Tenzer.

Larwin has introduced GPO-36 at Tempo-Simi, Tempo-Valencia, Tempo-Lancaster, Tempo-Cypress, Tempo-Cerritos, Greenbrook-Simi, Greenbrook-Cypress, Greenbrook-Fountain Valley, Greenbrook-Cerritos, Rockpointe-San Fernando Valley, Montara-Simi and Encore-Simi.

GPO-36 is available only to bona fide individual home buyers. Realtors, financiers, investors, home builders, brokers and speculators are specifically excluded.

"GPO-36 has been in effect less than two weeks, and has enjoyed outstanding buyer reception," said Tenzer. "We've had to add extra sales representatives at the 12 communities to service all of our customers."

The Larwin Company is part of The Larwin Group, Inc., Beverly Hills firm with interests in homebuilding, mortgage banking and finance and land development.

Larwin is an affiliate of CNA Financial Corp. (NYSE), a Chicago-based company with more than $3 billion in assets.

DOWNEY DEVELOPMENT 'SAVES' PAST

Old Ranch Landscaping to Be Restored

Special to Progress Section

The historical environment of a century-old house in Downey is being preserved — even though the building itself has been removed.

Much of the landscaping around the wood-frame structure will be restored following construction of a deluxe Scandinavian-style apartment project at the site.

It was once the center of the Pomeroy Ranch. To be named Nord Star, the 48-unit development at 7546 Stewart & Gray Road, is being built by RPM Construction Co. The D. J. Russell and R. F. Briggs families, who own the property, are planning single-family homes on adjoining land.

Trees, shrubbery and rose gardens were salvaged prior to demolition of the old house and a second vintage residence on the three-acre property.

Mrs. Pearle Russell, who at 85 is a retired landscape designer, expects to replace all plants when the new $800,000 apartment complex is completed next November.

DESIGNED by Frank Evola & Associates, the two-story development will have a chalet-like appearance across its 280 square feet of frontage.

One and two-bedroom units will have up to 1,000 square feet of living space. The project will feature subterranean parking, recreation and card rooms, a swimming pool, sauna baths, built-in gas barbecues and gas lights, a laundry room, air conditioning, lightweight concrete floors and double-wall soundproofing.

EACH Nord Star apartment will include a fireplace, private patio entered from sliding glass doors, gas-equipped kitchen with a dishwasher and vinyl floor covering, carpeting and drapes.

Payment of natural gas and water utilities will be included in the rental schedule of the adult apartment community.

As a general contractor, RPM Construction Co. has built more than 100 apartment projects in Southern California since 1960.

The firm is constructing four other apartment developments in the City of Downey, according to owner R. P. McAllister.

'Talking House' Open Sunday

This weekend's edition of the Independent Press-Telegram and the Orange County Evening News will include a special section on Talking Houses, a real estate presentation that opens Sunday noon at La Linda in Fountain Valley.

Talking Houses means that two of the furnished model homes are equipped with sound-tapes describing aspects of construction, prices and special features throughout the unit.

Also "talking" to visitors will be appliances, furnishings and automobiles especially selected for the eight-day, free event.

1,302-UNIT BAYSIDE SITE OPEN TODAY

Park Newport Apartments Offer Spectacular View

A 50-acre bayside site in Newport Beach has been transformed into a "total environment" community, 1,302-unit Park Newport Apartments, which opens its $12 million first phase this weekend.

Interest in the development has been intense as construction progressed. Park Newport Apartments are located at Jamboree Road and San Joaquin Hills Road, just west of the Newport Center Financial Plaza.

Latest in a series built by developer Gerson Bakar, the community combines apartments, townhouses, pools, gardens, recreation and spectacular views of bay, harbor and ocean. All these elements are designed together to create a unique environment — an apartment house within a park.

Bakar pioneered this concept in 1965 when he opened Woodlake in San Mateo, a $15-million, 994-unit complex set in a six-acre park with an artificial lake and a $500,000 recreation center. As Business Week said in a feature article in its March 14 issue: "Many builders credit San Francisco developer Gerson Bakar with starting this trend."

BAKAR'S PHILOSOPHY, EXPRESSED in all his developments, is that people shouldn't have to wait for retirement to enjoy leisure living.

"We have tried to achieve two things at Park Newport," he said.

"The first objective was to take a dramatically-situated, but otherwise ordinary, piece of bluff land; reclaim it from its chaparral and dirt, and make it into a garden for living.

"The second is to provide people with a complete, diversified way of life, while they are at the right age to enjoy it to the full, each in his own way."

Planning for recreation at Park Newport has been a huge undertaking, for in addition to the $750,000 Spa there are seven tennis courts and a pro-shop, with a complete tennis program; putting greens; a playground for visiting children; and eight swimming pools including a therapeutic pool; 70 per cent of the 50-acre site is devoted to outdoor recreation, gardens and parks.

The Spa, which overlooks the harbor and ocean view, contains sauna baths, locker and dressing rooms, showers, gymnasium, paddleboard courts, snack area, TV viewing theatre, meeting rooms, a billiard room and a large main lounge.

A kitchen is available for special events. Recreation programs will be similar to those at Bakar's northern California projects, Woodlake, Northpoint and Oak Creek."

At Oak Creek, for example, in addition to tennis tournaments, swim teams and paddleball tournaments, 80 events were held in March, 1970, a typical month.

THESE INCLUDED WEEKLY CLASSES in yoga, slim-trim, ballroom dancing, jogging, life drawing and duplicate bridge, residents' parties, an art show, several lectures, a theatre party, a charity tea and an Easter egg hunt.

Rentals at Park Newport Apartments range from $175 for a bachelor to $450 for a three-bedroom, two-story townhouse. The project is designed for couples and families with children from 15 up — the minimum age.

Open for inspection are five model apartments, with interiors by the decorating staff of Robinson's Fashion Island store.

Among the features of the apartments are radiant ceiling heat; self cleaning ovens; bars in most apartments; cable and closed-circuit TV, with many special programs; laundry lounges; intercom-controlled lobbies and security patrol; and optional maid service. All townhouses will have fireplaces and wet bars. Tenants will have a choice of several carpet colors, and coordinated selections of wallpaper for kitchens and baths. Park Newport Apartments are an all-electric project.

Newest Landmark Community Opens in Cerritos

Signal Landmark, Inc., formally opens its newest

Landmark Homes subdivision today in Cerritos.

The $3.5 million project of 115 homes is located on walk Boulevard and Bloomfield Ave.

The one and two-story homes, designed by R. J. Marvick and Associates, range in price from $28,375 to $32,875 for plans that offer three and four bedrooms.

Five different floor plans are available with a choice of 15 exterior designs included.

With the Landmark Homes-Cerritos opening, Signal Landmark is introducing its new "creative side yard" concept to the area.

BOB JAMES, the firm's vice president and general manager, explained the concept:

"This innovation creates for your family an additional five feet of usable side yard by expanding the area on one side of your lot approximately five feet beyond the normal lot line. This extra five feet of yard space extends your lot all the way to the outside walls of your neighbor's home.

"This space, which was previously ignored and often wasted by your neighbor because of its side yard location, now blends generously into your yard to create a completely usable double side yard."

"THIS NEWLY created side yard area may have a multitude of uses such as extended patio pool area, trailer or boat storage, garden or secluded adult retreat or children's private play area.

"The five feet of space that you have, in effect, borrowed from your neighbor is guaranteed through a permanent easement recorded in both grant deeds by the Title Insurance Company of Los Angeles. You, in turn, allow the same easement to your neighbor on the other side of your lot thereby creating a double side yard for his use.

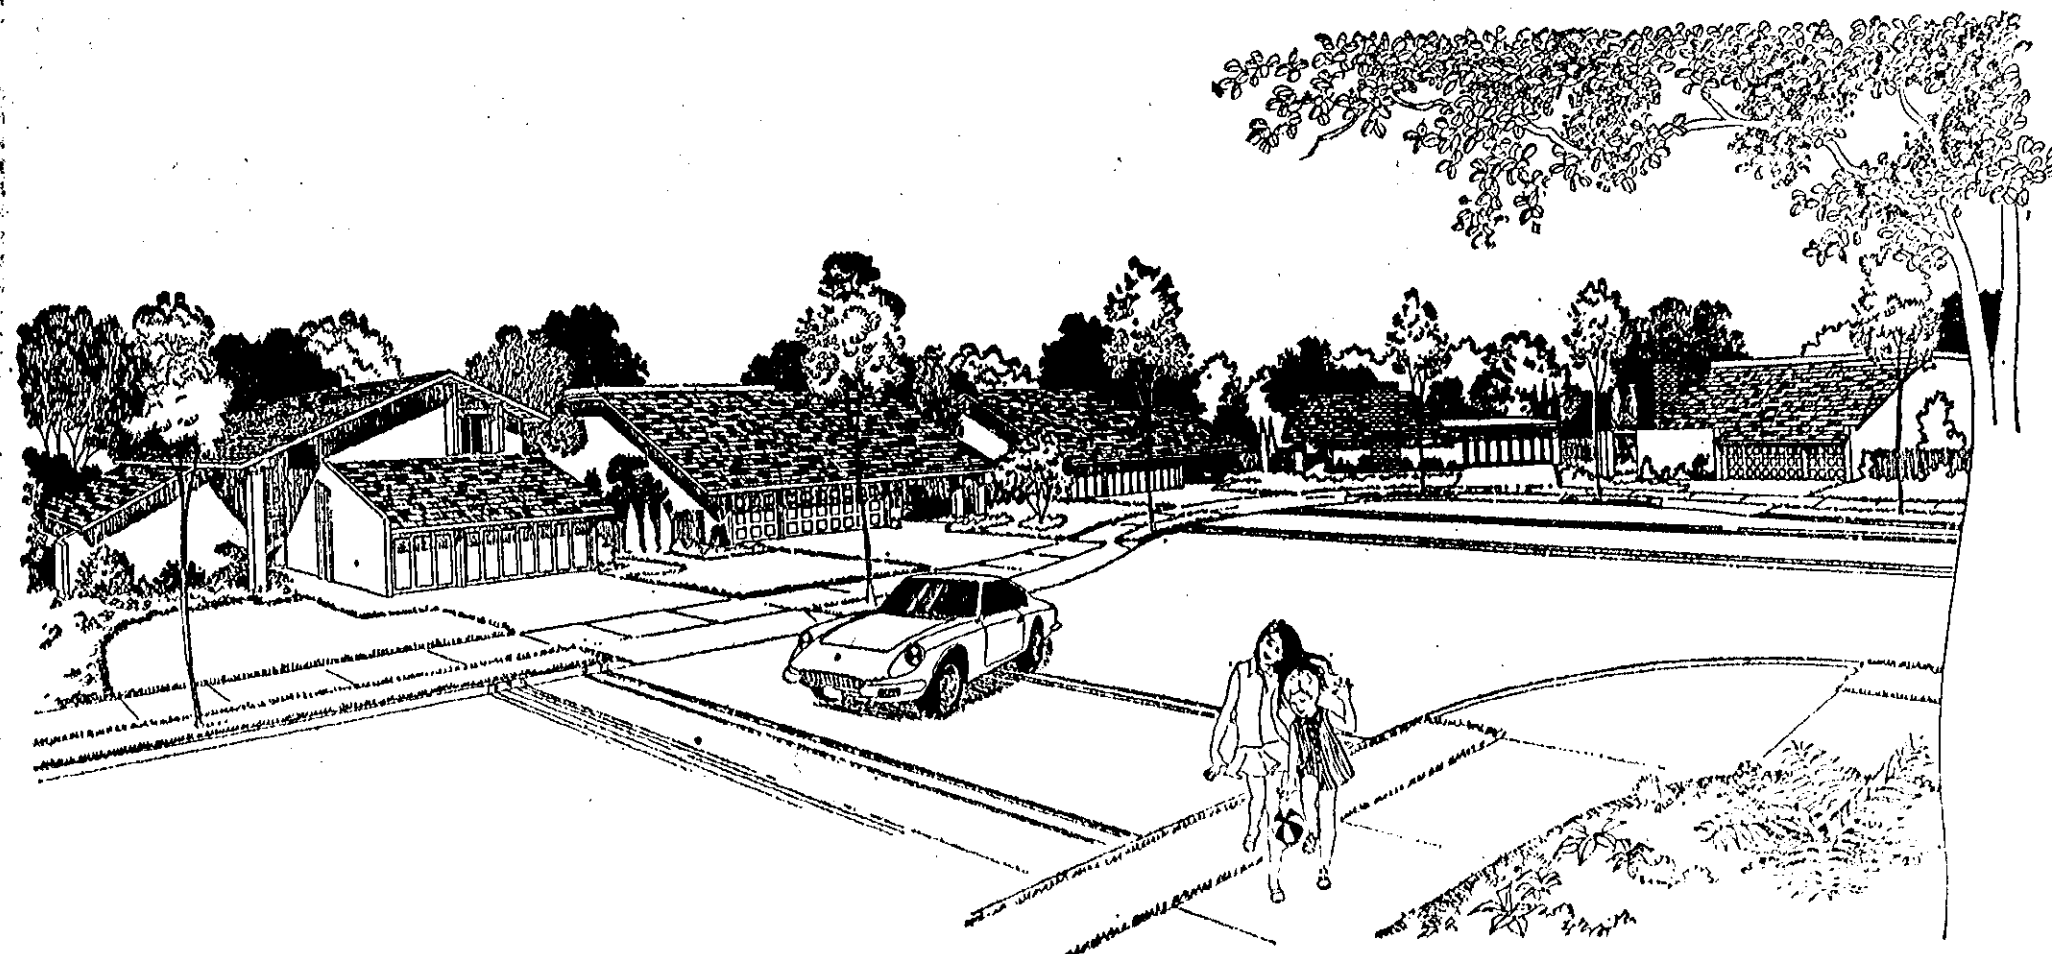

"Since the house wall on the new imaginary property line has no windows, and the lot if fully fenced, complete privacy of each homeowner is assured. The creative side yard concept continues from lot to lot throughout the home-site, with the exception of certain corner lots, special lots, or cul-de-sac lots."

MOST Landmark Home plans offer three car garages. One plan includes an unfinished area on the second level called the "imagination room." That room can be used as the homebuyer desires, whether it be extra bedrooms or a study and work room. It may be finished whenever the family feels the need

The new Pat Nixon Park (where the city of Cerritos has preserved the First Lady's childhood home) is only one block from the Landmark homesite, as is Carver Elementary School.

L.B. Chamber Delegate Dispatched to Trade Assembly

By ROBERT BECKMAN
Business-Real Estate Editor

The Long Beach Chamber of Commerce has a discerning eye to the future.

Last week, Chamber President Roy L. Anderson announced the assigning of a Long Beach representative to next week's general assembly of the World Trade Centers Association in Tokyo.

He is Revan D. Komaroff, president of PME International, 3645 Long Beach Blvd., an export company. (Komaroff also authors the Trade Tips column which appears in this section.)

Komaroff, a Chamber director and project chairman of the organization's recent trade mission to the Orient, will participate in discussions with representatives of major port cities of the world.

Under discussion will be the planning, development and operation of world trade centers.

In announcing Komaroff's attendance at the WTCA assembly, Anderson revealed the Chamber's executive council has endorsed the concept of a world trade center for Long Beach.

"An important part of the Tokyo conference will be devoted to sessions on ways world trade centers can assist each other in programs aimed at increasing international trade," Anderson said.

Anderson also said the Long Beach Chamber has applied for affiliate membership in the world association.

The Chamber's interest in a trade center for Long Beach was strengthened in March when former president H. G. Hanawalt, accompanied by Robert W. Westmyer, a Chamber director, and Ernest LaBelle, executive vice president, met in Tokyo with Gaku Matsumoto, president of the World Trade Center of Japan.

Their host, in a 90-minute session, carefully explained the advantages of port cities coming into the association.

Matsumoto is regarded as a major influence in the WTCA, launched two years ago at a meeting in New Orleans of 70 delegates from seven nations.

Guy F. Tozzoli, director of the Port of New York Authority, is executive director of the association.

In a recent letter to the Long Beach Chamber, Tozzoli said a major association goal is the establishment of computerized communication links among trade centers to facilitate easy interchange of messages and data and to facilitate business contacts by international businessmen.

Apparently, Long Beach is listening — carefully.

Nine out of ten American families say they are being affected by inflation.

One of the most urgent problems facing the nation today, inflation is causing eight out of 10 families to modify their buying habits.

These are among the findings uncovered in a nationwide survey of 6,300 households across the country undertaken by Warwick & Legler, Inc., New York advertising agency. Survey respondents revealed how inflation is affecting their lives, what they consider to be the causes of inflation and what they are doing to combat its effects.

Among the other highlights of the survey: (1) One out of six U. S. families report "real hardships"; (2) Three major causes of inflation, in this order, according to respondents, are high government spending, labor Union wage demands and the Vietnam war.

Almost nine out of 10 believe the government could do more to combat inflation.

Almost half — 49 per cent — believe controls are the best way to combat further shrinking of the dollar (wage and price controls, and limit profits).

Generally, buying habits are affecting purchases by (1) Shifting to cheaper items and private labels, (2) Postponing of purchases, and (3) Doing without.

High government spending was viewed as the major contributor to inflation by 30 per cent of those who responded to the combination check-off and open-end survey. Wage demands (24 per cent) and the Vietnam War (21 per cent) were the other two principal causes reported by respondents.

Wage and price controls are most mentioned by 40 per cent of the respondents as the one best way to control inflation. Along with limiting profits, mentioned by 9 per cent, almost half the sample say they think controls are the best way to deal with the problem.

Respondents were asked to describe how inflation has affected their purchases in nine product categories: foods, drugs, appliances, liquor, beer, clothing, toiletries and cosmetics, detergents, personal soap.

Sol Katz, senior vice president in charge of research and marketing for the agency, who designed the survey, described how consumers are modifying their buying habits in each category. Respondents' replies were broken down into three alternatives: no effect, selective shopping, and deprivation.

"In the category of food, household income is critical in a family's reaction to inflation," Katz said. "The highest incidence of continued use of national brands is concentrated in the $15,000 and over level. At the other end of the spectrum, $5,000 and under, 31 per cent — the largest such incidence — report that they do without."

The middle income groups are switching to private labels. Food is the largest category to do so. As a daily use and necessity it appears to be one of the major ways to save," he said.

"Age is another key factor in determining how respondents are modifying their purchases of food. We find more older households continuing to buy national brands as previously and also using less food in general," he said.

Drug purchases do not appear to be as affected by inflation, undoubtedly due to the nature of the product category and the fact there are fewer alternatives. The higher income families continue to purchase national brands at a greater rate than the under $5,000 income households. But in all cases, there is a noticeable lack of switching to private label drugs, he said.

Inflation has affected appliance purchases by making them a postponable item or a sales purchase. Only the over $15,000 income category appears to be less affected as 20 per cent report no modification of buying habits.

The impact of inflation on the purchase of beer and liquor is about the same. The most common response seems to be less use. Decrease in consumption is reported most often in households with incomes of $5,000 to $10,000.

Clothing appears to be a postponable item as a means of combating inflation. Income again plays an important part in determining how the different population segments are reacting.

Relatively, the under $5,000 households do without more. The $15,000 income households are more apt to wait for sales, a luxury lower incomes apparently cannot afford. By age, it is the over-50 households who are doing without to a greater extent.

Half the people surveyed buy toiletries and cosmetics more selectively. Interestingly, buying nationally advertised brands only when they are on sale is observed more frequently among high than among low income respondents.

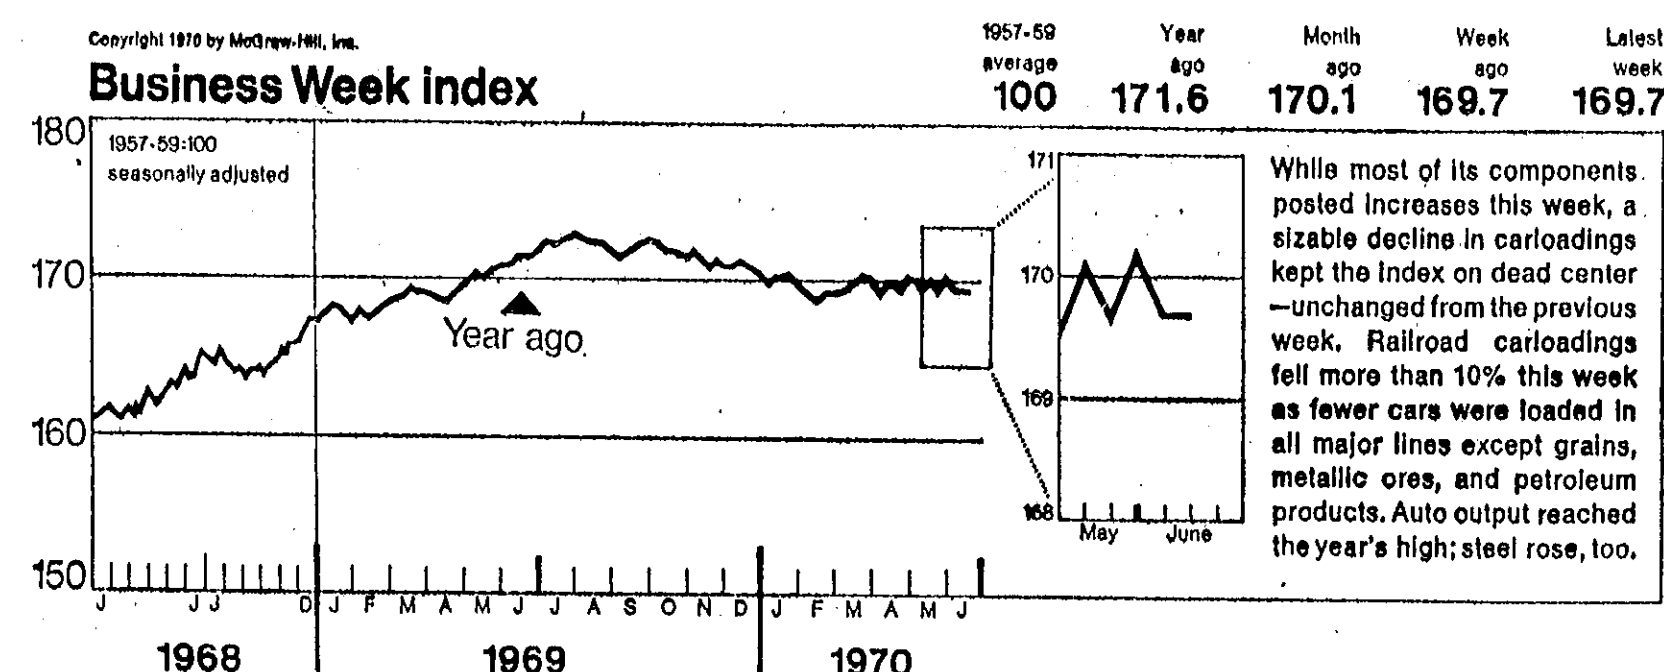

Soap and detergents (70 per cent, along with food, are the items most subject to selective shopping; that is, consumers wait for sales or switch to cheaper brands. Even among the more affluent, over $15,000 incomes, 60 per cent are looking to save when buying detergents.

Of all the nine household items covered by the survey, personal soap appears to be the least affected by inflation, as 33 per cent report no effect on the purchase of this item.

Katz noted that inflation has been particularly severe for one of every six households who report that with today's prices they cannot make ends meet.

To a lesser or greater extent, 93 per cent of U.S. households are being affected by the diminishing value of our currency, according to the survey. "Only a fortunate 7 per cent claim no effect on their way of life," said Katz.

Auto Output Tops Week-Ago Figure

The index held steady at the week ago level, despite gains in auto production and steel output.

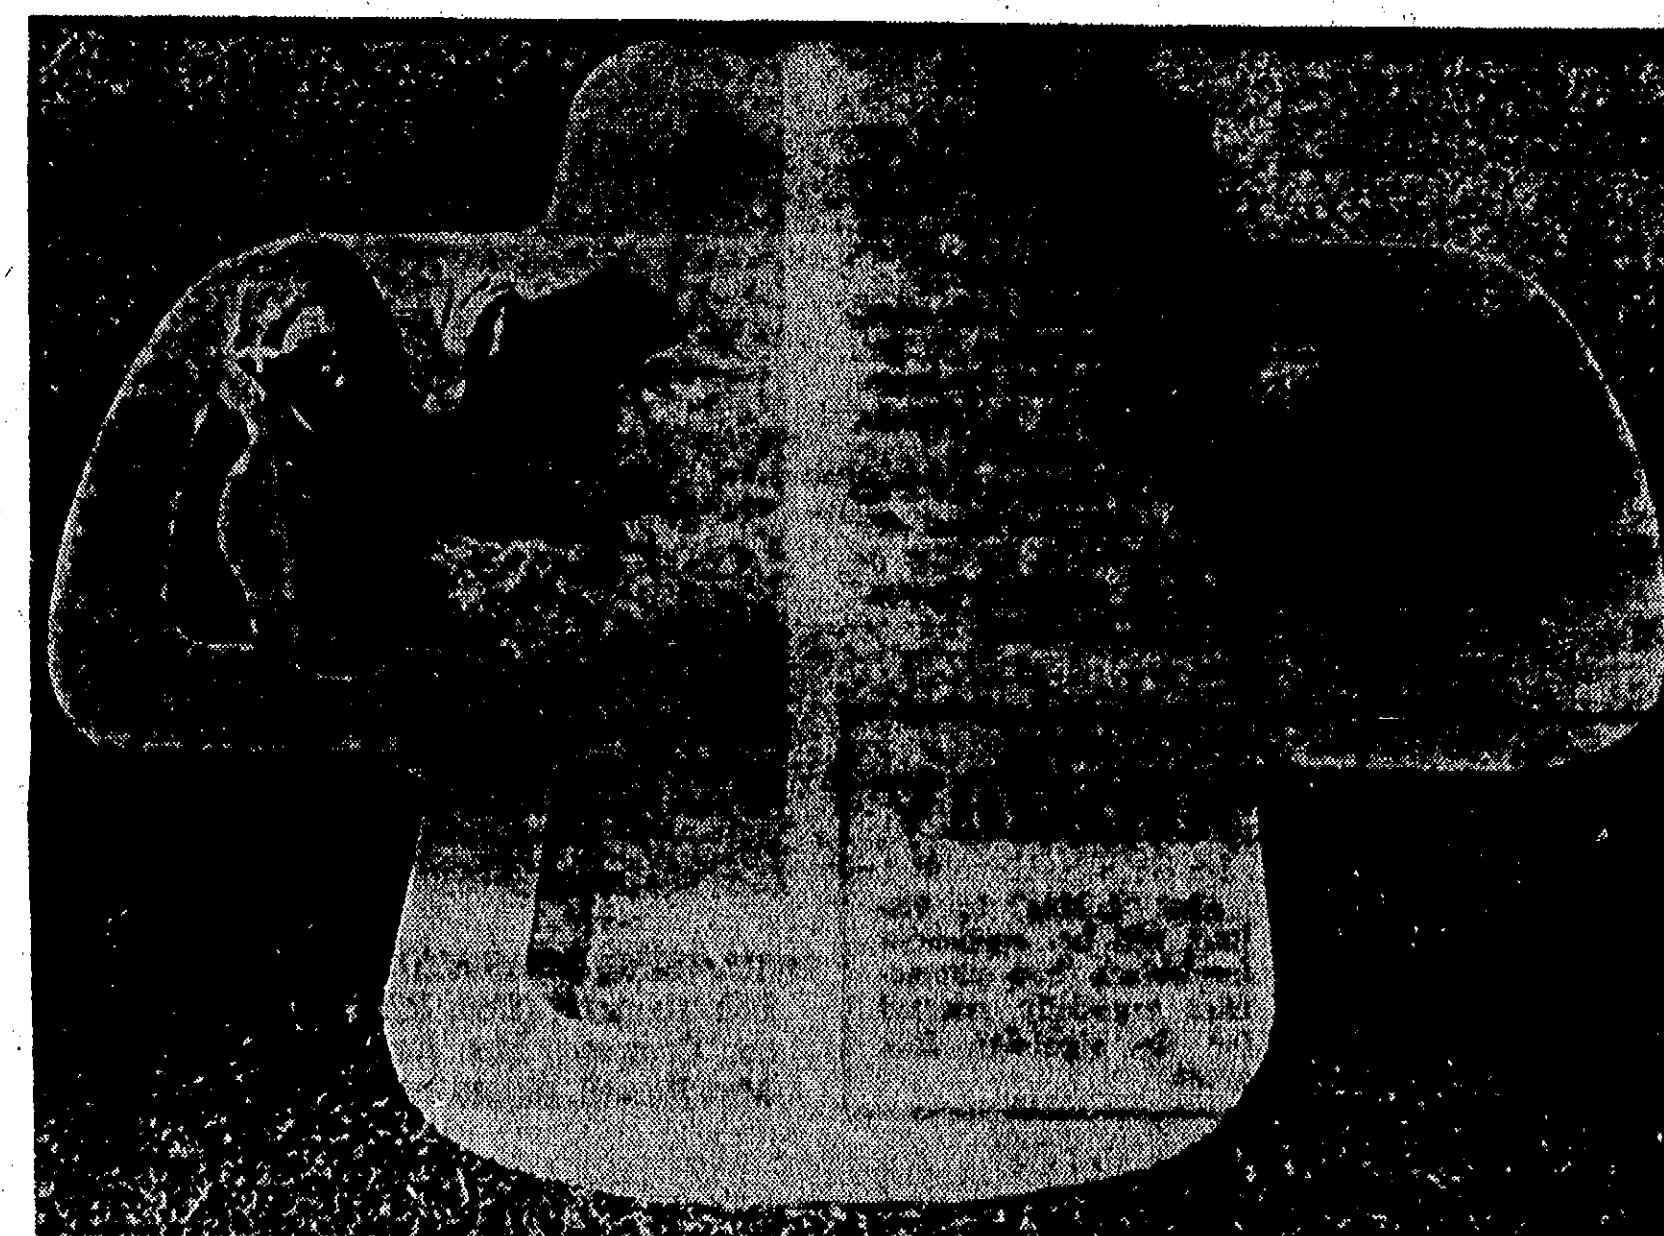

Auto output, topped the week-ago figure by 3.0 per cent and the year ago figure by 2.6 per cent. General Motors, enjoying a 5 per cent sales increase in early June, and Ford Motor Company scheduled Saturday overtime in the current week.

Steel output inched 1.2 per cent in the current week. Steelmakers predict that output will fluctuate and lean toward the downward side for the remainder of the summer.

Crude oil refinery runs rose 3.7 per cent, reflecting gains in motor gasoline output. Electric power output rose 1.9 per cent.

Miscellaneous carloadings dropped 12.6 per cent, due, in part, to an 8.1 per cent drop in stone, clay, and glass products. All other carloadings went down 9.5 per cent, while intercity truck tonnage gained 6.9 per cent. Paperboard production increased 4.4 per cent.

Medevco Opens Sixth Health Care Facility

Medevco has opened its sixth health care facility — the $1,500,000, 186-bed Willow Lake Convalescent Hospital in Long Beach — representing the first step in a sharply accelerated construction and development program.

President William C. Kallepp revealed that Medevco, which "went public" last February, will have 1300 beds in 13 locations either completed or under construction by the end of 1970.

The seven-year-old company was a pioneer in developing private facilities for retarded children in California.

IT OPERATES Intercommunity Exceptional

Vons Buena Park Now in Business

Vons, one of the oldest West Coast food chains, opened its newest store Wednesday.

The new Vons is located at 4560 Beach Blvd., at Rossmore, in the Bellehurst Shopping Center, in Buena Park.

Vons Buena Park, which exceeds 25,600 square feet, was opened to the public following traditional ribbon cutting ceremonies in which civic dignitaries and business officials participated.

Vons Buena Park is the fifth market opened by Vons in 1970. It is the last word in architectural design and features the newest, most modern merchandising techniques for customer convenience and service.

THE MARKET boasts attractive color schemes and decor. Venetian terrazzo floors are seen throughout. Interior colors are gay and vibrant. Soft music from hidden speakers, the harmoniously decorated interior and scientifically cooled air, all help make shopping more pleasant.

A large wall directory may be seen and read from any point in the store and the wide aisles keep the flow of traffic moving smoothly.

Vons frozen food section stretches 548 feet while Vons' meat is displayed on a 76-foot-long self-service counter.

The scientific store layout provides the customer with a vast selection of food items on easy-to-reach display racks which facilitate fast, convenient shopping.

A self-service liquor department, air curtain dairy and a barbecue machine are also included in the new store.

THE STORE also features a customer convenience center which handles check cashing, money orders and utility bill payment service.

The Pinto, a new small car to be introduced by Ford Motor Company in North America this fall, will be a "better car in many ways" because of contributions of the company's European subsidiaries, Henry Ford II said in a speech at Copenhagen, Denmark.

In a speech before the Copenhagen Junior Chamber as an example of how a multi-national company such as Ford can use its breadth of experience and competence to benefit the consumer.

One thing that will make the Pinto a better car, he said, is "our long experience in building small cars in Europe.

"Some of that experience will reach America in the form of engines and other components built in our European plants; some in the form of ideas and methods. Either way, our customers will benefit because we are a multi-national corporation," he added.

Ford said that on an even broader scale, the company is an effective instrument for improving understanding and cooperation among nations, in part because it can help meet one of the great challenges facing the world today — that of "keeping nationalism in its place."

"Unrestrained nationalism is a threat to economic development, to world peace and to the newly recognized need to halt the deterioration of our national environment," he asserted. "I believe that the multi-national corporation can make an important contribution to effective international cooperation in each of these areas."

Ford said that "in the area of economic development, the role of the multi-national corporation can hardly be questioned."

"Business operations on a multi-national scale provide larger markets and more efficient use of capital," he said. "They permit adequate support for research and development, and ready transfer of technology from one country to another."

FORD SAID MULTI-NATIONAL operations also offer an advantage that has little to do with the size of markets or companies.

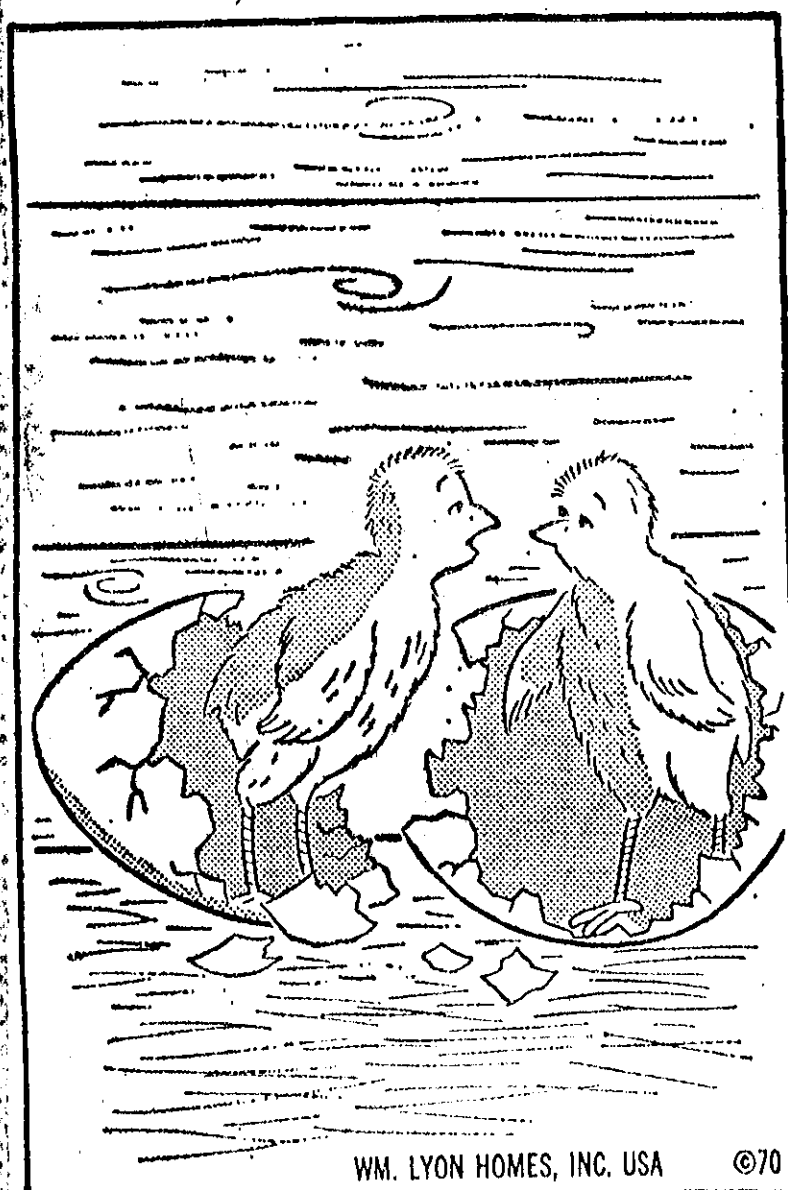

The mixing of people with different cultures and ways of thinking and tackling problems has a stimulating and liberating effect on the mind," he said. "The shock of recognizing that the familiar way is not the only way or the best way is conducive to flexibility and innovation. The multi-national corporation is therefore an extremely effective instrument for rapid dispersion of new ideas, methods and technology."

The multi-national corporation also has a helpful role in promoting peaceful relations among nations, Ford said.

"International trade does not make war impossible," he explained. "But it does make it less likely. It was no accident that World War II came at the end of a decade in which international trading relations had been disrupted by depression, the collapse of international monetary arrangements and prohibitive tariff increases. As has often been noted, the interweaving of Western Europe's economies since World War II has now made it unthinkable, for the first time in history, that any country in the west could make war on another."

COLLEGE PARK HOMES . . . Are Keyed To Spaciousness

Park Newport Opens Today

(Continued on Page 6) Convenience shopping within Park Newport itself will include a beauty salon, dry cleaner and a full-line market to be installed by the El Rancho chain. Additional shops are currently being leased. And more than 50 stores at Fashion Island are within walking distance of Park Newport.

ARCHITECTS for the project are an association of two firms, M. Arthur Gensler Jr. and Associates and Karl Treffinger and Associates. Consulting architects are the firm of Wurster, Bernardi and Emmons, who also designed the Spa and Leasing Information Center with its model apartments, convenience shopping and dramatic 60 foot clock tower.

The clock tower contains a kinetic sculpture which will combine sound and motion to announce the passing of the hours at Park Newport.

It was designed by Aristides Demetrios, the San Francisco artist whose sculptures at Fashion Island are well known to Newport Beach residents.

Landscaping at Park Newport is designed by Lawrence Halprin.

The interiors of the Spa, Leasing Information Center and the lobbies and halls of each individual apartment complex are the work of international designer Gere Kavanaugh.

PARK NEWPORT is located within the world's largest master planned community, Irvine, 35,000 acres extending from the mountains to the sea, fills a unique role in the master plan, according to William R. Mason, president of the Irvine Company.

"In planning for Irvine's 'cities of tomorrow,' we have placed great importance on creating a beautiful environment for people, with the human element a keynote in all of our architecture, landscape and land utilization designs.

"For the new urban center, oriented around the Newport Center Financial Plaza, we wanted an apartment development which would be an asset to the entire area.

"Not only would it provide luxurious in-town living to its residents, but also become a social center and a vital contributor to the community at large.

"The achievements of Gerson Bakar and his organization in the creation of 'total environment' apartment communities are recognized by developers everywhere. Such a concept, we felt, was right for Irvine. Park Newport is the result, and it is all that we hoped for."

Total financing for the $20 million project is by the Travelers Insurance Company, arranged by the Allison Company, exclusive Southern California mortgage loan correspondents for Travelers. Construction financing is by the Bank of America.

PARK NEWPORT is reached from Los Angeles

by taking the San Diego or Santa Ana Freeways to the Newport Freeway, turning south to Palisades Road then left (east to Jamboree Road and right (south) to Park Newport.

Or, from Pacific Coast Highway, turn north on Jamboree Road where it intersects the highway at the Irvine Coast Country Club, in Newport Beach.

Visitors to Park Newport on this opening weekend will be taken through the project with guided tours from 11:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.

Subsequently, Park Newport will be open six days a week from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m., Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., with visitors requested to enter through the Leasing Information Center.

Five Homes Remain in Country Estates 1st Unit

Only five homes are left in the first unit at the Buccola Co.'s Country Estates in Orange, and George Buccola, president, warned buyers that prices in the second unit definitely will go up.

"Not only will buyers save on the price of a home if they buy now, but the savings in interest is something to consider also," Buccola said.

"The interest rate that we can offer Country Estates homebuyers is lower than the rate paid by large corporations," Buccola noted, emphasizing how many thousands of dollars will be saved by purchasing now.

"As an added bonus, we are also including a special landscaping package with the purchase of these last five homes, so the savings will be considerable."

COUNTRY Estates is a walled community of 100 homes, situated in the rural foothills, priced at $31,350. There are three and four-bedroom models in a variety of exterior designs and the homes feature all of the amenities usually found only on more expensive dwellings.

"We have included items like wet bars, separate living, dining and family rooms, large two and three car garages and best of all — huge lots with spacious living areas," Buccola said.

Each lot has a minimum of 80 feet across the front and some are larger.

TO DATE, nearly $1 million in sales at Country Estates have been recorded, with families eagerly awaiting life only minutes from the city, with all of the advantages of the country, including miles of riding trails and boarding and rental stables practically next door.

Also nearby, for those oriented to recreation, is a public nine-hole golf course and the new Lake Irvine, with its boating and fishing facilities. Newport-Balboa, with its myriad of activities is also a short drive from Country Estates.

Schools, from elementary through high school and college are also within the Country Estates area, including the Irvine campus of the University of California.

COMMUTERS can pick up the Newport-Riverside Freeway and be anywhere within Orange County in minutes, while they leave behind a "home in the country."

To see these well-built homes which are not expected to remain for much longer at the price, take the Katella or Chapman offramp of the Newport-Riverside Freeway and follow the signs east to the site.

Furnished models are open daily from 10 a.m. until dusk and there is VA, FHA and conventional financing available.

Parsons in Taipei Contract

The Ralph M. Parsons Company of Los Angeles has been selected by the Civil Aeronautics Administration of the Republic of China to prepare a master plan and first stage preliminary designs for the new Taipei International Airport in Taiwan.

Work on the $517,730 contract is slated to be completed within approximately 34 weeks.

The master plan will recommend an airport capable of handling all international air passengers and cargo in the Taipei area through the year 2000. Stage one development covers the period through 1980.

Air operations on the new facility, which will be located within and adjacent to the present Taoyuan Military Air Base, are planned to begin by the end of 1974.

PORTS O'PROGRESS

By JACK O. BALDWIN
Marine Editor

ISTHMUS, CATALINA ISLAND — The tight money market and a yo-yo stock market has put into limbo plans of the Bechtel Corp. to develop an instant city of 5,000 at this popular boaters gathering place.

Doug Bombard, manager of the Catalina Cove and Camp Agency, says there is little likelihood visitors to the Two Harbors area will see any new construction going on this season.

He indicated there would be new facilities available by 1971 and said they would be described as soon as present plans are finalized.

However, available this summer season for the first time are overnight accommodations for visitors who would like to stay at the Isthmus but have no boats on which they could sleep.

THE FORMER BANNING RANCH house used as a hunting lodge during the winter and as a girl's camp during the summer has been converted to a ranch-style inn.

The inn, with a spectacular view of both harbors can accommodate up to 2 couples in separate rooms. There are extra beds in each room for children, mothers-in-law, etc.

Another new facility announced by Bombard is the installation of a new fuel dock at the pier in Wells Beach in Catalina Harbor. In the past it was often necessary for pleasure boaters to lug five gallon cans of gas across the half-mile roadway that links the two harbors.

BACK ON THIS SIDE of the San Pedro Channel the Los Angeles Harbor Department has been congratulated for its efforts to improve the quality of the waters of the harbor.

Charles F. Crawford, president of the San Pedro Chapter of the Izaak Walton League of America and until his recent retirement dean of the harbor area press corps, wrote the Board of Harbor Commissioners:

"To the best of our knowledge Los Angeles Harbor is the first major port in the United States to upgrade the quality of harbor waters to any substantial degree."

"Our surveys and observations have indicated that former polluted areas of the port have made such rapid changes that the port's waters are once again suitable for fish habitat. Truly a remarkable change has taken place," Crawford wrote.

Lusk Co. Appoints Executives

Appointment of two key executives for the 351-acre Huntington Beach Industrial Park has been announced by John D. Lusk, chairman of John D. Lusk & Son, developer of the complex adjacent to the McDonnell Douglas space facility in Huntington Beach.

David Young, 54, has been named director of operations, with William D. Beaver, 42, assuming duties as director of sales.

Young, who operated his own building firm for more than 20 years, was vice president-operations for Deane Bros. prior to joining the Lusk firm.

A CIVIL engineering graduate of the University of Texas, he resides in Emerald Bay.

Beaver, a Southern California native, previously was associated with the Santa Fe Railroad, serving as sales manager for Central Manufacturing District, Inc.

A Whittier resident, his 14-year association with Santa Fe encompassed locating industry in existing facilities in the CMD and sales of company-owned land for industrial purposes.

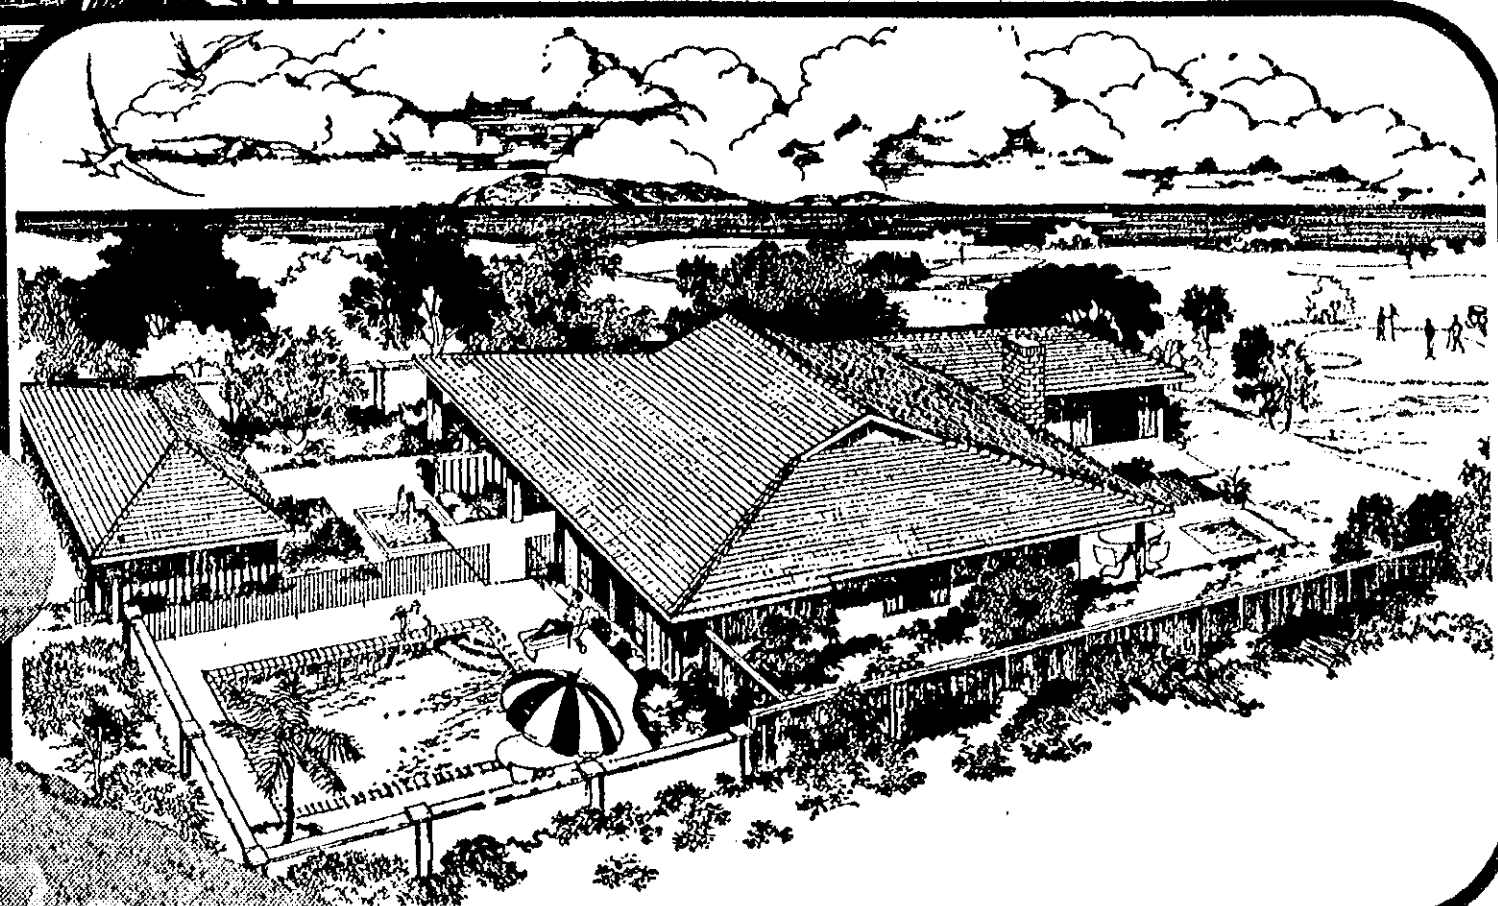

Anywhere else, he pointed out, the customer would be required to open three separate accounts with a minimum initial deposit of $1500 and could add to them only in increments of at least $100.

The UCB depositor needs only $500 to open a 3 in 1 passbook, and there is no minimum on additional deposits.

Plan for Saving at UCB New

A unique savings instrument, combining three types of savings plans into a single passbook, has been introduced at United California Bank's Long Beach Main office and at 227 other UCB branches throughout the state, it was announced by D. E. Thompson, vice president and manager of the Long Beach Main office.

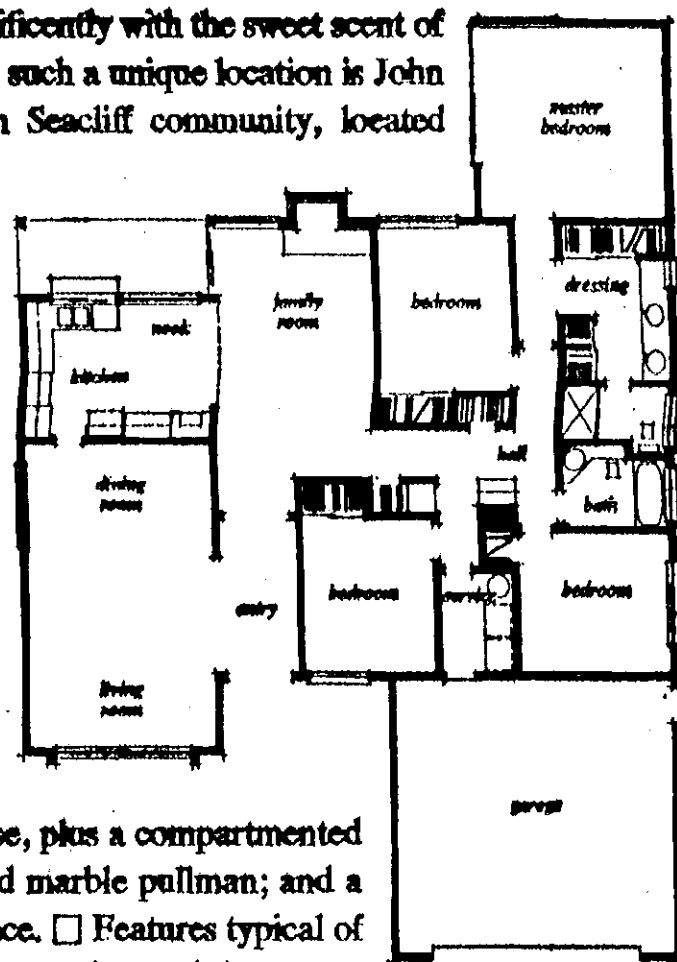

Thompson said the innovative account, called the 3 in 1 passbook, incorporates some of the basic features of the bank's current savings plans paying 4 per cent on a 90-day maturity, 5½ per cent on a one-year maturity, and 5½ percent on a two-year ma-

The "California courtyard" concept ensures total privacy — and the interior is equally inspiring, with extravagant expanses of glass; a master suite with a heartwarming view of the garden or golf course, plus a compartmented bath with 'his and hers' cultured marble pullman; and a covered outdoor breakfast terrace. □ Features typical of Lusk quality include premium carpeting and decorator-selected draperies throughout the house, polished plate glass mirrors, continuous-cleaning double ovens, deluxe medicine cabinets with 'childsafe' lockable compartments, cast iron bath tubs, bonus rooms with optional completion plans, side and/or rear yard fencing, detached three-car garages with automatic door openers, generous roof overhangs, and concrete driveways.

World-famous surfing is ¾ of a mile away, off the Huntington Beach Strand, which has been extravagantly beautified this year as part of a multi-million dollar environmental improvement plan. Special beach parking passes are available to Huntington Seacliff residents.

YORKTOWNE HOMES... Feature Fireplaces, Complete Built-Ins

Young Families Admire Yorktowne Community

When young families start out to purchase a new home, they are usually in a precarious position financially, and wind up with something they did not really want, because it did not fit their budget.

Invariably, the house is either too big or too small, or in a place inconvenient to them.

However, at Yorktowne in Huntington Beach a planned community built by the Shields Development Co., there are ideal homes for every family to fit every need.

One of the most popular of these is the two-bedroom, two-bath model, which has been admired by both young and old families alike.

Designed in a distinctively Colonial flavor, these homes are rather spacious, with large kitchens, a family room and luxurious living rooms. As with all of the Yorktowne homes, these two-bedroom homes have brick fireplaces and complete built-in appliances in the kitchen.

"WE HAVE found that young families just starting out and older couples whose children have married really fall in love with the house," commented Dick Kurth, of Kurth & Associates, sales agents for the development.

In order to make the purchase of these homes even easier, there is FHA, VA and conventional financing being made available, as well, Kurth noted.

"Even though we think this two bedroom model is fine, we do not want to discourage anyone with plans for the future from buying. It is made so that it can be expanded when the need arises," he added.

At the other end of the

Apartment Loan Is Recorded

A $780,000 mortgage loan by Monumental Life Insurance has been recorded for a 92-unit garden apartment at 19322 Tustin East Drive, Tustin.

Wallace Moir Company, Beverly Hills mortgage broker, handled the arrangements for the lender and the borrower, Tustin-East, a limited partnership of Fred C. Cunningham and Homer E. Lindley.

The complex consists of 11 buildings with 68 one-bedroom and 24 two-bedroom apartments. First floor units have private patios. Upper floors have private balconies. All units are air conditioned, and kitchens have built-ins with dishwashers.

Amenities include a swimming pool with cabana, a lounge room with small bar, and barbecue fireplaces at several locations in the 143,000 square foot complex. The property is near the Santa Ana-Newport Freeway interchange, and is close to regional shopping centers and the Irvine Industrial scale is the four bedroom Yorktowne model which is a two-story home.

"We feel that having such a wide range of homes, we get a larger cross-section of people and this is what really makes a community," Kurth noted.

ANOTHER popular Shields feature is the "turn-key" package, which allows homeowners to move into a home which is already carpeted, draped and has rear yard fencing, and a decorator tree in the front lawn.

Added to this is the free decorator service provided by the builder to help busy homeowners to choose the proper colors and fabrics for their home.

Yorktowne also is ideal because of its location only a few minutes from Huntington State Beach and the San Diego Freeway, linking it with every part of the Southland.

For other forms of recreation, there is Mile Square Park, a county facility with an 18-hole public golf course only five minutes away. Projections also show that the park will eventually contain hundreds of acres of picnic and other fun-type acres.

To see the furnished Yorktowne models which are open daily from 10 a.m. until dusk, take the Garden Grove, Santa Ana or San Diego Freeway south on Brookhurst to Yorktown, then right to the sales office.

Newest Landmark Community Opens in Cerritos

A junior high and high school are within a mile of the homes. The recently completed Artesia Freeway and the San Gabriel Freeway (605) are within two miles of the homes. Forced air heating, fireplaces, acoustical ceilings and built-in television antennas are included in all plans. Also included are rear yard fencing and patio kitchens with built-in range, hood, fan oven, disposal and dishwasher.

SLIGHTLY larger homes are being sold by Signal Landmark in the nearby city of La Palma, on Walker St. between La Palma and Orangeflower avenues.

The homes there, priced from $32,875 to $34,125, have up to five bedrooms and three baths. The Walker Street homes are just a mile away from the Cerritos development, and information on them may be obtained from the South Street information center.

The Cerritos development by Signal Landmark, Inc., one of the Signal Companies of Los Angeles, is a private walled community with underground utilities.

TO REACH the new Landmark Homes model area from the San Gabriel Freeway, take the South Street exit east. From the Norwalk Boulevard exit south to South Street; then left to the five model homes.

Signal Landmark, Inc. is currently involved in the construction of residential communities in Orange, Huntington Beach, Northridge Garden Grove and Westlake.

Information on any Landmark community may be obtained by writing to the Director of Marketing, Signal Landmark, Inc., 1538 No Century Blvd., Santa Ana, Calif. 92703.

Ghera Elected Chairman of Skaggs Pay Less Drug

At the board of director's meeting, held in Oakland, William L. Ghera, 57, was elected chairman of the board of Skaggs Pay Less Drug Stores, Oakland-based retail chain.

Ghera has been president and chief executive officer of the firm since 1964 and will continue in that capacity.

Effective date for both new offices is July 1.

L. J. Skaggs, 72, who steps down as chairman of the board, is the founder, opening one of the West's first self-service drug stores in Tacoma in 1932 with the merchandising philosophy that strong customer loyalty could be built by offering quality products at reasonable prices.

IN 1937 Pay Less opened its first California store in Sacramento. Shortly after, the decision was made to continue further expansion within the Golden State, and the out-of-state stores were sold.

Ghera, 26 years with Pay Less, started as advertising manager, moved into merchandising and, in 1950, was appointed manager of the block-square

Pay Less Drug Store in downtown Oakland.

Since 1961, when Ghera became vice president and general manager of the chain, he has been responsible for the phenomenal growth of the firm.

UPON taking over as general manager, Pay Less operated a total of 10 stores throughout California — 29 are now in operation with three new units under construction in the cities of Cupertino, Fresno and San Diego, as well as a new corporate office building in the Industrial Park of the Port of Oakland.

Regarding the changes,

W. L. GHERRA

Skaggs stated: "I can look back on the development of the Skaggs Pay Less Drug Stores with deep satisfaction and justifiable pride. We have built a unique and outstanding

Hooked on Home Ownership Makes It Difficult to Shake

By DON CAMPBELL

"The message is hammered into our heads from the minute we enter the labor force until we creep into our graves: 'Own your own home!'"

And, for the most part, the arguments in favor of this are perfectly logical—home ownership, indeed, is "one of the best investments a family can make," "if not in financial terms then, at least, in an aesthetic sense."

But there's one uncomfortable aspect in all this pressure from a purely psychological point of view. We tend to get so thoroughly "hooked" on the subject of home ownership, that is, that it becomes difficult, if not impossible to shake it.

MR. CAMPBELL:

My husband is 60 years old, and retired from a government job since Nov.

1, 1969. I am 49½ years old, retired on a medical disability. We both receive pensions which add up to approximately $7,600 annually.

With the children through college, we sold our home in the southwest and realized a nice profit. Because of my disability and his age we had to decide to put our nest egg into Treasury bonds and to rent an apartment and forget home ownership.

We did just that. But, we both read the ads and get all fired up when we see a small house for sale. Nothing we see is purchaseable because prices are so high. Also, I like the idea of the nest egg.

We spend $165 monthly for rent. This includes everything except electricity. We have a lovely two-bedroom, two-bath apartment, pool, laundry room, etc., and lovely tenants in the complex. We spend approximately $120 monthly for food; $30 monthly on automobile and auto insurance, etc. We have personal life insurance, health insurance and a plan for small savings. We get by.

I can't see why we don't forget buying a house. We are comfortable here. Did we do wrong to rent such a costly apartment? We have been told that we are extravagant spending so much on rent.

We love California, the climate, the people, the proximity to the ocean. Are we pampering ourselves too early? I say: "It's later than you think."

Please help us. We think we are settled, but daily we are assaulted verbally to imprudence on our part. Incidentally, our children think we are right. Our advisors are outsiders.—Mrs. H.J.B.

ANSWER: Good grief! Isn't it amazing how many people dedicate their lives to meddling in affairs that are none of their business? For all of its desirability in most respects, homeowner isn't everhome's bag and, with the health and age problems that you have, the situation you now so obviously enjoy seems perfect for you. What you are doing is not "extravagant"—you are paying a little less than one-fourth your monthly income on rent, have a nice nest egg and are laying a little aside in the form of liquid savings. So what's the problem?

I suggest that you hint to your self-appointed advisors to butt out and stop muddying the waters. You're doing fine.

(Campbell welcomes letters. He is unable to enter into personal correspondence, but will attempt to answer as many letters as possible through his column.)

(Released by The Register and Tribune Syndicate, 1970)

McDonald's at 6 Billion

The McDonald's Restaurant chain announced this week its outlets have served over six billion hamburgers. That many hamburgers is hard to comprehend or visualize; in fact, it's 30 for every U.S. citizen in only 15 years.

Starting with one outlet in Southern California in 1954, McDonald's has multiplied to its present 1,400 restaurants across America serving 3.5 million hamburgers daily.

Preview Showing Today at Cerritos Village Models

A special preview showing of the latest Buccola-built homes will take place this Sunday at Cerritos Village on Norwalk Boulevard and 195th Street in Cerritos.

Cerritos Village is a community of one and two-story homes with three and four bedrooms built by George D. Buccola, of Newport Beach, and priced from $29,995.

"We haven't quite put all of the finishing touches on, but we wanted to allow the public to come in and see these homes," said Buccola, president of the company.

"All of the luxury touches families liked on our other homes we have incorporated here, as well as the same fine quality construction I have always included," he added.

THERE are four furnished Cerritos Village models located in an area convenient to almost anywhere in Southern California because of the proximity to two freeways.

The community of Cerritos Village is east of the San Gabriel River (605) Artesia Freeway, making commuting to anywhere in Orange or Los Angeles Counties simple.

Among some of the outstanding features included on these homes which can be purchased with FHA or VA financing, are step-down living rooms, wall-to-wall carpeting, rear yard fencing, cathedral ceilings and all homes are ducted for air conditioning.

The kitchens are all electric and some complete with built-in ranges and double ovens, dishwashers, laminated plastic counters and natural wood cabinets. For extra convenience, there are both gas and 220-volt outlets for washing and drying in the service areas of every home.

CUSTOM fireplaces are part of each home, as well, and concrete driveways are a part of every Cerritos Village home.

There are a total of 12 exterior designs to choose from, all in a contemporary or Mediterranean motif.

The preview, which will begin this weekend, can be reached by taking the San Gabriel River Freeway north to the Artesia Freeway east to Norwalk Boulevard, then south to 195th Street.

The furnished models are open daily from 10 a.m. until dusk.

First Casa del Amo Units Ready for Move-In

Construction on the first unit of Casa del Amo in Cerritos are completed and ready for occupancy now that schools are out for the summer, according to a Walker & Lee Real Estate representative.

Many families find that June is the most convenient time to move. Several more of the 53 first unit Casa del Amo homes are set to be completed next week.

Casa del Amo, a $6½ million project, has new homes of one and two-story designs within its private walled boundaries on Bloomfield Avenue, one block north of Del Amo Boulevard, in Cerritos.

The three and four bedroom homes begin at $27,990 with VA, FHA and conventional terms. Some 12 different architectural styles, from contemporary Californian to Spanish, are available.

DIRECTLY across the street from the entrance is the site for a proposed 80-acre city park.

Preliminary plans call for the park to include football and baseball fields playgrounds, a wading pool, covered pavilion, picnic grounds and tables, numerous parking areas and convenient restroom stations.

Included in the purchase price are continuous filament nylon carpeting gas log lighter fireplaces, luminous ceilings, marble topped pullmans, cathedral ceilings, rear yard fencing and concrete driveways

ALSO featured are wood, shingle and shake roofs and built-in oven-range, dishwasher and disposal. The entire ceiling area is insulated and rear yards have electrical outlets for convenience in patio entertainment.

The living room of the Cortez has a cathedral ceiling with large exposed beams. The entry way is finished in a stepping stone effect, created by the use of both tile and carpeting.

11 HOURS FOR BUILDING

New Firm Has 'Un-System System'

Sidewalk superintendents never had it so good. When NAFAB, Inc. of Santa Ana erected the temporary Orange County Airport branch of Security Pacific National Bank in Irvine Industrial Complex, the job took just 11 hours from start to finish.

Onlookers commuting along MacArthur Boulevard, one recent morning, watched the first stages of construction and probably returned home that evening as the finishing touches were applied to the structure at 2050 Michelson Drive, Newport Beach. Such are the accomplishments of NAFAB, Inc., a new company which manufactures modular systems buildings. The firm is located at 1317 Santiago Ave., Santa Ana.

Security Pacific National's Airport Branch opened for business May 4. The building will be dismantled when the permanent structure has been completed. The temporary facilities now stand on the parking lot of the bank's future five story office building.

SPEED In construction is only one of the advantages offered by NAFAB. Variety and style rival that of the leading conventional builders, which cannot match the quick convenience of operation provided by the modular construction firm, usually 30 days from approval of plans to move-in.

When Ronald V. Nation, president of NAFAB, founded the new company he wanted to break away from previous approaches to modular systems building. He wanted to get away from the assembly line look, away from the appearance of mass-produced boxes.

In the past, modular construction practices were based purely upon systems manufacturing experience, which resulted in a lack of aesthetic and architectural imagination.

A fourth generation builder, Nation feels that manufacturing systems buildings should be done on a custom basis, approaching the finished product through the eyes of both the architect and the conventional builder.

Nation calls his innovating style the "un-system system" — the planning, designing, programming, manufacturing, scheduling and erecting of on-site banks, schools, offices, motels, hospitals, nursing homes and other commercial structures.

NAFAB manufactures the 10x10x30-foot modules complete with everything needed, including wiring, lighting, ducting, heating, air-conditioning, and plumbing. One truck carries 3,000 square feet of modules to the building site.

Then NACON takes over. NACON is the construction arm of the three Nation Companies. The third arm is NALASE, which offers an assured leasing plan for the client and eliminates the need for capital expenditures.

Nation's current projects include six branch banks (one on the Miracle Mile in Beverly Hills) and several school structures.

Offer Builders Profit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — With conventional housing in a prolonged slump, many of the nation's home builders are turning to the development of mobile home parks as a profitable sideline.

The National Association of Home Builders, the nation's largest trade association, said it has been bombarded by questions from its members about the techniques of mobile home park development.

Panel discussions on mobile homes have topped the attendance list at association conferences.

The Nixon administration predicts that about 475,000 mobile homes will be manufactured during the fiscal year beginning July 1. That compares with the 1.06 million conventionally built, unsubsidized housing starts which the government projects for the coming fiscal year.

The administration recently decided to count mobile homes in determining whether the nation is meeting its goal of construction of 26 million new or rehabilitated homes in 10 years.

IT IS STILL too early to tell if conventional home builders will abandon the mobile home park business once regular housing picks up again. But association spokesmen predict most builders will continue their interest in mobile homes.

The association featured mobile home developments in the two most recent issues of its magazine, "Journal of Homebuilding."

One article said mobile home owners plan to move only about half as often as apartment renters. And when they do leave their mobile homes, most of them want to move into a new single-family house.

The magazine said the average mobile home owner paid about $7,000 for his home. It said a typical mobile home dweller has an annual income of about $7,500 but 16 per cent have incomes of over $10,000.

A NEW STATE OF HAPPINESS

Waiting for low home prices

could be like waiting for your proverbial ship of good fortune . . . a very long wait.

Sure, new homes cost money today . . . but they'll cost even more in the future. Interest rates, building costs, prices on everything are going up . . . by a thousand or two dollars a year.

You can beat this cost-price spiral if you buy your home NOW. That way you'll be covered. Your home will rise in value as real estate prices rise. You'll build equity instead of spending money on rent. But you've got to do it soon . . . before it costs you even more.

Take a look at Saturday's PROGRESS section. It's packed with information on beautiful new homes from the area's finest builders. Pictures, features, advertisements will show you where to look and what is new in the construction industry. Do it soon . . . for relief from that cost hang-up!

APPOINTED

Thomas Dorsey, of Huntington Beach, formerly with shopping center developer E. W. Hahn, has been named assistant marketing director for Leadership Homes, now building eight Southland communities.

L.B. Firm Completes Hangar

Tri-Cor, Inc., of Long Beach, which has built 163 hangars for the U.S. Air Force, has completed construction of a $450,000 hangar at Edwards Air Force Base. Coneen Construction Corp. of El Cajon was the prime contractor.

The hangar will be used for in-place repair as well as overhauling of engine and fuel systems in heavy bombers, and transport aircraft such as the B-52, C-133, C-124 and KC-135.

S. C. Water Co. Obtains Moonridge

Southern California Water Company has acquired the Moonridge Mutual Water System in the Moonridge area of Big Bear Lake in San Bernardino County at a purchase price of $300,000.

This cost includes initial system improvements, Philip F. Walsh, president of Southern California Water, announced.

Moonridge Mutual's 1969 gross revenues were $80,000 with service installed to 4,000 lots and 1,300 active customers.

Its system will be interconnected with the adjacent Southern California Water system to form an expanded operating district. The company also serves electricity to the Big Bear area.

Barker Bros. Now Barker's

Barker Bros., a Southern California institution for 89 years, will now be known as Barker's.

The recent opening of Barker's Robertson Plaza and Whittier Stores, the launching of the new Tempo Shops and a dynamic approach in display techniques is only a part of Barker's commitment to fashion-minded Californians, its officers say.

NAMED

Richard Benz, formerly associated with Bechtel Corporation as chief economist, has been named manager-business planning for Rancho California with headquarters in Newport Beach.

Good Selection Remains at Rancho La Cuesta

A selection of one and two-story homes, priced from $25,240 to $33,200, remains in the sell-out of the few remaining homes at Rancho La Cuesta in Cerritos.

There are new homes, including models, which are available due to job transfer and other reasons, according to sales manager Fred Veiga.

Furnished and decorated model homes and a sales information center are open every day on Artesia Boulevard at Shoemaker.

RANCHO La Cuesta's

excellent location is partially responsible for the successful sell-out of this group of homes. The Artesia, Santa Ana, San Diego Freeways and Beach Boulevard (Highway 39) are close to the homes.

Each Rancho La Cuesta home bears the distinctive style developed by Frank H. Ayres & Son since 1905. Heavy, stained beams, wood, Mexican brick and wood exteriors combined with stucco give the homes a distinctive appearance.

Free decorator service is provided to assist buyers in selecting colors, carpeting and drapes.

Computer-Aided

NEW YORK (UPI) — Today's traveling salesman is getting a hand from the computer. Unlike the old-fashioned "drummer" who knocked on any likely-looking home or factory door, the salesman of 1970 can have his prospects for an industrial product or service pinpointed for him by a computer.

One national service firm, Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., maintains a computerized file on nearly 3-million businesses, with about 15 different information items on each. Included are such data as the company's address, sales volume, and name of chief executive.

A SANTA ANA native, Timme graduated from Orange High School and Fullerton Junior College, and attended the University of California at Santa Barbara. He and his family reside in Orange.

White is in charge of title plant systems for all branches, subsidiaries and affiliates, and has directed the establishment and reorganization of title plants in several California counties, as well as for Alaska, Arizona, Idaho, Nevada and Washington.

Two Men Promoted by First American

Promotion of two executives of First American Title Insurance Company, Santa Ana, to key staff positions has been announced by President D. P. Kennedy.

Vice President Robert S. Timme, 23-year veteran with the company, was appointed controller, and Assistant Vice President Lawrence M. White, who joined First American in 1959, was named administrative assistant to Kennedy.

As administrative vice president, Timme has been responsible for coordinating many details related to the company's expansion program and establishment of uniform systems and practices. He is in charge of purchasing and in his new capacity will supervise budget matters throughout First American's 13-state operation.

New Orders for Western Gear Units

New orders totaling $730,000 have been received for Western Gear pipe tensioning machines from Santa Fe-Pomeroy, Inc., San Francisco; and Sedco Inc., Dallas, according to WG executives at Torrance.

Delivery of these units, scheduled for 1970, will bring to 22 the total number of Western Gear pipe tensioning machines either produced or on order for use in pipe laying operations throughout the world.

Western Gear machines have operated to date in the Gulf Coast, Indian Ocean, Red Sea, the South Pacific off Borneo, and the Atlantic Ocean off Nigeria.

Zody's 21st Store Opens at Carson

More than 5,000 shoppers were on hand to witness Debbie Reynolds, popular star of television, movies and the stage, and Leo Freedman, executive vice president, Zody's Quality Discount Department Stores, cut the ribbon to officially open a giant new Zody's at the intersection of Sepulveda Boulevard and Vermont Avenue, near Carson.

This is the 21st store in Zody's chain.

Assisting Miss Reynolds and Freedman in the ribbon-cutting ceremonies were Miss Los Angeles County, Laurene Underhill, along with Carson Mayor Gil Smith and Torrance Mayor Ken Miller.

This new Zody's is on a strip of county land between the two communities of Carson and Torrance. Also participating was Joy Sprinzel, Miss Carson.

THIS NEW 100,000-square-foot Zody's was constructed at a cost in excess of $1 million and was constructed by Ralph Evans & Company.

The store is of tilt-up concrete panel construction with exterior tongue-and-groove teak paneling.

There are large expanses of glass featured over the high canopy over the entrance to the store. Another new design feature of the store is six tree wells along the front walk holding beautiful eucalyptus trees.

There is free parking for 1,000 cars.

The new Carson store has been designed with customer shopping convenience in mind. The aisles are wide, and the departmental signs are easily spotted throughout for quick customer recognition and ease of shopping flow.

La Palma

A community park is located adjacent to Parkside Estates, and there is a proposed 80-acre County Regional Park less than a mile away. This remarkable new playground will have a lake, too, as well as a huge swimming pool and a full complement of facilities for little league games, other games and sports. Here is a close-in community that deserves another look. City development plans and projections are simply spectacular . . . and they're happening NOW!

Here's New Concept in Vacation Home

NEW YORK (UPI) — The dream of a vacation home — that little place where the family can get away for its favorite kind of fun — is an appealing one; witness the phenomenal growth in second home ownership in recent years.

It is a dream, however, that can have enough nightmarish qualities to make some families think long and hard and turn down the whole idea.

It is far from easy to find suitable land in many parts of the country and, in fact, nearly impossible and prohibitively expensive in established, prime seashore, ski or other recreation areas. Building a custom house in a non-urban area can involve problems beyond even the usual snafus and expense of home building. Existing homes in choice locations are difficult to find, and often carry greatly inflated price tags for the value received.

OWNERSHIP of a vacation home, although it can be a good investment, brings added burdens of maintenance, supervision and expense and can tend to limit a family's vacations and travel to one spot. If, to help finance the vacation retreat, it is necessary to rent it there are the added problems and uncertainty of an absentee landlord.

The answers to many of these objections seem to have been found by a New England building firm that has developed a vacation housing concept that might well catch on in recreation areas all over the country.

Stanmar Homes, Sudbury, Mass., an old established lumber company which evolved into a leading builder of pre-engineered homes, provides a vacation home "package" that combines choice land in a good resort area, individual, fully furnished homes with complete management, maintenance, maid service, recreational facilities, plus full rental of the property with guaranteed minimum income, if desired, while the family is not in residence.

SHOWCASE for the company's idea of what vacation housing should be its Mattakesett Island Homes development on Martha's Vineyard -- a 25-acre property on Katauma Bay and South Beach at Edgartown, Mass., wholly owned, developed and managed by Stanmar.

Here, in an area where few building sites remain, where a property with 100 feet of waterfront sold recently for $100,000, where "back lots" go for $12,000 and $14,000, year-round, three-bedroom, 2½-bath homes are being sold by Stanmar for around $27,000 to $31,000. Eighteen have been built of a total 42 planned.

Facilities include winter heating, full insulation, thermopane glass, screens, hearth and fireplace, tufted carpeting, multiple storage closets (including locked owner only units), fully equipped kitchens with stove, refrigerator-freezer, dishwasher, garbage disposal and washer-dryer fire alarm system, master television antenna.

THE KEY, according to Stanley W. Snider, Stanmar president, lies in the cluster housing concept. The two-story, attached homes are built in units of six, with sites staggered for privacy. Each owner has title to his own home and grounds with easements of access and utility use. Each house has an unobstructed view of the bay and beach, each has its own fenced patio and an open sun deck.

Of the 25 acres, only 3 per cent of available land is used for building with the rest for community use, allowing open acreage, minimal access roads and use of management-provided recreational facilities, including swimming pool, tennis court, beach buggies, kayaks and sailboats, bicycles, fishing gear, outdoor cooking facilities.

SNIDER stresses that the homes are not condominiums, a form of common ownership — generally in multi-apartment buildings — which requires some owner participation in maintenance and services and which, frequently, includes in the individual selling price the cost of swimming pools and other common facilities.

Under the Stanmar plan, ownership responsibility for maintenance, plowing landscaping, utilities, and the management of recreational facilities must be delegated wholly to the property management group at a cost of $300 annually for the first three years, with a subsequent increase to be based on actual costs.

The management service also provides for optional participation in a rental program with a wide variety of arrangements available to suit the needs of individual families. For owners participating in the full rental program, Stanmar guarantees a minimum annual income. Establishment of individual ownership as a business investment, Snider notes, may make it possible for an owner to obtain "tax shelter" benefits such as deduction of utility costs, maintenance expenses and on-cash depreciation. Even on a non-business basis, of course, property taxes and mortgage interest are tax deductible.

THE RENTAL program is closely supervised and all rental arrangements are on a division of rental income basis of 1-3 to management, 2-3 to owner. The rental agreement provides that management will execute leases in behalf of owners, collect deposits, confirm reservations, keep accurate, up-to-date use and income records, inspect units after each use for evidence of pilferage or damage, assess charges against users according to lease terms sufficient to cover cost of repair or replacement, see that the code of rules and regulations is enforced, supervise grounds, recreation, maid and laundry services and provide accounting to owners on income, expense and usage.

THE HOMES are available fully furnished — everything from kitchen knives to bed and bath linens, living, dining and bedroom furniture and accessories and even outdoor furniture — in a package provided at 25 per cent discount from retail for a approximately $4,300. There is a choice of contemporary or traditional furnishings and a choice of color scheme. Owners may purchase any or all of the furnishings offered with the requirement, however, that homes participating in the rental program must be fully furnished in a manner suitable for rental purposes at established prices.

Private Company Fights Fires in New Community

LITCHFIELD PARK, Ariz. (UPI) — Ever hear of a yellow firetruck?

All the trucks in this new town are yellow, because yellow is 10 times more visible than red, greatly increasing safety and ease of identification.

Litchfield Park is a new town, being built on empty farmland near Phoenix. Fire protection comes from the Rural Fire Protection Company, a private, profit-making corporation. It is one of two private fire companies in the country.

Homeowners subscribe to the service on an annual basis, paying a fee based on the resale value of their homes. A typical fee is $24 annually for a $25,000 home.

The Litchfield Park firemen do all the odd jobs that ordinary firemen undertake, such as rescuing cats and giving first aid in accidents.

What if you don't subscribe to their service? If you ask them to put out a fire, they will, but the Arizona Corporation Commission has set the fee at 17 times the normal annual rate, or about $400 for a typical house.

Qualified Vets Need Only $99 for Troy-Cerritos

Qualified veterans may move into a home at Troy Cerritos at 195th Street and Bloomfield Avenue in Cerritos without a down payment and a total expenditure of $99 for closing costs, announced Fred C. Dodd, subdivision sales manager.

Troy Cerritos is a 102-home community of The McCarthy Company, one of five developments in Orange County and Los Angeles County. Prices range from $28,950 to $34,950.

"This offer to veterans is designed to assist them in moving their families into a close-in residential area with a high potential for enjoyment of California living," said Dodd.

"CERRITOS is truly a hub city, close to every Southern California industrial area through a network of five freeways which cross it. The veteran does not have to go way out to find a place to live which will give all the benefits he seeks. At Cerritos he can have it within comfortable driving range of his job," Dodd said.

Included in the no-down plan for qualified veterans are shag carpeting throughout, sprinklers, landscaping, fencing, draperies, custom fireplaces, built-in kitchens and a choice of three-bedroom and four-bedroom models and single-story and two-story homes.

Furnished models are open from 10 a.m. to dusk. They can be reached by turning off Santa Ana Freeway at Carmenita Road and proceeding south to South Street, then right to Bloomfield Avenue, and then left to the community.

Future Income Factor in Mortgage Lending

NEW YORK (UPI) — Young couples looking to buy a home may have more going for them than they realize. Mortgage lenders, taking a long-term view, have begun to give increasing weight to an applicant's potential earning capacity, along with a clean credit record.

These are among several new concepts in mortgage banking brought about by the changing economy, increasing costs of homes and the inflationary spiral, according to Emanuel M. Brotman, Board Chairman of the J. I. Kislak Mortgage Corporation, and a member of the Mortgage Banking Advisory Committee of the Federal National Mortgage Association (Fanny May).

Today, says Brotman, many institutional lenders, in reviewing a young couple's ability to meet the costs of home ownership, give important consideration to the probability of future increased earnings. Their judgment is based on the probable growth pattern indicated by the applicant's background and his present position. The mortgage underwriter is also strongly influenced by the applicant's record in satisfying other financial obligations.

mortgage financing is tough to find, but not impossible. Such financing is usually obtained from mortgage banking concerns, which serve the real estate broker handling the sale.

Because conventional loans in most areas require sizeable cash down payments, young couples and other buyers who do not have substantial cash available usually buy their homes with government insured (FHA) or government guaranteed (VA) loans.

FIRST REACTION to the current 8½ per cent interest rate on FHA and VA loans may be that it is quite high. But, in comparison with the rates on conventionally financed mortgages, nationwide, it is definitely competitive and, in many cases, lower.

Income and Carrying Charges: Buyers must show a reasonable ability to pay the monthly carrying charges, which include principal and interest payments, local real estate taxes and property insurance.

For example, on a $27,000 house (the current national median cost) bought with a 20 per cent down payment and a 30-year FHA mortgage of $24,300, the monthly mortgage payment comes to $197. Add to this about $60 for real estate taxes and about $5 for property insurance. The total carrying charge would be $262 per month. There should be a reasonable relationship between this amount and the buyer's ability to pay it over the period of the loan.

If more money were available for a larger down payment, this cost would be reduced by $8.10 per month for each additional $1,000 of cash down payment.

FHA WILL NOW insure mortgage loans on one-family houses sold for up to $33,000. While the VA sets no ceiling on the price of a house which a qualified veteran can buy under its program, in today's mortgage market, institutional lenders have no ready market available for the sale of VA-guaranteed loans on houses costing over $40,000.

Once in a Lifetime? More adventurous, more sure of themselves and their future, and certainly more affluent, the current generation of young couples no longer look upon their first home purchase as necessarily their last. More homes are being resold more frequently as incomes grow, families change in size and job mobility increases. A revival of massive homebuilding when money eases will accelerate this trend.

In Brotman's view, it may be several decades before housing production can possibly catch up with the demands of an ever-expanding population. Thus, there will be a continuing market for homes sales and resales for the foreseeable future.

BUILDINGS CAN'T BE SAVED

'Historical Face' to Go

By Dick Emery

Let there be no lament for the forthcoming loss of the "historical face" of San Pedro's Beacon Street skid row!

Not one of those horse-and-buggy days emporiums, fancy hosteleries or sidewalk-level saloons will survive the $4 million Beacon Street Redevelopment Project now going full stride.

That's what the project's manager, Gerald Trimble, said about it at week's end as the project's second year contract promised $2,100,000 from the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development.

"In the whole project area (19 square blocks)," he said, "I'll tell you what we'll save: the old branch city hall, the Ferry Building, the Majestic Restaurant and the Trade Center. Everything else goes!"

TRIMBLE GAVE THAT death-knell to the "historical face" of the world-famed waterfront streets — a skid row in the late years and a hangout of drunks, footpads, pimps and panhandlers — when questioned about an announcement from the Washington office of Congressman Glenn M. Anderson.

The Anderson announcement of the second-year contract authorization concluded with the promise, "Every effort will be made to retain the historic flavor of the Beacon Street area while alleviating the present run-down conditions."

Trimble said not even the fronts of buildings could be retained.

"It is simply not possible financially or structurally," he said. "Those buildings weren't built to be long-lived."

"They were thrown up in a hurry when there was profit to be made from sailors ashore with pockets full of money."

"We haven't found a single building designed by a known architect."

"The owners haven't taken care of the buildings. They have let everything go completely."

"Water has seeped in, wiring is bad, piping is broken, fixtures are broken, termites and dry-rot are turning wood into sawdust and pulp."

"It was built as a Barbary Coast environment, bars downstairs and hotels up. It can't be saved."

Within the past few days, wreckers have torn down the old brick Smalley Hotel on Palos Verdes Street near Fifth Street, and two adjacent buildings in which were a cleaning shop and a long-boarded up saloon.

A month ago the six-story Fern Hotel on Sixth near Palos Verdes Street died a dusty death.

"The Immigration Department condemned it first," Trimble said. "It was a hideout for illegal aliens. Then conditions got so bad in it that the Health Department condemned it too. It was really in poor condition!"

One problem in Skid Row is that boarded-up buildings become living quarters for beggars, cut-throats and drunks. Under recent court decisions, private property becomes a refuge unless owners request police action.

"ON FOURTH BETWEEN Centre Street and Palos Verdes Street, we removed some very old wooden houses," Trimble said. "We took out an 80-year-old apartment hotel which was teetering, ready to cave in."

"Between Second and Third, Mesa and Centre, we have taken out four old houses and have bought a vacant store, and we have demolished a garage near Fifth and Mesa."

"We will continue to re-locate occupants. Our agency is responsible to re-location of people. We had 75 families in the project area, at the start. So far, 10 to 15 have gone."

"Most were home-owners who have purchased homes outside with our agency's help. We have assisted 20 businesses to locations out of Skid Row."

TWO-THIRDS OF THE $3 million so far spent on the Skid Row project, he said, has bought land. One third has gone into planning, engineering and demolition.

Of the total project costs, two-thirds will come from federal funds and one-third — "cash or in kind, meaning such things as street improvements, building a school, etc." — from the City of Los Angeles.

"We have acquired, have in escrow, or have funds already committed, for 55 per cent of the property in the project," Trimble said.

The master plan for the redevelopment of Beacon Street skid row calls for creation of a "water-oriented" district of hotels, restaurants and shops and a 2½-square-block residential section.

The project evolved from proposals first studied by the Los Angeles City Council in 1948 and approved, as a master plan, April 22, 1969.

The Long Beach Commission on Economic Opportunities will operate Project Head Start in the 1970-71 year whether or not the Long Beach Unified School District decides to continue its participation.

Without any recorded votes, the commission voted Thursday to operate the $522,702 program this fall.

Head Start, which has functioned through Long Beach schools and the Community Improvement League — with evident success — for the past three years, offers preschool instructional programs for disadvantaged children.

Adolfo Reyes, deputy director of the Long Beach Community Action Program (CAP) was advised by the CEO to inform the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare and its Office of Child Development that the Long Beach board will accept both the program and funds outlined by HEW and OED.

Reyes said the poverty board had instructed him to contact the school district to determine if the schools will continue their 3-year-old participation in the program.

"If they decline," said Reyes, "we have three options open to us."

"We can operate it ourselves, advertise for a new delegate agency to undertake half of the program or give the entire project to the Community Improvement League."

The league has operated 45 per cent of the program for three years with the balance operated by the schools.

In other actions taken this week, the CEO re-elected Mrs. Elizabeth Moore to her second term as chairman of the poverty commission. The Westside housewife won unanimous approval at the Thursday meeting.

Other officers include Dr. Robert Hart, Long Beach Unified School District, vice chairman; Morris Bugby, Long Beach Boys Club, treasurer, and Mrs. Maxine Smalley, Downtown Neighborhood Council, secretary.

Mrs. Smalley was elected after Mrs. Cora Cocks, of the Community Planning Council, resigned from the poverty board. Also resigning was Mrs. June Roper, former director of the California Department of Human Resources Development (HRD) office in Long Beach who has been reassigned as director of the Torrance office.

Lee Brewster, former assistant director of the Long Beach HRD, assumed Mrs. Roper's position on the board as well as her post at HRD.

DRUG TO FIGHT PARKINSON'S DISEASE NOW AVAILABLE IN L.B.

By BEN ZINSER
Medical-Science Editor

A new drug that alleviates the symptoms of Parkinson's disease (shaking palsy) is available to physicians for prescription in the Long Beach area.

This was disclosed Friday during a medical lecture in St. Mary's Hospital.

Dr. Albert Kakkis, director of neurology at the hospital, said the drug, L-dopa, is available in tablet or capsule form under the trade names Dopar and Larodopa.

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration recently approved marketing applications of two pharmaceutical manufacturers.

The compound is also known by the generic name of levodopa.

Dr. Kakkis, who conducted experimental studies of the drug prior to its licensing for general use, described his experiences for St. Mary's Hospital doctors in an illustrated lecture.

DRAMATIC MOTION pictures showed:

—A female victim previously in a "totally frozen state" who, after L-dopa treatment, was able to walk rapidly.

—A male victim who was unable to perform handwriting and, after drug treatment, wrote "smoothly and harmoniously."

—A woman teacher who couldn't write before treatment but now can write and drive her car.

Good to excellent results have been experienced by a majority of patients treated by Dr. Kakkis.

It is necessary for the patient to be patient, he said, explaining that the drug's maximum effect may not be experienced for three months.

Wheelchair Folk Dance Up Storm

By ED GOLDMAN
Staff Writer

"Promenade, go 'round and 'round. Don't stop now and don't slow down!"

Mrs. Ida Spuhler called the steps to an enthusiastic group of square dancers. The dancers were patients, many of them in wheelchairs, and they kicked up a storm Friday night at El Cerrito Rehabilitation Hospital, 1410 Chestnut Ave.

But the dancing was only light exercise for the patients. They also take bus tours to the Farmers' Market, have picnics in the park, and bowl. Yes, bowl.

"REHABILITATION has become a very important part of hospital programs," said Mrs. Caroline Pratt, director of the recreational and volunteer services at the hospital. "Our program is good medicine, too."

Judging from the excitement generated by the dancers, Mrs. Pratt is not alone in her analysis. Two women who had recently undergone amputations were laughing, moving and living as many thought they never would again.

"OH, THEY still hurt," Mrs. Pratt admits, "but they're laughing now."

An attractive young woman watching the activities declared, "My doctor told me I wouldn't be able to walk for at least six months. Hell, I plan to be dancing by then!"

An elderly woman, confined to a wheelchair for the rest of her life, said, "It's fun, it's good, clean fun."

An ex-alcoholic laughed and talked as he moved his wheelchair into the center of the square. A victim of a crippling disease sang aloud and followed Mrs. Spuhler's calls:

"Promenade, promenade, all the way around." The patients promenaded, some watched, and all smiled. And the beat went on.

DENNIS THE MENACE

By Hank Ketchum

YOUR HOROSCOPE by JEANE DIXON

Forecast for Sunday

Your birthday today. Your career will bring you into higher levels of responsibility. Your friends are apt to thrust you in the direction you have said you wanted to go. Where your unconscious feelings are from your expressed intentions, this may bring some stress. Today's natives often lack tact and demand it in others, discipline or habits which approximate discipline are strong in their daily lives.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Do what you want to do. Enjoy your home. Romantic ventures are the better for a delay or a skipped interlude.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Start afresh, and decide to make this a conventional, comfortable Sunday. Gather your friends about you for an evening party.

Gemini (May 21-June 20): The early part of the day is delightful, lively; but it may turn out that you expected much too much of people who are not really free to go along with you.

CANCER (June 21-July 21): There is no excuse for mixing business with today's spiritual expressions or with the pleasures of personal relationships. Seek experience which brings you into more reasonable balance.

LEO (July 22-Aug. 22): Plan for a relatively quiet Sunday. People are touchy, particularly to your sort of open approach. Visit friends you do not often see.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Take your full share in the community expression of faith. As the day wears on, pull out of social activity and spend some time at home.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): There should not be very much going on Sunday. Take stock of what you are and what you'd like to become. Expect little of any social contacts now.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): You can make this Sunday rewarding if you attend to the feelings and needs of those you care about. Your prayer is apt to bring changes soon.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Expect advice is available today, and should be carefully followed. Give thought to the impact of your habits on your health.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Permit yourself a vacation mood this Sunday. Creative work produces exciting progress. Tend to the welfare of others, but don't let this preempt your time for diversion.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Your tact determines the quality of this Sunday, as little intrudes on your home environment. Relax, take a recess from your tensions.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Spend time with your favorite pastimes. Expect people to be caught up in their own conflicts and therefore rather glum or disagreeable.

CSLB Will Host 40 Japanese Students

California State College at Long Beach will be a summer home for 40 Japanese students visiting America to learn about this country's language and culture.

The students, who arrive Sunday for a four-week stay, will live in the college's on-campus dormitories.

Their U.S. visit is sponsored by the Council on International Educational Exchange.

Southland Colleges Get EOP Grants

From Our State Bureau

SACRAMENTO — Compton College has been allocated $250,000 for Extended Opportunity Program Services to Disadvantaged Students, the California Community Colleges Board of Governors announced Friday.

Long Beach City College will get $75,000, Harbor College $60,000, Santa Ana $30,000, Cerritos $20,000, Orange Coast $10,000, and Fullerton $5,000, the board announced.

Altogether, 67 schools will receive a total of $4. million to enable students "who otherwise might never see the inside of a college classroom" attend school.

New Warship Joins L.B.-Based Fleet

Long Beach gained a new ship Friday when the 800-man destroyer tender USS Piedmont moored at Pier 15.

The 26-year-old vessel, commanded by Capt. M. O. Geary, was assigned to Long Beach from San Diego.

of the host tender USS Isle Royale, and Robert Farnham, Armed Services YMCA executive, greeted the ship on her arrival.

The Piedmont has spent considerable time in the Far East as a service ship with the 7th Fleet. She became such a fixture at Yokosuka, Japan, after World War II that a pier was named for her.

The Piedmont is now a member of the Cruiser-Destroyer Group, commanded by Rear Adm. Robert S. Salzer. She will assume flagship status when Rear Adm. Worth Bagley, Flotilla 7 commander, returns to Long Beach next month.

FRANCISCO FLORES

L.B. Man Addresses Goodwill

Francisco Flores was one of four regional winners honored by the organization, and the only one invited to speak at the national meeting.

Flores, a paraplegic, heads the electrical repair section of the Long Beach Goodwill plant.

IN HIS speech, Flores explained how Goodwill is seen by persons who are in its training programs or are being given extended employment because of handicaps.

Four other representatives of the Long Beach Goodwill program also attended the assembly, held in Buffalo, New York. They were Walter L. Case, Long Beach executive vice-president; L. H. Brinkman, member of the board of directors; Mrs. Janet Reynolds, staff member, and Mrs. Olga Fleming, of the local women's auxiliary.

Rehabilitation Center Gets $117,116 Grant

A $177,116 state grant to the Goodwill Rehabilitation and Evaluation Center at Santa Ana was announced Friday by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The governor made the announcement in a speech at dedication ceremonies for the new center. He said:

"It is our hope that this grant — by the people of California to the people of California — will enable this private sector facility to nearly double the number of Department of Rehabilitation clients served last year."

Reagan said the funds would be used to introduce 12 new trade training courses ranging from light assembly and bench work through the clerical skills.

BRIEFLY . . .

Wheels 'Pedal' Gospel; Methodists & Population

Anyone with the notion that young practicing Christians are not the type for rugged, adventurous physical exploits, meet the Wandering Wheels.

These 43 men fly in this morning, and after symbolically touching the wheels in the Pacific, on Monday start a 3,000-mile trip to Washington, D.C. and that other ocean. They're headed by former Jordan High and UCLA grid great Bob Davenport. After pro football in Canada, he coached with great success at Taylor University in Upland, Ind., and now works on his brainchild, the wheels-evangelism program.

The young men will participate in the 7 p.m. Sunday service at North Long Beach Brethren Church, 61st and Orange, which Davenport attended (he was a football teammate at Jordan of the son of the pastor, Dr. George Peek.) They are also a fine singing group.

Yes friends, the "wheels" in question will be propelled along Route 66 to St. Louis and Route 50 to D.C. by good old leg muscle power, about 100 miles a day. Bicycles. These guys are Hard Riders, not Easy Riders.

PERHAPS THE most specific Christian statement yet on population reduction as approved by the Southland Methodist convention in Redlands. It stated "that responsible families should consider having no more than two natural children," although the church "does not support legal restrictions on the size of a family."

REV. RALPH D. Abernathy shook up a meeting of the general board of the National Council of Churches when he posed this question to them: "Imagine you are a poor black child in Mississippi. You see white children bussed across the county to good schools while you get $9 a month for food. But a United States senator from Mississippi is being paid $16,000 a month not to grow crops on his land. How would you feel about America?"

SOME 50,000 are expected at the Jehovah's Witnesses Watchtower Convention in Anaheim Stadium July 16-19, and officials are searching for rooms to host the visitors within a 10-mile radius of the stadium.

THE BOSTON Lay Caucus, a Roman Catholic group in that city, released the results of a poll of Catholics which got 19,304 responses. No less than 73 per cent thought they should have "something to say" about the successor to the retiring Cardinal Richard Cushing, and 87 per cent voted for limiting the new archbishop's term of office to a specific period.

The generation gap emerged in the poll, said Thomas M. Simmons, Boston attorney who handed the news conference. He said the young respondents saw poverty and world peace as major issues but their elders saw youth as the problem.

FIRST BLACK girl to compete for the title of Miss America, Cheryl Adrienne Broceon, 19, of Queens, N.Y., who won the Miss Iowa contest, attends the American Lutheran Church's Luther College at Decorah, Iowa, and teaches Sunday School in her home church, St. Thomas Lutheran.

MEN 18 or older who would like to volunteer their services for one week as counselors for boys at a Christian non-denominational camp July 13-18 are asked to write Camp Counselor, Box 9324, Long Beach, 90810, or call Bill Bledsoe, 424-3497. ## MAY I HAVE A MOMENT OF YOUR TIME?

As a nation, we Americans are inveterate bargain hunters. We love sales; we succumb almost without a struggle to anything marked down in price.

This philosophy prevails even in the realm of the spiritual. We want our religion to cost us as little as possible, the absolute minimum. We want to be sure that, when the need arises, we can ring up God, but we want the call at night rates. We want to go straight to heaven when we die, with no detours, but we hope to get the ticket at excursion prices.

When are we going to face the fact that everything worthwhile is costly, whether it is making a nation a blessing, or a house a home, or mere existence a life.

Have you ever considered what it cost the Christ of God to offer you and me eternal life? I'd like to discuss the subject with you tomorrow.

Sincerely,
Frank M. Kepner, Pastor

JOHN BROWN U. GROUP HERE FOR SUMMER

'Sound Generation' Music, Ideas Get a Good Hearing

By LES RODNEY

Faith in God and love of country.

In a rather tumultuous time of change and dissent, the 28 young men and women of John Brown University's highly rated musical "Sound Generation," who are spending the summer in the Southland, make no apologies for being propagandists for these two enduring ideas.

Not that they go around being hard nosed or argumentative about it, said their youthful director, Bill Hartman, in a chat this week.

"We have no axe to grind," commented the tall recent graduate of the Arkansas college. "Some people have the wrong impression about a group like ours. We don't go into discussions with a dogmatic attitude of we are right and everybody else is wrong about everything."

"THE YOUNGSTERS" approach, he explained, is that "we as individuals have found this to be true. We have found the key and the answer for ourselves and we're interested in communicating this wherever we can."

The Sounds are not surprised to encounter some static along the way as they perform before large throngs in stadiums, churches, halls, schools, amusement parks, state fairs, political and business conventions and what have you.

"Anybody who takes Americanism and religion into the market place these days will run into argument," Hartman said. "We encounter all types of thought and philosophies. But we find most young people are very honest and sincere especially with their peers. They feel our presentation is also sincere and legitimate, whether or not they accept it. When we have sessions with high school and college age people after our performances we have a free flow of ideas, and a willingness to listen."

The Sound Generation was conceived and named three years ago with the thought that "the overwhelming majority of young Americans today are sound," the director related. From there, the word "Sound" took on its inevitable musical meaning too. Those who have heard them say the sounds of the Sounds are pleasant to the ears.

THE GROUP is selected from a student body of 750 at the Siloam Springs institution, a private Christian school. "Some of them are very talented, and that's not just our opinion," Hartman said. "We have been well received as interpreters of contemporary music."

The music, both vocal and instrumental, is taken with professional seriousness and worked at hard and enthusiastically. But it is regarded in the Sounds' overall view of things as basically a MEANS of communicating their central purpose, which Hartman puts this way:

'SOUND GENERATION'—MELODY WITH NON-DOGMATIC MESSAGE

"One faith in God through Jesus Christ, and two — the feeling that it's time some young people said they still believe America is the greatest country in the world."

To many, he said, "the group is a breath of fresh air after reading and hearing for so long, and so often, about the other side."

It is an opinion clearly concurred in by the crowds at Knotts Berry Farm, where the Sounds are appearing four nights a week. Says Walter Knott, impresario of the famed Orange County tourist attraction: "This is the third season that we have enjoyed having these wholesome, enthusiastic, well trained, well behaved young people with us. Our guests like them. We love them."

A GLANCE at the rest of their summer schedule, which includes appearances from Ventura to San Diego, suggests an arduous couple of months away from the campus. Is there fun in it for the young people?

"Oh yes," replied Hartman. "The whole thing is fun! Fantastic! The traveling, the performing, the opportunity of meeting all these people..."

Reflecting the shifting base for youthful appearances over the past few years, the male members of the Sounds are not exactly a crew-cut crew. Like Hartman himself, some wear their hair and sideburns to — well, let's say to medium fullness.

The director shrugged. "We like to present what you might call a clean cut, collegiate image. But the idea of what that is has changed. We stay more or less in the mainstream, stylewise. AND musicwise..."

As with almost any group of Americans, within the Sounds there might be found some shadings of difference on the topic that has most divided the country — the war. "There's no question from what we see and hear that the war has hurt the unity of America," the youth leader readily granted.

But the topic is not high on the Sound Generation's agenda. They figure there are enough arguments making the rounds on Vietnam.

"We are primarily interested in communicating faith. If political science were our major interest, then we'd talk more about political things. Our basic philosophy is positive. God's love, the good side of America..."

"WE OFTEN say in relation to the situation in the country today, we're not saying our nation is without problems. But we would rather work and spend our lives if necessary as part of the solution to the problem. Rather than being part of the problem itself."

In spite of the sometimes bitter differences among Americans today, Hartman went on, "we find a rallying point in the fact that most people, regardless of their opinions, are in search of something real."

He smiled. "Of course, we have OUR interpretation. We would believe that every individual has this void, that can only truly be filled by God and Jesus Christ."

All members of the John

HARTMAN Accentuate Positive

Brown University Sound Generation, he affirmed, "have invited Christ into their lives, literally, and this is what they are most anxious to communicate."

Do the travelers see evidence of that they are successfully affecting the lives of others in that direction?

They do, he said. "For instance during our winter vacation we were in Detroit where we gave 37 performances, high school assemblies, convention sessions. In the evenings, after our concerts, we found the time to get to the basics of our faith during discussions. We had quite a few inquiries about pursuing it further. In nine months time, we have had almost 1,000 young people make definite inquiries."

FROM THAT, he explained, the names and addresses are taken for follow up locally, much as in a Billy Graham Crusade.

This, Hartman said, is what makes it all worthwhile to the Sounds. "The message receives a good hearing after we break the ice. It's given and taken in an open and personal way."

Last Sunday the Sounds traveled up "the hill" in Palos Verdes to perform at Rolling Hills Covenant Church.

"When it was over," the director said, "our kids were anywhere from 45 minutes to an hour and a half talking in clusters with other young people. That's typical."

"The Sounds are not just a group that performs, and then walks away."

L.B. Pastor Takes Dim View of Agnew Critique

A Long Beach minister has entered the controversy begun by Vice President Spiro T. Agnew when he attacked ministers "who lift weekly sermons out of old letters from the National Council of Churches" and are "more interested in fighting pollution than evil."

The statement and critical reactions to it by churchmen, including some fellow-Episcopalians of Agnew, were reported here last Saturday.

In the current issue of "The Christian Challenger," weekly publication of Palo Verde Avenue Christian Church, the pastor, Rev. Donald L. Westerland, comments:

VICE PRESIDENT Agnew was quoted in Saturday's I.P.T. as critical of sermon content in many American pulpits. The V.P. indicated that he thought numerous preachers took their subject matter from National Council of Churches literature. Material from that source is inappropriate, he suggested, because it concerns war, pollution, and human rights instead of God and evil.

This blast follows broadsides against parents, professors, journalists, newscasters, student, and members of Congress. And now the clergy! Those of us attacked could ignore the V.P., go on about our work and dismiss his mistaken generalizations as political oratory.

I choose to reply to this public tongue-lashing because it seems almost unpatriotic to regard as "empty rhetoric" what a Vice President says. At the risk of seeming defensive, this attack sounds an alarm. It is a threatening gesture when the second highest U.S. official castigates a large segment of an honored profession.

FROM THE PULPIT

What do you really believe about Christ? It is possible to believe many things and yet never believe what God requires that we believe in order to be saved. We are not saved by simply believing that Christ is God. The devil so believes and tremble. Certainly none can be saved who believe in God but are not believers in Christ. God's salvation is in God's Christ.

But do you believe that eternal life is in Christ alone? This is what God requires that you believe in order to be saved. This is the record that God gave of His Son, and to not believe it is to make God a liar. Read 1 John 5 and understand these words, "we know." Then make sure that YOU know that you are saved. If we can help you, we will be glad to have you come to our offices and talk with you, or we will come to your home and talk and pray with you. Why not call us for an appointment. Come to Calvary! Calvary is for you!

Lutherans Seek to Update, Define Views on Sex

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Responsible sex education in the public schools is recommended in a report prepared for the Lutheran Church in America (LCA) convention here.

But, it adds, religious and moral commitments should be respected in those teachings.

"It is the public schools that can furnish an education reaching most children and young people," states the position paper on sex, marriage and family, approved by LCA's Board of Social Ministry.

However, "this kind of education properly begins in the home," the study says.

The 695 delegates at the eight-day fifth biennial convention beginning Thursday will be asked to endorse the report. More than 4,500 delegates, visitors and observers from the United States, Canada and the Caribbean are at the sessions of the 3,250,588-member LCA.

The special study commission on sex and family also declares that couples may engage in sexual intercourse outside legal wedlock but that it is right only in a "covenant of fidelity, a dynamic, lifelong commitment of one man and one woman in a personal and sexual union."

It distinguishes this view "from a narrow definition of marriage as a legal contract."

Acknowledgement of women's liberalized role in society is reflected in another study which calls for admitting them as ordained ministers. It would do this simply by changing the word "man" to "person" wherever applicable in bylaws and constitutions of the LCA's many synods.

Here are some other positions delegates will consider:

MARRIAGE—Divorce often brings anguish, but there are situations where it may be better for a man and woman to stay together. In the question of remarriage, "the church and individuals themselves will do well to concentrate on the potential of the new rather than the collapse of the former marriage."

BIRTH CONTROL — Use of artificial contraceptives "within a covenant of fidelity" depends on the motivation of the users. People have a right to limit size of their family without being accused of selfishness or betrayal of a divine plan.

ABORTION — A key issue is the status of the unborn fetus.

CONFIDENT LIVING

Think Yourself Into Success

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Some people think themselves into failure. Others think themselves into success.

Too many people have a tendency to say negatively, "I can't do it, so why try." In so doing they are actually expecting to fail. Charles Dickens once titled a book "Great Expectations," which of course is the frame of mind which leads to success; provided, of course, you expect success.

Things go better when you expect the best. The reason is that such expectation tends to free you from self-doubt. And self-doubt is probably the greatest contributor to human failure. When you get free from self-doubt, the mind is able to put all its power behind the will to succeed. No resistance can stand in the way of the man who focuses his entire self on a goal and keeps the pressure going.

WHEN EVERY physical and mental resource is focused, one's powers to solve a problem multiply tremendously. There is even a word for this. It is called "synergism." Now, that's a really complicated word and it's becoming popular with modern scientists. All it means, really, is that the actions of two or more substances, which could not achieve a desired result individually, can, when they are used together, become capable of effects that each one alone could not produce.

But it is not all that new. Long before the word was applied to modern science, it was used in theology to express the fact that with Divine help plus your own, you could overcome enormous difficulties which otherwise might overwhelm the average human being. It means simply that people are often defeated, not because they lack ability, but because they try to "go it alone." If they add negative expectation, they're out. Instead add positive expectations and success will be yours.

Everyone wants to succeed. They start out giving full energies to a project. But they often refuse to use the aids that are open to them, including the help of other people and spiritual help as well. Their need is to be synergized, to get a team going for them.

A major key to success in life, to attaining that which you deeply desire, is the ability to get completely released from self-doubt and then to throw your entire self in the struggle to reach your goal. To win in this life you simply have to give your all, every bit nothing. Life cannot deny of yourself. Hold back gives life everything. And as you use your energies, remember the good Lord is always there to help you, to support you at all times.

A famous athletic coach once said that most people, some athletes as well as non-athletes, are "hold outs." They are always holding back, keeping something in reserve. They do not invest themselves 100 per cent in competition. Because of that quasi self-giving they never achieve the highest degree of their capacity. Don't be a "hold out." Be an "all out." Do this and life will not hold out on you. You can count on that for sure.

A FAMOUS trapeze artist was once instructing his students on how to perform on the high trapeze bar. Finally, having given full explanations and instructions, he told them to perform; to see what they could do.

One student, staring up at the insecure perch upon which he was being asked to show his skill, was suddenly filled with fear. He froze completely. A terrifying vision of himself falling to the ground struck his mind. Not a muscle could he move so deep was his fright. "I can't do it," he gasped.

The instructor put his arm around the boy's shoulder and said, "Son, you can do it. And here's how. Throw your heart over the bar and your body will follow." Collect all your resources and expect to solve your problem. Throw your whole mind at it, expecting results and you'll get them. Remember that word, "synergism." It means with the use of all your abilities, plus Divine help, you can thin and work yourself into success.

Riches Insufficient

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI said today that the "fabulous riches" attributed to the Roman Catholic Church by popular belief actually are often insufficient to meet its "modest and legitimate needs."

Long Beach Buddhist Church, which terms itself the only non-sectarian Buddhist church in the United States, has welcomed a new associate pastor.

Coming to the church at 2360 Santa Fe Ave. is Rev. Soyu Matsuoka, who for 20 years was pastor of Zen Buddhist Temple in Chicago.

Under the leadership of the pastor, Rev. Kosai Osada, the Long Beach Church was completed in 1957. Its congregation, mostly of Japanese background, also includes a few Caucasians.

Rev. Matsuoka reports that he plans to start a meditation class for Americans. "Peace of mind and spiritual freedom" are the positive aims of the meditation, he says. In Chicago, many non-Buddhists, including Roman Catholics and Jews, came to his church to practice meditation.

Long Beach Buddhist Church has Sunday School at 9:30 a.m. for children, and at 10:45 a.m. for high school and college age. The 1 p.m. adult service is in Japanese.

Adventist Blacks Gain L.B. Buddhist

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Seventh Day Adventists moved toward greater racial integration within their religious order during a 10-day world conference.

The fundamentalist group expressed concern for youth by allowing 18 young observers to take part in each phase of the church's business during the 51st conference.

About 1,800 voting delegates among the 30,000 persons attending elected a ratio of one black to nine whites in top posts at the world headquarters. There are about two million Adventists around the world.

The assembly was picketed by a small group of youthful Negro Adventists from the Washington, D.C., area who claimed that blacks were not being given a fair representation in the church. Blacks number about 15 per cent of American Adventists.

Sam Young of Hong Kong said the Adventists still look forward to the second coming of Christ even though that event did not occur as predicted over a hundred years ago.

CARNIVAL ON

Long Beach Buddhist Church will hold its 13th annual Obon Carnival today from 5 to 11 p.m., and Sunday from 2 to 10 p.m. Traditional ondo dancing, Japanese flower arrangements, a rice pounding ceremony to make "mochi," and a variety of food and games will be on tap. The public is invited to join in the festivities.

SIX MEMBERS OF MURK FAMILY

Popular Murk Family in Bellflower Concert

The Murk Family Musicale, called by the Chicago Tribune the "equivalent of the famous Von Trapp Singers" who inspired the Sound of Music, will present a sacred concert Wednesday, 7:30 p.m. at Calvary Baptist of Bellflower, 14722 Clark Ave.

After Jim Murk, the father, won the Ted Mack Original Amateur in 1963 as a lyric tenor, he and the mother, Donna, worked the children into a program and since then they have performed in more than 40 states and Canada. The five children all sing, play the piano, and their stringed instruments. Barby, at age 4, was featured soloist with the Wheaton Youth Symphony, playing a 1/2 size violin.

The public is invited to the large Bellflower sanctuary, says the pastor, Rev. Dr. H. Frank Collins, with no admission charge. An offering will be received.

Catholic Priest Heads Area Assn.

Rev. Bernard O'Reilly, pastor of Our Lady of the Rosary Catholic Church of Paramount has been elected to succeed Rev. Frank Dannelly, Methodist Church pastor, as president of the Paramount-Hollydale Ministerial Association.

Rev. Darrell Schultz, pastor of Faith Lutheran Church, Hollydale, is the new vice president, and Rev. William Durbin, Bethany Chapel Assembly of God, Hollydale, will serve as 1970-71 secretary.

GOINGS ON

Rev. Dr. James A. Bergquist, a noted figure in international mission planning, will speak Sunday, 11 a.m. in St. Timothy Lutheran, Woodruff Avenue at Arbor Road, Lakewood. Completing five years as professor of New Testament at Gurukul, a theological center in Madras, India, where he became widely known, he will begin his new work as director and consultant in Christian theological education for the developing churches in Africa. Dr. Bergquist, formerly pastor of Our Savior's Lutheran of Los Angeles, was once a student of Rev. Dr. Gerhard Belgum, pastor of St. Timothy.

The Gospel Rock concert featuring Andrae Crouch and the Disciples, the Voices of Jerusalem, and the John Brown Sound Generation will be today at 3 and 8 p.m., with an admission charge at Elks Auditorium. Public Bible lectures are announced by the Long Beach congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses every Sunday 1:30 p.m., and a question and answer meeting at 2:40 p.m., in Kingdom Hall, 2724 E. Sixth St., with no admission charged. The Marloma (unprogrammed) Meeting, Society of Friends, has moved from San Pedro to Long Beach and welcomes all to its Quaker "quiet meeting" Sundays, 11 a.m. at Community Improvement League, 2222 Olive Ave. The choir of Community Bible Church, pastored by Rev. Esther Mallette, now sings each Friday, 8 p.m. at Ocean Boulevard and Pine Avenue.

BIGGER ROLE SI —BY FORCE, NO

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — The new moderator of the Presbyterian Church told newsmen that he fully believes that those under that young people, women and racial minorities cannot attain the larger role they deserve in his church by force.

Dr. William A. Benfield Jr., 54, Charleston, W.Va., told newsmen that he fully believes that those under 30, women and members of minorities must have a voice in decision making if there is to be a renewal of the church.

TELE-VUES

View of the '30s Not So Happy

By GEORGE ERES
TV-Radio Editor

"Happy Days," a summer series on CBS, premiered as a Jim Nabors fill-in Thursday night, and in any medium other than television it would probably have closed the same night.

But, TV having set a determined 10-week course, will bring us more unearthed bits from a 1930 time capsule, presented in the debut with a lack of certainty as to whether it ought to be authentic or kidded.

OFFERING some of the songs of the 1930s which, as the Lucky Strike Hit Parade used to say, are all-time hits, in the setting of a mythical ballroom was a happy idea.

Helen O'Connell, looking as lovely as ever, and Bob Eberle in front of the band singing "Tangerine," Miss O'Connell on "Who Cares," and Buddy Rich drumming through "Caravan" were examples of all too little respect for the feeling of the period represented on the hour.

The look-like Laurel and Hardy representatives offered a satisfying peek at a couple of comedy stars of the time.

But for the most part the representation of the popular humor of the time is treated ham-handedly. I'm not suggesting that there's anything hallowed about the popular humor of the period and that one ought to treat it with reverence, except possibly to present it with some feeling of how it was, not how we would look at it today.

KCET's on-the-air auction raised $203,122 for Ch. 28, the area noncommercial TV station. The station reported more than 4000 items went up for bid during the 53 hours the station gave air time to raise funds.

Ch. 28 also announces that beginning Monday "Sesame Street" will be broadcast at 9 a.m. instead of 8 a.m. and will continue to be repeated at 4 p.m., Mondays through Fridays.

"VD — A Plague on Our House," an hour documentary on the problem of venereal disease in America, will be aired at 10 p.m., Sunday, Ch. 4.

Guests on the program, hosted by Dr. Frank Field, include Dr. Walter Smart, chief of Venereal Disease Control Division, L.A. County Health Association; Dr. James McKenzie-Pollock, director, Venereal Disease Division, American Social Health Association and Mary McLaughlin, Commissioner of Health, N.Y. City.

RADIO NOTE: KMET (94.7) expands programming to seven-days a week, effective Sunday, with addition of a 3 p.m. to midnight schedule.

Leave It To Larry

By LARRY MEDER
HARBOR CHEVROLET

Bruce Kerr tells of the two wives, (good friends) whose husbands left them. "Gold-widows" every week-end. Finally in a desperate attempt at retaliation, the girls both signed up with bowling leagues that tied them up three nights a week.

This left the two husbands to themselves to watch the sports programs on television, but the presence of unwashed dishes and the lack of prepared meals soon left them both short on tempers.

In a devious way to shroud the fact that they missed their wives more than they cared to admit, they began to ridicule their wives' chosen sport as a useless and strenuous waste of time.

"That may be true," the pert and provoked spouses chorused, "but at least we don't need to spend $12 a week of house-money for lost balls, neither!"

Folks, come in and deal with a guy who's truly sports minded! Ask for Ol' Larry and all Harbor Chevrolet will lose — WILL BE THE PROFIT!! GA 6-3341, 3770 Cherry.

Peer Visits Faithful Mother

LONDON (AP) — Marianne Faithfull, the 23-year-old divorcee who used to be Mick Jagger's girlfriend, says she is taking an Irish peer home to see her mother, but that reports they will wed are not necessarily so.

The peer, Lord Rossmore, 39, had said in Dublin, "We hope to get married some time in the future." His mother Lady Rossmore, commented: "It's about time he got married."

Miss Faithfull told airport reporters "you might as well try to forget it" when she flew in from a visit to the Irish capital.

The actress-singer broke up with Jagger, leader of the Rolling Stones, while they were making a movie together last year in Australia. Her two-year marriage to artist John Dunbar ended in divorce in 1967. They are parents of a son, Nicholas.

Radcliff Raises $7.5 Million Fund

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Radcliffe College has raised $7.5 million from alumnae, parents, friends and industry and thus qualified for a $2.5-million Ford Foundation grant offered three years ago on a 3-for-1 basis.

Radcliffe's president, Mary I. Bunting, said the funds would be used for student and faculty housing.

FRANK ROBINSON
A Day to Remember

EQUALS 2 MAJOR LEAGUE RECORDS Robbie 'Slams' Senators

Combined News Services
WASHINGTON — Frank Robinson equalled two major league records, when he walloped grand slam homers in consecutive innings Friday night as the Baltimore Orioles stunned the Washington Senators, 12-2.

Robinson hit his first bases-loaded homer as an American Leaguer in the fifth inning off Joe Coleman to boost Baltimore to a 5-0 lead. He connected for his second grand slam in the sixth against Joe Grzenda as the Orioles added five more runs.

Robinson is the third man in baseball history to hit bases-loaded homers and drive in a total of eight runs in successive innings. Jim Gentile did it for the Orioles in 1961 and Jim Northrop accomplished the feat for the Detroit Tigers in 1968.

Robinson's homers were his 13th and 14th of the season. The grand slams ran his career total to seven, but were his first with the Orioles. The others were with the Cincinnati Reds.

On the strength of Robinson's slugging, Dave McNally coasted to his 11th win of the year with a seven-hitter. It marked the seventh consecutive time McNally has beaten the Senators since Sept. 12, 1968 and raised his lifetime record against Washington to 7 wins and 4 losses.

Rick Reichardt homered for Washington in the seventh and ninth innings.

Robinson's home run feat overshadowed the performance of teammate Don Buford, who collected a homer and three singles for the Orioles.

55,110 See Dodgers Run Streak to 4

By GORDON VERRELL
Staff Writer

Dodger Stadium literally blew its lid Friday night and because of it they're going to stage Helmet Night all over again tonight.

A whopping throng of 55,110 — the largest National League crowd this season and the biggest ever at a regular season game in Dodger Stadium — watched the Dodgers run their mini-win streak to four with a 4-1 victory over San Diego, the Padres' sixth consecutive loss.

DODGER OF DAY
CLAUDE OSTEN won 10th game, hurling Dodgers to fourth victory in row, 4-1, over Padres.

They handed out 35,000 Dodger helmets at Friday night's affair, and a half hour before the game started announced a sell-out.

Peter O'Malley immediately launched Helmet Night II for tonight by coming up with another 20,000 lids for all kids 14 and under. If the Dodgers can make it five in a row he might keep handing out hard hats all season.

The crowd, which was still arriving as late as the fourth inning, was the largest in Los Angeles since the 55,947 that witnessed the Dodgers and Baltimore Orioles in the second game of the 1968 World Series at the Big O.

"You bet it's great to have a big crowd," smiled Claude Osten, who whirled his 10th win as he bids for his second consecutive 20-win season. Gomer got his 10th win last year on June 30, so he's ahead of schedule.

"A crowd like this really gets me up," smiled Osten. "Heck, I was jumping up and down between innings."

The win not only enabled the Dodgers to match Cincinnati's victory — which keeps the Reds nine games in front in the National League West — it also got the Dodgers even at home for the first time this season.

The Dodgers now are 18-18 at the Big O as compared to the amazing 23-12 they've managed out of town. Even so, in the long run manager Walter Alston says there's no place like home.

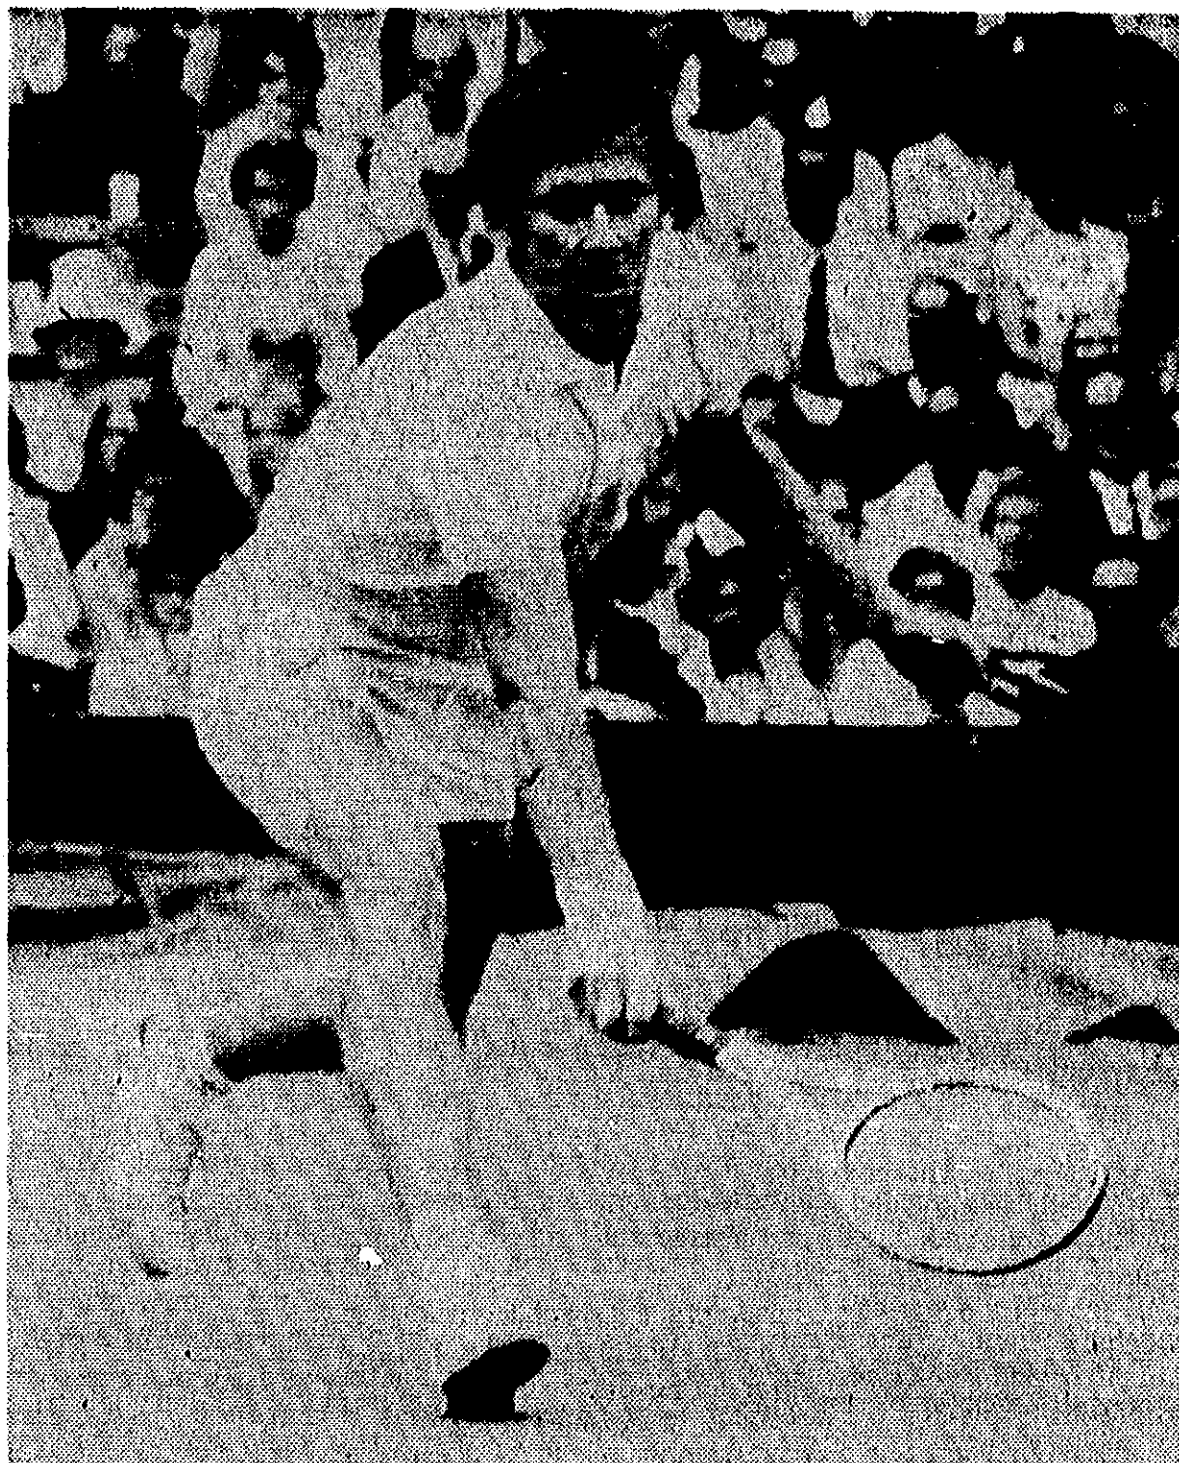

"The fact still remains we're better fitted to Dodger Stadium," observed the manager. "This park is great for speed and pitching and I still feel that's where our strength is."

"Naturally, I'm glad we're hitting and playing as well as we are on the road. But in the final analysis this park should be better for us since it's a definite advantage for the pitcher."

The hitters won't argue although Bill Sudakis clouted his sixth homer of the year and also drove home a run with a single to pace the Dodger attack which consisted of a half dozen hits, the lowest output in 10 days.

Sudakis played a strong third base, turning in four fine defensive plays, which caused Alston to remark: "I can't really say why he's playing better at third base now than he did last year except maybe it's confidence. As for the hitting, he's not swinging as hard as he used to. He's

Washington KOs Clay

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — Cassius Clay's bid for a Washington boxing license so he could fight heavyweight champion Joe Frazier failed Friday.

The bout now may go to Detroit. However, in Detroit, Charles P. Davey, commissioner of the Michigan State Athletic Board of Control, denied he had issued a new license to Clay.

Ninth-seeded Clark Graebner of New York gave the U.S. its only men's singles victory by routing Indian Davis Cup star Premjit Lall, 6-0, 6-2, 6-1, in a makeup third-round contest. Graebner left little doubt about the outcome as he won the first seven games and at times he had Lall grinning in despair with winning placements.

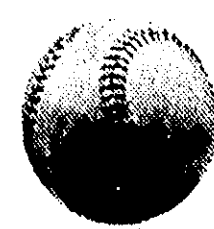

Australia can have as many as six quarter-finalists since top-seeded Rod Laver and 10th-seeded Roy Emerson have yet to play their fourth-round matches. The only American hopes left are third-seeded Arthur Ashe of Gum Springs, Va., and seventh-seeded Stan Smith of Pasadena.

Glanville Topped by Baugh

15-Year-Old Wins

L.B. Golf Crown

By GARY ELLIS

The match was billed as youth against experience, with experience expected to win, but after 18 holes it was 15-year-old Laura Baugh who outpitched and outputted five-time champion Harriet Glanville, 2-up, to capture the Long Beach City Women's Golf Championship at Recreation Park.

Laura, who accepted congratulations after the match with an ear-to-ear grin, sporting dimples and looking like Alice in Wonderland in her blue skirt, met Harriet on even terms, didn't crack under the pressure and finally sank a five-foot putt to clinch the victory.

In only her fourth tournament Laura added the Long Beach classic to her recently won L.A. Women's title.

Earlier Mildred Stanley, who lost to Laura 1-up, said after her match, "I think Harriet will win. I consider her one of the best golfers in California. She has it all and she doesn't beat herself. The only thing Laura lacks is experience."

Harriet opened the match by winning the first hole with a par-4 after having to blast out of a sand trap. Miss Baugh missed a one-foot putt — only the fourth hole she lost in four days.

The loss didn't bother Miss Baugh. She came back to win the next two holes from Miss Glanville, the defending champion.

Neither golfer putted well. Both shot evenly with their woods and long irons and at the turn Miss Glanville had a 43 while Miss Baugh carded a 41 and led 1-up. Thursday they both had 39s.

Miss Glanville evened the match on the 13th with a par when Laura left her putt short. The gallery of about 200 expected experience to triumph at last. But Miss Baugh won the 15th with a par when Miss Glanville missed a short putt.

Miss Glanville birdied the next hole to even the match, and all eyes were on the little Long Beach lass who carries her own clubs.

Laura, with her blonde ponytail floating in the breeze, parred the 17th and 18th holes. When asked if Miss Glanville pressured her, she replied, "I don't know. I was only trying to play my game."

"My putting stroke wasn't the same as yesterday," Laura said in a bashful voice, "until the last few holes."

Miss Glanville said, "I didn't play well; My putting was very poor and my timing was off. But Laura, she's a comer."

Miss Baugh, who is hoping to attend Wilson High and play on the boys' golf team, still is undecided about the future.

LOMBARDI TO UNDERGO SURGERY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Coach Vince Lombardi will undergo exploratory abdominal surgery this morning at Georgetown University Hospital, the Washington Redskins announced Friday.

The decision to operate at 8:30 a.m. was reached, a club spokesman said, after Lombardi underwent thorough examinations during the past three days.

When Lombardi entered the hospital Tuesday the club announced he was suffering from a "stomach virus." A team spokesman said Lombardi had not been feeling well in the morning and visited the team physician, Dr. George A. Resta, who recommended his entering the hospital for an examination.

Simpson Wins 11th; Expos Upset Mets

Loss Cools Mets' Streak at Five

Cincy Whiz Stops Astros on 4 Hits

MONTREAL (U) — Two-run homers by Rusty Staub and pinch-hitter Gary Sutherland staked Montreal to an early lead and Staub threw the potential tying run out at the plate in the seventh inning to preserve the Expos' 6-5 victory over the New York Mets Friday night.

Coco Laboy hit a solo homer off reliever Tug McGraw in the eighth for the Expos' final and decisive run as the Mets' five-game winning streak came to an end.

The Expos grabbed a 2-0 lead in the first inning on the two-run shot by Staub off loser Jim McAndrew, 3-5.

New York narrowed the margin to 2-1 on Tommie

Agee's 16th home run in the third, but the Expos came back with a run in the bottom of the inning on consecutive singles by Staub, Ron Fairly and Jim Gosger.

The Expos increased their lead to 5-1 in the fourth inning on a two-run, wind-blown homer to left by Sutherland.

New York scored twice in the fifth inning off former farmhand Steve Renko, 3-4, on run-scoring singles by Ken Singleton and Art Shamsky and added another run in the sixth on a sacrifice fly by Agee.

The Mets threatened again the seventh against Bill Stoneman but Staub nailed Shamsky when he attempted to score from second on a single by Wayne Garrett. Singleton, whose single in the fifth was his first major league hit, homered in the ninth.

ANGELS---

third. Chico stepped on the base to force Schaal, fired to Alomar at second to cut down Rojas and Alomar's peg to Billy Cowan was still in time to nail the speedy Otis.

"Luckily, he (Otis) was jogging it or we would have never pulled it off," said one Angel player.

When the Angels sent 10 men to the plate and scored four times in the sixth inning, Kealey was presented with the victory, his first of the year.

Trailing 2-1, the Angels went to work in the sixth against Bill Butler, a pitcher who has not won a game since April 16.

Cowan walked and Azcue, implementing a tip from coach Pete Reiser which has shortened his swing, hammered his second homer over the left-field wall.

Tom Reynolds walked and Butler departed in favor of Tom Burgmeier who walked Ruiz and gave up Alomar's historic run-scoring single to left. After Jarvis Tatum walked, Burgmeier was asked to take a hike and Jim Fregosi beat out an infield hit against Ken Wright to score the fourth run of the inning.

Eddie Fisher, who did not earn his first save until Wednesday, worked the final four innings to achieve his second in three days.

Except for Fisher and Fregosi it was an all-Latin production and the only thing missing was a strolling Marachi Band to salute Alomar, Azcue and Ruiz.

The only disheartening notes were the performances of Johnson and May. Both, however, have an explanation.

Johnson is nursing a bruised finger on his right hand and it has affected his swing. May, in the words of manager Lefty Phillips, appears "arm weary." He has completed only one of 19 starts and his ERA for his last four appearances is 6.16.

But it was not a night for grieving. Only disbelief.

ANGEL ANGELS! The trip did not begin on a promising note for the Angels. First, they lost the services of equipment manager Roger Haley, who departed his post to spend the weekend with the military. Then, on the flight to Kansas City, the plane's air conditioning system failed and the team sweated in the muggy humidity. Upon arrival at Kansas City, traveling secretary Jerry Warming was dispatched to the hospital for observation of an undisclosed illness. Trainer Freddy Frederico has assumed the chores of both Haley and Waring for the moment. Royals' owner Ewing Kauffman is offering members of his team free professional consultation and advice pertaining to business and financial dealings, this despite the fact the Royals and Kauffman lost $1.2 million last season.

Football Season Opens Tonight

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — The 10th annual Coaches All-America football game tonight is expected to be a high-scoring duel of two powerful offenses with the West rating a slight edge on the strong passing arm of San Diego State's Dennis Shaw.

The West holds a 5-4 edge over the East in their showcase display of last year's college football heroes.

"In a game like this, the quarterback makes all the difference and the West has the best quarterback in Shaw," said Gil Brandt, Channel 7, 6:30 p.m.

head talent scout for the Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League.

Shaw, drafted by the Buffalo Bills, has drawn praise from the professional scouts here for this game with his bullseye passing in practice. He was the nation's total offense leader last year.

The other quarterback on Missouri coach Dan Devine's West team is his own Terry McMillan, who is a master at running the option.

"Both boys will play," said Devine. "Both show exceptional leadership."

Devine said the game should develop into a free wheeling affair. "I would think there would be a lot of scoring and I look for the passing to dominate," he said.

Devine plans to start Ron Gardin of Arizona, Duane Thomas of West Texas State and Ron McBride of Missouri in the backfield. He hasn't chosen his starting quarterback, but it is expected to be Shaw.

East coach Charles McClendon of Louisiana State looks for a lot of touchdowns on the new artificial turf in Jones Stadium.

"There's enough talent out there for a lot of scoring," McClendon said. "I want it all to be on my side. The boys have had their fun. Now they are ready to play."

McClendon said he will start Gordon Slade of Davidson at quarterback. John Isenbarger of Indiana and Otis Taylor of Ohio State also will start in the backfield.

Aparicio 495 Votes Ahead of Petrocelli

NEW YORK (UPI) — Catcher Bill Freehan of the Detroit Tigers and first baseman Boog Powell of the Baltimore Orioles are proving the most popular players in the voting for the American League All-Star team.

Freehan drew 454,690 votes through Wednesday's counting and Powell had 452,932, according to an announcement by baseball commissioner Bowie Kuhn. Oddly, neither Freehan nor Powell are among the league's top 10 hitters although Powell had 18 homers after Thursday's games.

Rod Carew of the Minnesota Twins, leading the American League with a .376 batting average, also was leading in the voting for second base with 421,864 votes, but he won't be able to play in the All-Star game at Cincinnati July 14 since he underwent knee surgery Wednesday. Dick McAuliffe of the Detroit Tigers was runnerup to Carew in the balloting with 90,045 votes.

The closest race was developing at shortstop, where 15-year veteran Luis Aparicio of the Chicago White Sox led with 220,298 votes to 219,813 for Rico Petrocelli of the Boston Red Sox.

Harmon Killebrew of the Twins led in the third base race with 327,257 votes and the top three spots in the outfield belonged to Frank Robinson of the Orioles (372,449), Frank Howard of the Washington Senators (326,484) and Carl Yastrzemski of the Red Sox (305,562).

Roy White of the New York Yankees, second in the league in hitting with a .347 mark after Thursday's games, was fifth in the outfield voting with 97,239 votes. No other member of the Yankees placed among the top six in voting at any position.

Catcher—Bill Freehan, Detroit, 454,690; Elrod Hendricks, Baltimore, 452,932; Duke Sims, Cleveland, 42,645; Jose Azcue, Angels, 4,727; Duane Bender, Oakland, 33,401; George Mitterwald, Minnesota, 27,192.

First Base—Boog Powell, Baltimore, 452,932; Norm Cash, Detroit, 99,553; George Scott, Boston, 66,744; Mike Epstein, Washington, 43,065; Tony Horton, Cleveland, 32,567; Rich Reese, Minnesota, 29,242.

Second Base—Rod Carew, Minnesota, 421,864; Dick McAuliffe, Detroit, 90,045; Tommy Harper, Milwaukee, 81,844; Dave Johnson, Baltimore, 57,641; Mike Andrews, Boston, 55,259; Dick Green, Oakland, 19,774.

Third Base—Harmon Killebrew, Minnesota, 327,257; Brooks Robinson, Baltimore, 326,484; Ken McNulien, Angels, 21,975; Bill Hallon, Chicago, 20,891; Aurelio Rodriguez, Washington, 16,000.

Widgeon New Race Leader

Another change in the winds provided the Los Angeles-to-Tahiti Yacht Race with its third leader in as many days Friday as Widgeon took a slight lead on the 12th day of the race.

Skipped by B. Norman Bacon of Santa Barbara, Calif., Widgeon pulled into the lead at 1,879 miles from Los Angeles during the night. Widgeon also leads on a handicap basis and leads the Class A yachts.

Second place was held by Arles at 1,877 miles. Only fourth Thursday, Arles now trails the leader by less than two miles.

The third place boat was Thursday's leader, Mir, 1,869 miles out. Blackfin, the craft which led the first 10 days of the race, had fallen to fourth and 1,849 miles out.

Foster 4-1 Choice in Title Bout

BALTIMORE (UPI) — If everything goes like the oddsmakers predict, at least Mark Tesson has a college degree to fall back on when he fights lightweight champion Bob Foster in a title bout tonight.

Besides his degree, the recent University of Houston graduate takes a 33-1 record, the No. 2 lightweight ranking and all the exuberance that youth can muster into the fight. Foster has a five-inch height advantage and a kayo punch, and that's enough to make him a 4-1 favorite.

"Jimmy The Greek put out those odds," says Tesson. "Wasn't he the guy who picked the Colts to beat the Jets and the Orioles over the Mets? I'm glad he picked me as the underdog."

The 23-year-old challenger's only loss was a TKO by Henry Hank, and in two other bouts Tesson won decisions from Hank. He has only eight knockout victories in four years of professional fighting.

Foster, who won the title from Dick Tiger in 1968, has 34 knockouts in compiling a 43-4 record.

FANFARE

Rain Postpones Cleveland Open

AURORA, Ohio (UPI) — The second round of the $150,000 Cleveland Open was postponed by rainstorms Friday, forcing a 36-hole windup for Sunday.

Rain stopped play an hour and a half after the first golfers teed off and only a few had completed nine holes. All scores Friday were cancelled by the rainout.

The rainout was a break for first-round leader Larry Hinson, who started play with a 5-under-par 65. Hinson had lost two strokes to par after six holes Friday and lost his lead to Bert Greene. The rains washed away an eagle Greene scored on his seventh hole, pushing his score for the tournament to 5-under-par.

'Wall of Silence' in Prep Signing

MANSFIELD, Pa. (UPI) — A wall of silence erected by the parents of high school basketball phenom Tom McMillen obscured Friday his plans to enroll at the University of North Carolina, one of 250 colleges which sought him.

The 6-foot-11 McMillen informed North Carolina coach Dean Smith this week that he planned to enter the school at Chapel Hill. Smith came here Wednesday night to get McMillen's parents to sign a grant-in-aid scholarship but found they were at meetings out of town.

Rich Miller, Mansfield High School coach who guided young McMillen to a record-shattering 3,608 points during his scholastic career, praised the parents, Dr. and Mrs. James McMillen, for the "really great job" they had performed in rearing Tom. He said the parents apparently "have their own good reasons" for not signing the scholarship contract. The elder McMillen is a dentist and avid sports fan.

The coach said he saw the 18-year-old McMillen practicing on the courts downtown on Thursday and "I asked him about the situation."

"He sort of laughed about it," Miller added.

In Chapel Hill, N.C., coach Smith said he regretted "very much the turmoil created by Tom's decision."

"Dr. and Mrs. McMillen are fine people who have done an outstanding job of raising Tom, his brothers and his sisters," Smith said.

An official at the University said although the parents did not sign the grant-in-aid, young McMillen could enroll this fall. By not signing, however, he could be considered a "free agent," subject to pick up by other colleges.

Klecker Seeks 11th Triumph for Truckers

Big Ed Klecker seeks his 11th league win and 25th of the season tonight when the V. B. Morgan Truckers of Lakewood travel to play Huntington Park in a Pacific Coast Softball League twin bill, starting at 7:30.

Klecker, who has lost only once all season and yielded eight runs, will hurl the nightcap behind Ted Brown, the Truckers' other fast-balling righthander.

The Truckers, with a 15-3 record, hold a one-game lead over Camarillo. Huntington Park is in the cellar, having won only two games.

Manager Ray Silva will start an infield, from first to third base, of Dennis Cormack, Jim Herrick, Nick Hopkins and Max Mallet, and an outfield of Mark Bailey, Dale Leach and Murel Moddrell. Jerry Cooper will catch.

GARDENING

By JOE LITTLEFIELD

You'll be amazed how container plants grow with a decided tilt towards the most light. Quarter turn the plants at least three times a month and they'll grow evenly.

Our Winnifred Coutler floribunda rose, in a container, blooms so frequently it seems as though it flowers 11 months of the year. It tilts away from the dark green shrubby background, remaining even all around if it is turned periodically.

This rose was bred and introduced by John van Barneveld, head rosarian of Rose Pageant Rose Garden at Rose Hills Memorial Park in Whittier. The attractive single-blossoms petals are red and white reverse. It is a showy container plant and one that thrives in the rose garden.

THINK OF THE tilting phenomenon when you set out shrubs near the garden or house wall but think of it in a slightly different way. Think of the dark background for container plants, then observe the shrub in the container. You'll notice it may be bushier on one side than the other. Face the bushier side towards the wall, or towards the north, if it is being planted in the open ground, so the thinner-branched side faces to the south. Unless heavy prevailing winds come from the south, that poor side of the bush facing towards the most light fills out more evenly, and balances the shape of that whole shrub. Should you face the poor side towards the dark background, the shrub becomes more one-sided.

Now, let's get back to the rose discussion again. Several times readers of our columns have asked us how to start roses from seeds. This is how to do it. Harvest the rose-hips seed pods, after they have changed from green to orange color, but before they have dried.

Remove the seeds from the "apple" — the round hard seed pod. Some gardeners plant the seeds right away. Others put the seeds in a tight jar in the refrigerator compartment where dairy products are kept (not in the freezer) and leave them for 30 days.

Plant them like any other seeds you start in flats. Fifty per cent sprout within 60 days. Transplant the sprouted plants.

CLUB NOTES

Lakewood Garden Club is participating in Bullock's Lakewood 1970 competition for table decoration. Tables are on display at the Bullock's Lakewood store. Show ends today.

The Southland Home and Garden Show at Anaheim Convention Center will continue through Sunday. Hours are from noon to 11 p.m. today and Sunday.

The California National Fuchsia Society is presenting its 16th annual Fuchsia and shade plant show at the Orange County Fairgrounds, at Fair Drive and Newport Boulevard. The show is scheduled to continue through Sunday.

A Mexican patio decorated with pottery, furniture, and other Mexican handicrafts, will provide the setting for the annual National Cactus and Succulent Society show July 3, 4 and 5 at the Los Angeles State and County Arboretum in Arcadia.

According to show chairman Bill Lockwood, the three-day "Fiesta de Cactus y Succulentos" will be the most ambitious yet staged by the sponsoring Cactus Society of America and its affiliate societies.

A booth will be set up for selling plants of unusual interest. Plants will also be available to winners of door prizes. Show hours are 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. each day. Admission is free.

JOB TO DO NOW

Dandelion in dichondra lawn can be eradicated with one of the 2-4-D herbicides that kill broad leaf weeds. Warning: (dichondra being a broad leaf lawn substitute is a broad leaf weed to the 2-4-D herbicide. If it is applied as per directions on the herbicide container label, it would kill out the dichondra!) Yet, if you carefully apply that herbicide as we suggest, you'll eradicate only the dandelion. A day or so after the dichondra lawn has been well watered, apply the herbicide 100 per cent strong through an oil squirt can. Flatten the dandelion weed leaves outward and downward to expose its center. Squir four to six drops of the weed control into the center of the mature dandelion weed. Apply fewer drops to the young dandelion weed. Don't water the dichondra for several days. Four to five days later the weed dies completely.

Address all questions to Garden Editor, Independent, Press-Telegram, 604 Pine Ave., Long Beach, Calif. 90801. No stamps or self-addressed envelopes, please. Answers are given only in this column.

Q. I grafted a plum tree branch to a Satsuma plum in 1969. Although it is green it never sprouts leaves or branches. This year I grafted a couple more branches from the same tree and they are green but no sprouts on the new graft. A bloom did come out on one but it soon fell off. I wonder why the grafts don't sprout leaves or branches. J. E. T.

A. A graft started early in the spring as the sap flow begins, gets a much better start if it is protected from the wind, dryness, heat, and shaded from the sun until it sprouts. Even a grafted camellia in the shade should be covered until new leaves sprout. The graft branch may be too thick. A thinner one grows faster.

TARKANIAN TO COACH BASKETBALL DAY CAMP

If there's a potential Jerry West, Pete Maravich or Willis Reed around your house this summer, he may want to enroll in the Jerry Tarkanian Basketball Day Camp.

Tarkanian, the highly successful Cal State Long Beach coach who has a 245-21 record the last eight years, will pass along his knowledge to youngsters age 9 through 17 from July 6-31 with two two-week sessions at Jordan High.

Individual instruction by coaches, films, lectures, team competition, individual analysis at conclusion of camp, T-shirts and trophies for most improved player in each age group are offered.

Tarkanian and CSLB assistants Ed DeLacy and Ivan Duncan and former 49er stars Ray Gritton and Shawn Johnson will be on hand for the daily 9 a.m.-1 p.m. session.

Dates are July 6-17 or July 20-31 at a cost of $80. Further information can be obtained by calling 598-5926 or 434-4355.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Talk of a corporate liquidity ignited by the Penn Central bankruptcy proceedings sent tremors through Wall Street this week.

The Dow Jones industrial average, up more than 36 points the previous week, surrendered most of the gain. The closely watched barometer of 30 selected blue chips plunged 32.59 to 687.84. Other broadly based indicators also took a stiff pounding.

A federal judge gave the nation's largest railroad the green light to reorganize under the federal bankruptcy laws after the Defense Department withdrew from a plan to guarantee up to $200 million in bank loans to help the company out of its financial bind.

ANALYSTS said the market's reaction "was largely emotional," even though a liquidity problem exists.

One editorialist said "it is an exaggeration to call the liquidity problem a 'crisis,' at least in the manner that some people are carrying on about it, but the fact that trouble exists is manifest."

Secretary of Transportation John A. Volpe said the Nixon Administration will continue to press for passage of legislation to provide government loans for financially troubled railroads. "If the Penn Central goes down," the secretary said, "others will suffer and possibly bring about a complete collapse of our railroad picture."

Volpe noted, too, that the Central Railroad of New Jersey also has sought federal financial assistance. The road, currently in receivership, is awaiting approval from the Interstate Commerce Commission to merge with the Norfolk & Western and the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroads.

"We could get a carryover of this week's weakness early next week," the broker said. But he added that there usually is an infusion of new money in the market in July and that "we could see some firmness" in a few weeks.

During the past week the Dow Jones Industrial Average lost 32.59 points to close Friday at 687.84.

Penn Central was the most active stock for the week, losing 3% on a turnover of 1,730,500 shares to finish Friday at 7½.

Telex the second most active issue on 1,134,800 shares, dropped 3½ for the week to 12½. Chrysler down to 18½, was the third most-active stock with a turnover of 919,500 shares.

All of the 20 most-active issues on the New York Stock Exchange declined.

The New York Stock Exchange's index of some 1,200 common stocks was down 2.04 for the week to 40.02 and the Associated Press 60-stock average was off 11.9 at 230.6.

On the Big Board, 1,4 of the 1,731 issues traded declined while 221 advanced. New yearly lows were touched by 340 stocks and 10 registered new highs for 1970.

The Penn Central situation's initial effect on the market Monday was limited and most analysts thought stocks performed well.

On Tuesday, however, the impact of corporate liquidity problems hit Wall Street full force and the Dow Jones Industrial Average fell 18 points.

Rally attempts Wednesday and Thursday failed to bring investors from the sidelines, but the market generally steered a steady course.
